Why Waste Money Daily!

Of all farm machines, the cream separator is the one on which you can take no chances, for the smallest of crem losses soon mount into dollars.

The Melotte has been the 30 years. It is the machine with suspended bowl and enamelled bowl casing.

Hanging naturally on a ball-bearing spindle, the bowl is perfectly balanced, and is guaranteed easier to turn and to wear longer than any other.

On account of the recent ad-

THE SONG IN CAMP

"Give us a song!" the soldiers cried.
The outer trenches guarding When the heated guns of the camps allied
Grew weary of bombardment.
The dark Sedan in silent grief Lay, grim and threatening under
And the tawny mound of the Mal-skoff
No longer belched its thunder.
There was a pause. A guardman said:
"We storm the forts to-morrow:
Sing while we may, another day
Will bring enough of sorrow."
They lay along the battery's side,
Below the smoking cannon:
Brave hearts, from Severn and from Clyde,
And from the banks of Shannon.
They sang of love, and not of fame
Forgets was Britain's glory:
Each heart recalled a different name,
But all sang "Annie Laurie." Voice after voice caught up the song:
"Until its tender passion Rose like an anthem, rich and true,
Their battle-axe confession.
Dear girl, her name be dare! not speak,
But, as the song grew louder,
Something upon the soldier's cheek
Washed off the stains of powder.
Beyond the darkening ocean burned
The bloody sun's embers,
While the Crimea valleys learned How English love remembers.
And once again a fire of hell
Rained on the Russian quarters, With screams of shot, and burst of shell,
And howling of the mortars!
And Irish Nora's eyes are dim
For a singer, dumb and gory,
And English Mary mourns for him
Who sang of "Annie Laurie."
Sleep, soldiers! still in honor rest,
Your truth and valour wearing
The bravest are the tenderest—
The loving are the daring.

his brother, Dr. Farmer of Ancaster, came to diagnose his case and ordered his removal to the Hospital at Hamilton. His son, Mr.

WHEN A MAN is awarded a public position he has a right to demand the support and loyalty of every citizen who approves of his action. It is not a matter of men to accept public office, and men to have men who are willing to stand by to the best of their ability in the performance of the duties of their office, they should be encouraged and not discouraged which is too often the case.

WHEN HIS FRIENDS pressed around him to congratulate Stanley Baldwin, the new British Premier, he is reported to have told them that it was their prayers he needed rather than their congratulations. Guess he is not far wrong at that. The Premiership is not a position to be more of a task than an honor, and it was a realization of this fact that impelled Premier Baldwin to say what he did. Perhaps he thought the public could be got into the habit of mistaking a Premiership for when he takes up his duties, besides a number of small ones which they returned to the Premier.
