TOLERATION

Lot me be a little kinder, let be a little blinder. To the faults of those whout me let me praise a little more, Let me be, when I am weary, just a little bit more cheery ;

Let me serve a hittle better those that I am striving for. Let me be a little braver, when temptation hids me waver : Let me strive a little harder to b all that I should be. Let me be a little meeker with the brother that is weaker; Let me think more of my neighbor and a little less of me."

ON FEEDING CHICKENS

Helpful Counsel From a Widely Known Poultry Expert.

Don't Overfeed at the Start-Feed Sprouted and Cracked Grains-Give Them Plents of Grit-Feed Loss Froudently Later - Millets Sown at Different Dates.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of No feed is given until the chicks

re nearly three days old. Water may be given to drink if the chill is taken off. The chicks are given the feed upon cleah boards about eight inches wide. There must be plenty of boards so that there is room on the board for every chick. A board three feet room enough for fifty chicks on the start. So says Prot. W. R. Graham

The chicks for the first few weeks should be fed about six times daily For the convenience of delegates at regular intervals. Ulve the tirst feed in the morning as early as the chicks can see toreat and the last a night as late as possible. If growing chicks in February one feed may be given at night using artificial light. Don't Overfood at the Start.

Many chicks are overfed on the start. We have adopted the plan for er of weighing the feed. An experienced feeder may not need to weigh the feed, but the beginner generally does better by weighing it. We allow one ounce of the dry mixture for every fifty chicks at each feed; that is, no chicks, for their first five days in the brooder, get more than ais ounces of dry feed to fifty chicks in one day. The plan followed is to moisten-the-first-feed-with-canned tomatoes, the second with eggs, and the third with minced liver, and then begin the series over again. The above amount will not satulfy the chicks appetite. They will create a great noise at every feeding time, but it gives a chance for the chick to absorb completely the yolk in the body. After the first period one should feed two or three times each day all that the chicks will eat.

We begin giving a drinking vessel each of water and sour milk, when the chicks are about a week old Many give sour milk to drink at the start; but we have obtained slightly better results by not giving the milk for the first three or four days.

Feed Sprouted and Cracked Grain. When the chicks pass the second week, sprouted grains may be fed also a little cracked grains. The change should be made gradually to sprouted grains, tender green grass, if available, and a little grain. if leg weakness is noted, the tomstoes and sprouted grains should bo 250 increased or the chicks put out of 250 doors on-clean-tender grass. It is best to rear the chicks on new ground each year, and never to brood 250 in any one year. Many chicks are 10c sent in for examination each year that have troubles due to land infec-

It also will be found advantageous if feeding chicks from trough or broods out of doors to move the boards or troughs a little every feed. Likewise it must be remembered. when the chicks are fed indoors, to keep the feed boards clean. Give Them Plenty of Grit.

.Grit is always in easy access of the chicks. It is advisable and necessary to add a little oyster shell dust or one particles to the ration daily. A certain amount of lime is necessary. Mouldy feeds, dirty feed boards, and musty litter are to be avoided. atoulds kill large numbers of chicks. Be sure your house is clean and the inter not musty. Do not use cut ourley or tye straw as litter for baby chicks, because the brards may get into the chicks' eyes. Good clean alratfa makes the best chick litter we -nave-used. When it gets sorted or dirty remove and replace it with Food Loss Frequently Later. As the chicks get older the number of feeds per day may be reduced, so that at an age of seven weeks curee or lour feeds per day are sumclent; in fact, after the second week noppers of crushed oats or dry mash may be placed in the pen. The feeds of moist mash are continued at whatever amount the chicks will clean up. -Dept. of Extension, O. A. College, Millets Bown at Different Dates. The question is frequently asked regarding the best dates for sowing miliet for hay production. For several years, in succession an experiment has been conducted at the Onario Agricultural College by sowing millets on each of six different dates, starting on May 16th and Bushing on August 1st, allowing about two weeks joetween each two dates of seeding. The average results have suown the highest returns from sowing on June 1st. Naturally, varieties use the Japanese Barnyard and the eartler than the hungarian Grass which requires a shorter season for development. Keep the brood sow in good thrifty and healthily condition. Allow her pienty of exercise. Feed her green tood in the winter. She is very tond of alfalfa hay and mangel beets, with one feed per day of middlings and milk. Give her a dry comfortable burne bed, also plenty of fresh water, and she will winter in grime con-

You Can Do Wonders With a Little Paint

Perhaps there is just one room in your home that strikes a discordant note. Perhaps you would like to redecorate your entire house. But whether you do one room or many, you will be delighted with the finish and economy of Lowe Brothers' "High Standard" Paints and Varnishes.

Mellotone Flat Wall Paint Is one of the products on which Lowe Brothers built their reputation. It is beautiful—very easy to apply and can be washed with SOAP and WATER.

Mellotone is undoubtedly the most popular Wall Paint sold. One gallon covers approximately 900 square feet (2 coats, 450 square feet) and covers solidly, which is one of the reasons why it is so economical. Color Cards and Booklets free.

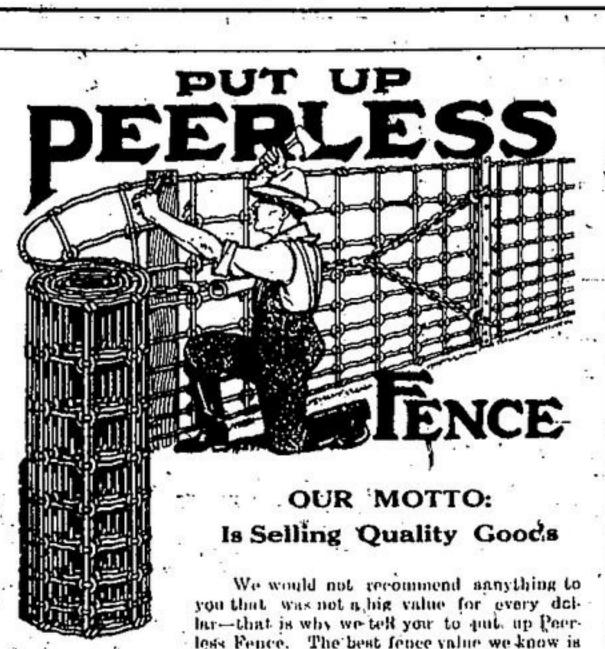

Neptunite Varnishes Have just recently been placed on the market. They will withstand beat, ice, steam, ammonia; and the hammer test. They will not scar or show heel marks. Hot dishes rested upon a surface finished entirely with Neptunite will not mar the polished finish. They are very rich in effect and above all, ECONOMICAL. Come in for your copy of the Neptunite
