THE CASTLE BUILDER

Builder of castles, when the world's sleeping,
Spread your wand o'er us wherever men be;
Into each cottage and palace go creeping,
Building our castles as things ought to be.

Gather each silken thread, tangled and broken,
Weave them anew with their splendor and sheen,
Leave not a tear drop or sigh for a token,
Gather each remnant that's meagre and mean.

Fill every heart over bubbling with laughter,
Give us the hopes we have longed so to see,
Then when the dawn comes and ever thereafter,
Build us our castles as things ought to be.

Builder of castles, give to each mother
Once more the feel of a kiss soft and warm,
Still the faint sobbing she's striving to smother,
Gather her brood again in from the storm.

Give every urchin a hope for the better,
Make truth a semblance of life we would live,
Strip naked the vices and loosen each fetter,
Teach us the wealth that is ours when we give.

Fill their our hearts till there's no room for sadness,
Sickness nor envy; our false pride we'd see,
Stretch out your wand and give the world gladness—
Building our castles as things ought to be.

Limehouse

John Newton attended a conference in the Public School Board Room at Georgetown, held by Mr. W. M. Morris, Sec.-Treas. of the Trustees Association. Mr. Morris had invited quite a number of the Trustees of the community to meet in order to arrange for holding an education conference to be held in Georgetown for this district at some future date at the beginning of the fall term. Subjects for a better educated Ontario are to be taken up at the conference.

Some of the members of the Masonic order attended the church services in the Church of England, Georgetown, Sunday evening.

The ladies of the Mission Society expect to hold their pie social on June 1st in the Community Hall. A good programme is to be given.

The Trustees have been investigating the breaking of windows in the school, and also other damage which has been carried on. Some one seems to be taking a delight in doing as much damage as possible to the building. This is a serious offence to the law.

George Wallace Sells His Business

The Guelph papers announced the disposal of the splendid clothing business of George Wallace, Guelph, to take effect the 1st of June. The Mercury says: "Mr. George Wallace, men's clothier, has disposed of his store and good will to Mr. Charles W. Powell, of this city, and Mr. Fred Pennell, of Sarnia, who was formerly connected with R. E. Ryan & Co. here. The new owners will take possession of the business on June 1. Mr. Wallace came to Guelph in 1914 [illegible] purchased the men's [illegible] many years carried on by Mr. Robert Cummings. At that time the store was located on the property now occupied by the Dominion Express Co. and Canadian Pacific ticket office, but in February, 1917, Mr. Wallace moved to his present stand, and during his nine years in Guelph he has carried on a very successful business. He has not stated his future plans, but it is to be hoped that his retirement from the clothing business will not mean his departure from the city. There is no doubt but that the business will continue to thrive year after year, as it has in the past under Mr. Wallace's management. Mr. Wallace is a [illegible] Barber, George-

Don't Lick Stamps

The following statement is issued by the post office department:

"The post office department invites the co operation of the mailing public in the affixing of postage stamps to mail matter advising to always place the stamps in the upper right hand corner of the envelope, well clear of the address and, by the way, when you are putting them on, remember to moisten the envelope, not the stamp."

You see, the trouble is that if you lick the stamps, in the good old-fashioned way, you may, in a moment of [illegible]m, remove too much of the very necessary mucilage which should keep it in place on your letter. So just moisten the envelope and press the stamp down firmly upon it, making sure before dropping the letter in the post office receiver that there is no danger of the stamp coming off while on the way through the mails, for if it does, then although the letter will be sent on to its destination, the person to whom it is addressed may have to "pay up" on account of the missing postage.

Milton

The McGibbon House, recently purchased by J. R. Mitchell of Campbellville, will in future be known as "The Milton Inn."

Owing to the pastor being somewhat under the weather these days, the pulpit of the Methodist church here was occupied last Sunday morning and evening by Rev. A. E. Trueblood of the Trafalgar circuit.

Friends of Mr. M. J. Carton of Esquesing are sorry to learn of the mishap that befell him one day last week. While unhitching his team after plowing on his farm near Peru, one of his horses kicked him, bruising him and breaking two ribs, putting Jack out of action as regards the coming election.

Our Federal member, Dr. Anderson, made quite a lengthy contribution to the budget debate in the House last week, his speech filling nine pages of Hansard. Our member evidently is not content to be a mere cipher in the House, but believes in every member declaring his position on matters that come before the House. —Reformer.

Pressmen Will Meet at Halifax

The annual convention of the Canadian Weekly Newspaper Association will be held at Halifax on June 18th and 19th. Editors and publishers and their ladies from the Western provinces will gather at Toronto and proceed from there by special C.P.R. train, through to St. John, thence by boat across the bay of Fundy to Digby, N.S., thence by Dominion Atlantic to Halifax. After the Convention the C.N.R. will take over the party and proceed to the Sidneys, back through Nova Scotia to Prince Edward Island, then via the north shore of New Brunswick to Quebec city, and thence to Toronto.

