MY GIRL

By J. S. A. A little corner with its ceib, A little mug, a spood a bab, A little tooth so pearly white,

A little rubber ring to bite. A little plate all letered round, A little rattle to resound. A little creoping- see she stands

A little step 'twixt outstretches A little doll with flaxen hur, A little willow rocking chair, A little dress of richest hue.

A little pair of guiters blue. A little school day after day, A "little schoolma am to oley, A little study soon to past A little graduate at last.

A little must for winter weather. A little jockey hat and feather, A little sack with funny pockets A little chain, a ring and lockets A little while to dance and bow.

A little escort homeward now, A little party, somewhat late, A little lingering at the gate. A little walk in leafy June, A little talk while shines the moon

A little talk with paper. A little reference to mama. A little ceremony grave, A little struggle to be brave, A little cottage on a lawn,

A little kiss - my girl is gone. Timber Wolf Soon Near Guelph

A timber wolf, supposed to have found its way down from the northern woods, is ranging country to the south of the city. It was seen Friday night skirting the woods on the farm of ex Reeve Walter Buchanan, of Guelph Township, by Mr. Buchanan him self, and was again seen Saturday morning by Mr. Buchanau's son, Robert In both instances the beast, which Mr. Buchapan positively identified as a wolf, slunk off into the bushes when it noticed it was being observed. This is the first time in many decades that a wolf has been noted in Wellington County, although yours ago, when the district was covered with bush they are said to have been fairly plentiful.

Typographical Errors

Typographical errors will occur in the best of regulated newspapers. Last week we had one of our estimable lady readers visiting out of town for a few days. Now as a matter of fact it was her hus band's trip we meant to record, and that was where the error oc curred. Now Mr. -- is one of those fellows who believes everything he reads in the Echo and on his return his wife had some ex plaining to do to convince him that she stayed faithfully at home during his absence but be was only convinced, when we assured him that the error was ours. But that mistake was simple compared with, one a contemporary of ours made in the obituary notice of a respected citizen when it said: "The remains were reverently borne to their last rousting place by the brethern of the lodge." How would you like to be the editor about that time?-Wiarton the Agricultural College Show Dotecting Milk Adulations-Powdered Skimmilk-Milk in Breadmaking-Feeding Silage Before Milking--Milk Matters.

Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

Detecting Milk Adulations, The Chemistry department of the Ontarlo Agricultural College during the past year made a study of the freezing point of milk by means of the Hortvet Cryoscope, proving the apparatus to be absolutely reliable in detecting adulation of milk by adding water. The Hortvet Cryoscope having a scientifically accurate construction, now tills that much needed requirement of an official test for detecting added water in milk regard less of the breed of cows from which the milk may be obtained. Powdered Skimmitk.

The comparative values of powdered skimmilk and powdered butter tallk were found to be about equal in experiments carried on at the College. The average total gains per pig were 121.6 pounds for those fed on the skimuilk powder and 1228 pounds for those fed on buttermisk powder. Although the feeding value of these products is good, the market price for hogs and the high cost of the skimmilk and buttermilk powder makes its use prohibitive as live stock

Milk in Breadmaking.

The Chemistry department has also whole milk, skimmed milk, condensed milk and milk powder in making bread. The whole milk naturally had some of the effects of fat, and the sweetened, condensed milk some of the effects of sugar, but, otherwise, milk will not replace sugar, malt or shortening in making bread. It has an influence all its own which none of these other constituents will produce. In conjunction with these other incredients it does, however, influence the flavor of the bread, and improve the color of the crust. In fact it makes a richer loaf of bread, with greater moisture-retaining add higher food value properties.-Dept. of Extension, O. A. College, Guelph.

Feeding Silage Before Milking. There is always a tendency that when green feed is given to cows shortly before milking that it will impart to the milk some odor, and possibly taste. This does not always follow, but it is not considered advisable to feed green fodder, sliage, or other strong smelling feeds just before milking. When cows are turned into pasture in the spring there will be developed in their milk a particular odor that to some people is quite disagreeable. Also cows turned on · sweet clover, and particularly those pastured on rape or green rye, will impart to their milk a very strong odor, and possibly a flavor, unless they are taken from such pasture several hours before milking. Not only does the cow seem to pass on this undesirable odor through her blood to her milk, but where strong smelling sliage is fed in the barn the odor is likely to be absorbed by the milk at the time of milking. For these reasons sliage and other similar feeds are best fed after milking. Who Is Kept?

We frequently hear dairymen say, I keep ten cows," or "I keep six cows." All too often they are much nearer the exact truth than they imagine. The statement should be reversed. Dalrymun should ask themselves two questions, "How many Fowl Wanted and "How many cows am I keeping cows are keeping me at a profit?" at a loss?" There is not enough fun. amusement or excitement in caring for dairy cattle to pay too high for the privilege. The reason so many "boarder" cows are in the tle-ups of the barn is because few farmers know which cows are profitable and which are not. Milk scales, white paper. Babcock test reports and the gumption necessary to keep tabs on production over a year's period are just as essential to profitable dairying as pitchforks and milk pails. ' Milk Matters. Nine and one-half pounds of milk are required to make one pound of limburger cheese. Milk will take up impurities with more rapidity and hold on to them with greater tenacity than almost any other food product. It is easier to keep milk clean by keeping the dirt out of it than it is o clean it after the dirt has conaminated it. A clean udder will go far toward clean milk, and a few seconds spent in wiping the udder with a clean, damp cloth will prevent much future trouble. Encouraging a cow to give milk with a milking stool is expensive to her owner. Exactly why a cow puts Phones: Shop 196 House 235J four or five per cent. of fat in het milk is still an unsolved problem, but the case with which she will take the fat out of her milk with but slight provocation has been solved many

A Rhyme About Lime. When in your garden soil of clay you walk with patience day by day. through twilight dusk or bright sun shine, to try to make the soil more fine; when though you scratch and hoe and thump, the soil will still proceed to "lump," and bake as hard as mny brick, and make your peas and cabbage sick; my friend you then may know it's time to give that sail a dose of lime.
