SURPRISED AT RESULTS SAVING FENCE POSTS In The Public Eve Ontario Puts In Twenty Million Fence Posts Yearly.

hite Cedar Posts Will Soon Be Unobtainable-Coal Tar Creosote the Best Wood Preservative-

Contributed by Ontario Department of Directions for Application - Cottage Cheese Fasy to Make.

Every year the decay of fence posts on Ohiarlo farms requires a replacement of not less than twenty million posts. This repair bill of five million posts. This repair bill of five million dollars each year could be very greatly reduced through the use of wood preservatives. A white cedar post costing twenty five cents may last fifteen years in the natural condition, but treated with creosote it will last hirty years. It should be good bustness to treat all posts, saving money, White Cedar Posts Soon Unobtain-

White cedar posts will soon be upblainable. Other, woods can be used; woods with a reputation for early decay, but which can be made very emcient by the creosote treatment. For instance, soft maple or willow posts will last but four years in the natural ogndition; treat them with creosote and such will be serviceable for twenty years. It costs about twenty cents per post for creosole treatment. If the post will last double or five times as long through being creosoted, surely the wants cent investment is a profitable one.

Decay Caused by Fungi and Bacteria. Decay or rot in fence posts is caused by fungl and bacteria. Wood When the digestive system gets tissue being largely collulose is a good food for bacteria and fungi, and the moist, away from light, condition just beneath the surface of the soil is also suitable to their development. Hence we see the posts rotting off just below the surface of the soil in which such are set. When a post is soaked with creosote it becomes a polson medium to the fungi and bacteria that may attack it; and their growth is greatly retarded. Coal tar creosote is the most satisfactory preservative that we can use on the farms. The posts to be treated must be thoroughly seasoned and dry to absorb sufficient creosote. The practice of spraying or brushing on hot creosote is not a very profitable one, in Georgetown by W.R. Watson, as the wood does not absorb enough

To get good results, an open tank with fire place beneath, or other heating arrangement, should be set up. The coal tar creosote is heated in the open tank, and then the posts are immersed long enough to permit a good soaking with the hot oil. A large oil drum with one end removed and set over a fireplace makes a cheap tion 56 of the Transees Act, R.S.O. 1914, and emclent tank, if nothing larger Chapter 121, that all creditors or others is at hand on the farm. The following points should be kept in mind by estate of the said Herbert Howard Heart- the man doing the work:

(1) Have the posts clean, dry and (2) Heat the creesote to 180° F. and maintain for 2 to 6 hours, socording to condition of posts. (3) Immerse the posts in the creesote deep enough to give a treatment that will extend six inches above the ground line after posts are set long enough to permit them to cool pianos, after the fire has been drawn. (5) Add more creosote to the tank to take the place of that absorbed. .(6) Use small posts; 4% inches in diameter and round are to be pre-(7) Do not let the temperature go above 200' F .- L. Stevenson, O.A.C.

Cottage Cheese Easy to Make. On most farms there is produced considerable skimmlik. It is fed to calves, hogs or chickens, while little man food on the farm. One form of Snyder's Carian household is as cottage cheese, or Dutch cheese. Cottage cheese contains all of the proteins of milk and a little fat. It centains more protein than most meats and the cost is very slight. Each pound of cottage chrese contains about one-fifth of a pound of protein, most of which is digestible. palatable, and it may be made more so by adding a little sweet or your cream, salt, chopped onton, and pi- mer. They were satisfied and mentos, it may be used in sandwiches and salads, and served with gruits, jellies and nuts. As a meat substitute cottage cheese rolls make a pleasing dish. Cottage cheese may be made in any home by permitting the milk to sour naturally until it curdles or clabbers. Cut the curd into fine pieces with a knife and cook slowly over a slow on any work of this kind.

fire, preferably at the back of the stove, until the curd contracts and wheys off. Remove the whey, wash. with cold water to firm the curd and wash out some of the acid taste. Place in colander or hang in a cloth sack to drain. After cooling and draining it is ready for the (able, It requires no curing.

Any one who likes game birds to est, such as quall, grouse and pheasant, can have a supply of meat just as good as any of these by raising a few guinea fowls. Guineas bunt their own feed nine months in the year, and are as good as a water dog to raise an aldrni when something goes amiss. It is, a hardy hawk that will take a chicken when there are guiness around.

Do not include the common green, or the purple barberry in your list of shrubs for this season's planting. Both are a host plant for the wheat rust and must not be planted near wheat fields. The Thunberg's or Japanest barberry is much more satisfactory for commental purposes.