Deer in Dufferin

Dougal Large, a Hono Township farmer, received a real surprise one morning last week when he discovered a good-sized deer pasturing with a herd of young cattle in one of the back fields on his farm. The deer was first noticed in the field about 8 o'clock in the morning and is apparently quite at home in its new-found company.

Difficulties of a Farmers' Club

Twenty-three bondsmen who were on the guarantee bond of the Scone Farmers' Club have had writs issued against them by the Bank of Hamilton. The amount involved is about $3,000, and there is no dispute by the bondsmen as to their liability. But the bondsmen claim that the entire club membership is equally liable and they ask that the balance of the membership be made parties to the suit. The action will be tried in Walkerton in June.

Home Brew Recipe

We received from a friend the other day one of the best recipes we have yet tried for making home brew. Not wishing to be selfish we hand it on to you. Here it is: "Chase a wild bull frog three miles and gather up the hops, to these add 10 gallons of tan bark; half pound of shellack, 1 bar home made soap, half rod barbed wire and boil 36 hours; strain through a W.W. sock to keep from working, add 1 grasshopper to each jug to give the kick; pour a little in the sink and if it takes the carpet off it is ready to bottle."

Oakville Bridge Contract Awarded

The contracts of the Oakville bridge have been awarded and work will begin at an early date. This will be joyful news to [illegible] townspeople, as well as all users of the inter-city highway. It means the removing of the last danger spot between the two cities. We believe it is the intention to have the bridge [illegible] plete before December. It is [illegible] layed that the contract for the bridge structure goes to the McNamara Contracting Firm, and the hauling to the Dufferin Company, which has the grading of Dundas Street in Trafalgar.—Star.

Notes and Comments.

CANADIANS HAD BETTER not wait for any assistance from the Dominion capital in solving the coal question, for it is not going to be forthcoming. Alberta coal, with a freight rate of $9 per ton, will be too dear, so the only thing for householders to do is to order their anthracite from any available source and get in supplies while they may be got. Luckily the outlook is good this year for a full coal bin if you have the price.

ABOUT THIS TIME in the good old days every newspaper in the province (and there were more than there are now) would be slang-whanging for their particular party, at the editor's own expense, of course. What a great change time and business bring! In looking over our rural exchanges we find practically no editorial comment on candidates and any mention of politics is strictly of a news nature. Parties and candidates will be given every opportunity to express their views in the advertising columns.

WELL, HERE'S HOPING those who have been clamoring for the summer, or rather spring time, are having their wishes fulfilled. Personally, we are never in a very great hurry, for we always keep in mind the fact that we men simply exchange the coal shovel and the ash sifter for the lawn mower, and between the three we rather fancy the coal shovel. You can, at least get a little time to yourself on a winter's evening, which is more than can be said of the summer time. No sooner does a fellow get nicely settled after supper in the spring and summer than he hears the call to do something or other. If it isn't to take off the storm windows and put on the screen doors, it is to dig around the roots of the rose bushes and get some good soil for the flower boxes, or else to get into the garden and do some raking or hoeing. And if everything else is done the women folk will be sure to find out that the grass is getting long and that it is high time for operating the lawn mower for an hour or two. Yes, sir, this "dear old summer time" that we used to sing about doesn't pan out altogether as we used to think in our young days, when domestic cares did not press on us quite as heavily. There always appears to be something to do and little inclination to do it. Is it, we sometimes wonder, that we are getting older and consequently less inclined to do things about the house. Maybe it is a bit of that, for it's a dead certainty that if it wasn't for the warm weather to thaw out our bones and muscles we would soon be a bunch of cripples from rheumatism. So, perhaps, we ought not to complain, even though the spirit be weak when the lawn mower has to be operated.

Frozen Haw Berries Cause Death

Mitchell, May 18.—Dorothy Violet, the little two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Brown, of this town, passed away on Thursday. About a week ago the little girl ate some haw berries which had been lying on the ground all winter. These are believed to have poisoned her.

Fergus' New Paper Short Lived

The Fergus Press has breathed its last after having issued two numbers. Fergus was already possessed of a first class local newspaper in the old-established News-Record. Mr. H. Borden, the publisher of the new paper, evidently came to the same conclusion very promptly. Certain type founders and press supply houses are considerably inconvenienced as a result of the venture.

Holidays in 1923

By the end of the summer the habit of observing the Mondays for holidays will be quite well established. Every holiday this spring and summer but one falls on Monday. Easter Monday fell on the first Monday in April. May is an exceptional month. Victoria Day, May 24, comes on Thursday, but the King's Birthday, which Parliament has decreed shall this year be observed as a national holiday, comes on the first Monday in June. The King's Birthday is really June 3, but as this is on Sunday this year it will be observed on the following day. The first Monday in July is Dominion Day and the first Monday in August the annual Civic Holiday will be kept, and, of course, all Canada will observe Labor Day, which falls always on the first Monday in September. Armistice Day falls this year on Sunday. It will also be observed, therefore, on Monday, October 12. Thus, holidays [illegible] coming the first Monday in June, July, August [illegible]ember.

[illegible] 500 coming [illegible] you are [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]
