

When Dennis Comes Home to His Tay.

They may talk of their horses and houses,
The pictures that hang on the wall,
The fine sparkling rings on their fingers,
The servants that come at their call,
The swirl of their silks and their satins,
Roses and plum puddings each day,
But I envy no woman here in his
When Dennis comes home to his Tay.

To be sure when he goes in the morning
With the children to clean up to comb
And the three little rooms to make
In the lot of a place here at home,
With the mending and washing and
And dinner to get by the way,
There isn't much time to be idle
Until he comes home to his Tay.

But when we're as unbecoming as this
As if we had honey anklets,
The stove like a cat's eye is shining
You could eat your three meals on
The floor,
The bit of a plant in the window,
Is as fresh as a morning in May,
And the children go wild with their
When Dennis comes home to his Tay.

The kettle is singing its welcome,
There's a good bit of beef in the pot,
The tablecloth's clean, for I washed
The dish of potatoes is hot,
We're healthy and happy and
So thank God for his blessing I say
For the way that have caused to be
When Dennis comes home to his Tay.

—Mary Elizabeth Blake.

Matrimonial News.

A man's ideal woman is generally married to some other fellow.
What a woman calls "arguing" with her husband the neighbors are apt to call "quarrelling".
It is almost as easy to pick the wrong woman for a wife as it is to pick the wrong horse in a race.
The best husbands, like the big gold fish, are those that get away.
It is rarely the angular woman that gets mixed up in the dramatic triangle.
There is a tnod in the affairs of men that is frequently noticed in the divorce court.
The husband who tells his wife everything he does, generally does everything his wife tells him.

Canadian bank bills are declared to be less filthy than they used to be. Possibly the reason is that they don't remain in any one's possession long enough to get dirty.

It is the refined sugar that is advancing fastest in price now-a-days. Somehow or other, refinement comes high no matter in what relation it is.

Bake up and burn all the old rubbish in the back yard. Take the tin cans and scrap to the dump. Make the backyard just as pleasant a spot to look at as the front lawn. It all helps to boost your town.

According to Ontario's weather authority, spring was about a week late this year. Isn't it about time for some legislative body to pass a law regulating the coming and going of Old Man Winter? Nearly everything else is now regulated by law.
