Looked in Refrigerator

Kenneth Walker, a Quelph young man; had a thrilling exper ience on a recent Sunday night when he was locked in a refrigerator at the Hugh Walker & Sons plant, in that city, which he is likely to remember for a long time. The young man visited the warebouse of the company early in the evening to inspect the flow of ammonia to the refrigerator. It was necessary to turn off the flow, and Mr. Walker went inside to see everything was alright. As be entered, the door anapped close behind him and he was locked in where the temperature was ten above zero. With a board he found in the refrigerator, Mr. Walker managed, after several hours' labor, to break off a piece of the door lock, and at three aclock on Monday morning he liberated himself, but he was half frozen when he staggered out Had the flow of ammonia not been shut off before he entered the re frigerator, he would undoubtedly have frozen to death.

The Amusement Tax Act There are still those who evi dently are not familiar with the for their benefit we draw attention to the following: Entertain menas held by any religious body or denomination, the proceeds of which are to be used for church purposes, are exempt; also entertainments which, in the opinion of the provincial treasurer, are of a purely educational character, are exempt: but, application for such exemption must be applied for and granted at least ten days prior to the entertainment. Unless al regulations are strictly adherred to in this connection, the manager in charge of any hall or place of amusement must collect the tax as set down by the Act. Any person or persons contemplating holding a concert or any entertainment in a public ball will save themselvés much annoyance by adhering strictly to the regulations as set down in the Amusement Tax

All the pupils who carry s lunch enjoy the hot cocos, which is the principal item served though soups, milk puddings, etc. figure occasionally. With the sup ervision of the teachers, the facili ties for preparing and serving electric two-plate grill diabes, etc. the pupils in turn serve this wel come addition to their cold lunch every day, without taking up too much of their noon hour.
