THE WESTERN HILL

Over the hill and far away Some day I'll travel—I used to say.

Some day I'll follow the westward track
Into the sunset, and never come back!

Never, to hark to the voice of a hen.

Where no clock will ever strike The time, indeed, may be far away But some day I'm going, I used to say.

Over that hill and far away,
When all the dishes are washed, some day,
Into the sunset I'd surely roam, And never, never, never come home!

Forget the curtains and window panes Forget the chick and their rattle of grains,
But fill my soul with a sunset glow,
And never return to the vale below.

Well, I climbed that hill, one close of day,
And steeper my heart in the sunset ray.

But the sun went down behind the hill
And a night wind crept up, cold and shrill,
The house was down in the vale hard by,
A window winked like a friendly eye.

As if to say: "If it's cold up there Here is a fire and homely fare." And I seemed to see the table spread

With one seat at its head, The kettle seemed to call to me
"Why don't you come and steep the tea?"

The hill was free and high and wide,
The house was low—but I outside!
A gasp moon lighted the downward
track,
The wind grew colder—and I came back!

—Betsey Anne.

Acton For 1924

Business neglected is often lost.
Above all, that is not a coward.

The bull dog wins because he hangs on.

A merry heart doeth good like a medicine.

High interest generally means low security.

Let yourself and not your words speak for you.

There is nothing in the world worth doing wrong for.

A man's true worth is the good he does in the world.

When speed sacrifices safety,
'twere better to go slow.

To be of use in the world is the only way to be happy.

Impossibilities are merely the half-hearted efforts of writers.

Happiness is neither a vested right nor a self-sustaining state.

A customer offended is harder to be won than a strong city.

The biggest room in the world is the room for improvement.

Being overcautious of the job beats carrying a rabbit's foot for luck.

If you're good in everybody nearly everybody will see good in you.

No one is useless in the world who lightens the burden of it for anyone else.

The man who says he never makes a mistake probably doesn't know one when he sees it.

They that forsake the law praise the wicked. But such as keep the law contend with them.

Legislature Opens February 6

It has been officially announced that the Provincial Legislature will be summoned to meet on Wednesday, February 6th. This will be the first session of the present legislature under the Conservative Government of Hon.
Edward Ferguson.

Huttonville Mills Re-open

After being inactive for three years the Huttonville Woolen Mills has been restarted and a small staff engaged. With the machinery and equipment soon in place, Mr. McIntyre expects to be able to have work for a staff as large as formerly.

Holidays in 1924

The holidays in 1924 fall on the following dates: Good Friday, April 18; Empire Day, Saturday, May 24; King's Birthday, Tuesday, June 3; Dominion Day, Tuesday, July 1; Labor Day, Monday, September 1; Thanksgiving Day, Monday, November 10, and Christmas Day, Thursday, December 25.

Locally our members will have a holiday every Thursday afternoon during the summer months.

to the Campbellville Municipal Council for 1924: Dr. G. H. Patter, R. D. Webster and R. G. Macdonald.

Milton School Girl Killed by a Train

At 9 o'clock last Friday morning a fatal accident occurred at the C.P.R. crossing, about one hundred yards east of Milton, in which Marjorie MacPhee, aged 18 years, was instantly killed.

The girl was in the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T.
MacPhee, who live about one-half mile east of Milton on the Roland Orr Homestead in Trafalgar Township, was on her way to the Public School here. After reaching the crossing, which is double track, she stood on the side of the track waiting until an eastbound freight-train passed. On account of the noise of the freight train and the strong wind which was blowing at the time she evidently did not see or hear the westbound Toronto-Goderich passenger train approaching, the engineer of which was blowing his whistle long and loud in order to warn the girl of her danger. Before the engineer could stop the train the girl was hurled to her death.

The body, which was badly mangled, was picked up and carried in the train to the C.P.R. station.

An inquest was opened by Coroner McColl and adjourned until next Friday afternoon.

Notes and Comments

THE CONSOLIDATED Municipal Act of 1923 provides that the council of any township may pass by-law for granting a prize not exceeding $10 for the best kept roadside, farm front, and farm house surroundings in each public school section in the township and for prescribing the conditions upon which such prizes may be awarded. This is a good idea that councils should encourage, for improving the appearance of homesteads would inevitably result.

TORONTO RATEPAYERS have voted to continue with daylight saving for three years more, at least. Hamilton has very wisely decided against it. It is rather difficult to understand Toronto's attitude in this matter. The town is out of tune with practically the whole of the province and with the railways operating in and out of the place. The thousands of people who visit Toronto are betrayed by the difference in time, and many of the residents themselves are against it. The people who voted to keep on with the system consider only their own pleasure.

IF YOU MADE MISTAKES yesterday, forget them. No strength was ever built upon continued repentance. To day is the result of yesterday, but it is more important to remember that to-morrow is the result of to-day. The result of the actions to-day we can determine; but no amount of dwelling upon yesterday will restore today. If we fell yesterday, there is nothing to do but pick ourselves up, shake off the dust and start afresh. Rise above yesterday. It is hard work to hold up the head and live down a black yesterday, but the blacker the yesterday the greater the need of rising above it; the higher the head must be held. Yesterday has passed. Let it rest in peace.

A CHICAGO JURY assessed damages of $10,000 against a hospital nurse for keeping a wood-floored student nurse. The nurse lost her position through this affectionate incident, else she might not have sought financial recompense. Now the doctor has filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy in the hope of evading the judgment. There is a feeling in financial circles that the Illinois jury has set a rather exorbitant price. Even a Chicago nurse is perhaps worth $10,000, but $10,000 is a lot of money.

The verdict may lead to bull-market. Imagine the sort of world it would be if kisses were rated at $10,000 a piece. A man could get $900,000 or $400,000 in debt in a single evening.

THE ACTION OF THE ROMAN Catholic Archbishop of Montreal in condemning many present day dances, many of the production seen in the theatres of that city and of the use and manufacture of liquor contrary to law, will meet with the approval of thoughtful people in every part of the Dominion. That young men and women of today are dance crazy and seem to live only for the purpose of having what they call a "good time" is everywhere a fact.
Amusements that qualify for the better discharge of every duty are necessary, and therefore to be commended, but the ceaseless round of nerve-racking and strongly stimulating performances which are too common, and which are often followed by a damaged for stimulants, is causing many of the brightest and best of the land to be disqualified for honest employment. As long as they are and their days in prison for work hours.

IN AN ADDRESS by Rev. J. H.
Moore, M.A., at the University of Toronto recently, on the subject of the Weekly "Good Times" and significant passages in the Bible "The metropolitan daily gives its readers a picture of the world news at a glance. I heard Premier Mackenzie King on the other day that the daily newspaper is designed to give the laity a glimpse of the affairs of the world, and an interlude between courses at the breakfast table, and is then cast aside as he rushes out to his daily duties. Not so the weekly.
It is a visitor to the home. It is kept until time for leisure reading is found. It goes into homes where it is read from first to last.
It comes into intimate contact with the people and can therefore deal far more intimately with social and community affairs. Because he realizes this and appreciates the importance of small incidents as well as great events, the editor of the weekly paper is not impatient of these details, personal items and local news of every description and character.
He knows what, somewhere he is observing some part that will be of some use to his readers. He wishes to see the world as it is, and he wishes to see it as it should be. He wishes to see the world as it is, and he wishes to see it as it should be. He wishes to see the world as it is, and he wishes to see it as it should be.
