GROWING SUDAN GRASS

Experimental Results at Ontario Agricultural College.

Average Yields for Five Years For Green Crop and for Hay—How it Compares with Millet and Sorghum—A Good Emergency Crop—About Alfalfa.

This forage plant, which belongs to the sorghum family, and is one of the best in leaf and stalk of this group of plants, was introduced into the United States from Africa in 1829.

Table with 3 columns: Varieties, Green Crop Tons, Hay Tons. Rows include Early Amber Sugar, Sorghum, etc.

For the results of this experiment the plots were all sown broadcast. It will be seen that in yield of green fodder and of hay per acre the Sudan Grass was surpassed by five of the crops included in the test.

Our experiments with Sudan Grass leads us to believe that the plant is more subject to injury by late frosts in the spring than the average variety of sweet corn. In drought resistance it is the equal, if not the superior, of Indian corn.

Most Be Sown on Warm Soil. Our experiments with Sudan Grass leads us to believe that the plant is more subject to injury by late frosts in the spring than the average variety of sweet corn.

Worth Trying as a Pasture Crop. The experimental evidence at hand, it would seem that Sudan Grass has shown sufficient promise to warrant its trial in a limited way for pasture, and as a emergency hay crop on the warmer soil of Southern and South-western Ontario, and in favor of the Sudan Grass for the past eight years.

Ontario Variegated and Grimm Alfalfa. Ontario Variegated is not a Grimm alfalfa. The seed of the former was obtained from Lorraine in 1871 and has been grown in Welland County for the last half century.

Here and There

Shipments of grain from Vancouver for the 1923-24 season have now passed the 4,000,000 bushel mark.

Reports from England state that it has been universally conceded that Canada's pavilion was in the best condition when the King opened the British Empire Exhibition at Wembley on April 23rd.

Over 3,000 settlers left Liverpool for Canada on April 24th. Thirteen hundred of these sailed on the Canadian Pacific liner "Montana".

A total of 40,000,000 salmon trout eggs has been collected on the Canadian Pacific line between Montreal and Vancouver.

Graphic and interesting educational motion pictures will bring Alberta's various resources to the eyes of those who attend the British Empire Exhibition this year.

Carrying an invitation to the President of the United States to attend the celebration of the 140th anniversary of the settlement of Upper Canada by the United Empire Loyalists, which will be held June 1st, Miss G. Lester, herself a descendant of the Loyalists, left Belleville recently on her way to Washington.

An attractive booklet entitled "A Week in Quebec in the Spring" by Betty Thornley, internationally known writer and author, has just been added to the series of artistic pamphlets published by the Dominion Pacific Railway.

The Indian village of Hochelaga, which stood on the site of the present city of Montreal, was a place of about fifty wooden houses having a population of about 4,000 souls when Jacques Cartier sailed up the St. Lawrence, was the assumption of Dr. W. D. Lindsay before the Antiquarian and Numismatic Society of Montreal recently.

Agropes of the report "Save the Trees" by E. W. Best, the president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, stated: "A week's concentration on saving the forests of Canada is well worth while—much better to make it a 'Forest Saving Week' and if the forest resources of this country are to be conserved to adequately avail the greater Canada of a few years hence it must be 'Forest Saving Week'."

Brown sells us our groceries

"Where do you buy your groceries?" we heard Mrs. Parke ask her friend.

"Oh! Brown sells us our groceries," the friend replied. "He calls up every morning between 9.30 and 11 and 'ook' knows by that time what is needed."

Brown is proud of his grocery business. He should be. It is growing.

It doesn't depend on the telephone. He has three. One to buy with; one to sell with and one to take orders over.

He knows the value of "adequate equipment intelligently used."
