Ashgrove

The Ashgrove U.P. & U.F.W.O. Clubs enjoyed a garden party on Friday evening, July 11th, on the pretty lawn of Mr. Henry Wilson, it being the occasion of the sixth anniversary of the organization on the club.

A short program was given of readings and music which was much enjoyed especially the vocal selections which Mrs. Caldwell of Georgetown so kindly contributed. Rev. Mr. Caldwell gave a very appropriate speech which was much enjoyed and appreciated by the members of the club.

After the program, cake, ice cream and strawberries and coffee were served. The birthday cake with its six candles was made and decorated by Mrs. Wilson who had the honor of being hostess at the first U.F.W.O. meeting in Ontario on July 11th, 1918.

A short social time was then spent when the gathering dispersed hoping to have many happy returns of the occasion.

Terra Cotta

A very pleasant evening was spent on Wednesday July 2nd, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred G. Thompson to bid farewell to Miss Dora McClellan who has resigned her position as teacher of Clay Hill School. The gathering consisted of people from Union as well as the parents and pupils of the school.

Marks of unsuccessful candidates are being mailed this week and certificates will be mailed to successful candidates some time in August.

Exceptional Attractions

The great present day comedy, "Six Cylinder Love," an original musical production, "An Evening in Hawaii," and other splendid musical attractions: Lectures by such headliners as Capt. T. Dimsmore, Upton; unique children's entertainers: Sidney Landon, widely-known impersonator of great literary men—these are among the exceptional attractions which will appear here on the big 1924 Georgetown Chautauqua, which opens July 29th and continues for five days.

The Dunbar Male Quartet and Bell Ringers, one of the best known and most distinctive musical organizations appearing on the platform, will launch the Chautauqua on the first afternoon, with an outstanding program of songs and bell ringing. Following a prelude by the Dunbars on the first night, a prominent lecturer, whose name will be announced later, will be heard in a lecture of popular appeal.

A popular concert given on the second afternoon by the Betty Booth Concert Company will feature costumed song presentations from favorite light operas, and other vocal selections, as well as excellent instrumental numbers. At night, following a concert by this talented company, Sidney Landon, widely known for his impersonations of famous literary men and readings from their works, will be a feature attraction. Musical and dramatic selections in costume depicting the dress, manners and songs of various historical periods, are special features of their offerings.

Following a prelude by the quartet at night, Capt. T. Dimsmore Upton, known as "The Big Brother of a Hundred Thousand Kids," will give his inspiring address, "The Four-Square Builder," which is a plea for clean, wholesome recreation for children.

On the last afternoon, following a prelude concert by Vienna's Hawaiians, Virginia Slade, entertainer and play-reader, will be heard in a miscellaneous program consisting of a number of short sketches from the works of prominent authors, as well as cuttings from well-known plays.

"An Evening in Hawaii," original musical production presented by Vienna's Hawaiians, will be the feature of the last night. The production portrays most vividly the music and customs of Hawaii. Novel lighting and scenic effects, together with appropriate costuming and the artistry of the company, make this one of the most distinctly enjoyable numbers on the entire program.

Three unique entertainments for children, each to be presented on a different day, will be given in addition to the regular programs for adults. The Columbia Marionettes will give one entertainment; Ada Ruth Jones, cartoonist and story teller, another; while a third entertainment will be given by the Misses Winifred Merybeth and Ruth Hansman, who feature in costume, readings, sketches and songs based on juvenile story-book characters.
