Baptist Anniversary

Large Gatherings and Inspiring Sermons by Rev. J. L. Harton Mark the Event.

Another mile stone has been passed in the history of George town Baptist Church and the event was marked by largely attended services and inspiring sermons by Rev. J. L. Harton, B.A., on Sunday last.

At the evening service, after reading the 13th chapter of Corinthians the speaker directed the thoughts of his hearers to "The power of the infinite love of God."

The love of God in Christ Jesus is perpetual and undying and unites the hearts of men and women where education and science fail.

Education, science, radio, etc., are wonderful blessings when used for the Glory of God. The great peace conferences of the powers at the Hague looked like a great achievement but failed to prevent war.

Of everything man has conceived nothing ever met the need, save the infinite love of God. People do not take time to appreciate the love of God which is the most vital thing in life.

The love of Christ is the power that makes life over and the tie that binds Christians together. It is God's greatest gift to a sinful world. What does it mean to you?

The special anthems by the choir and the organ voluntaries were features of the services. The solos by Miss Harton were especially appreciated.

Rev. Mr. Caldwell of the Methodist Church assisted at the evening service.

Novral. Novral Branch of the Women's Institute will hold their monthly meeting at the home of Miss McPherson, "Inverholm" on Thursday, 6th of February.

A paper on Nursing will be given by Catherine McPherson, R.N.

There will also be a good musical programme. A cordial invitation is extended to all ladies to be present.

Novral Young People's Union meet next Monday in the Methodist church. The program is a debate. Subject—"Resolved that the automobile has done more harm than good."

Correspondence. The following letter from Mr. J. W. L. Forster of Toronto, who spoke at the recent Anniversary of Novral to Rev. Mr. Douglas will prove quite interesting to many of our readers.

Dear Mr. Douglas— Thank you for the invitation to worship with the members of Novral congregation on Sunday, 18th instant, on the occasion of their Anniversary as a Methodist Church.

The name, Novral, was given to the village by the first McNabb who settled in that vicinity. "McNabville" was, I understand, only given in jest or compliment to the man and his beginnings. His sons, John and Harvey, I remember very well.

For many years an Anglican Church at the foot of the hill and a Free Presbyterian Church at its top supplied accommodation for our worshippers. Service being held in the evenings, James Forster, my grandfather, gathered the few Methodists and others for service on Sabbath evenings in his own house in 1847. This house stood on the north side of the main street at the acute corner north a hundred yards east of the present church. He being an excellent preacher, the congregation increased until it was obliged to seek accommodation in the wooden school house on the top of the south hill.

A Methodist Circuit was organized at Georgetown in 1844, with several appointments where settlements made such services welcome. I have not been able to discover a circuit plan to indicate Novral's first appearance thereon. The Rev. Wm. Phillip, the second appointee to Georgetown circuit in 1846 continued for three years. This makes possible the recognition of Novral on the Methodist official map in 1848. Under Mr. Willoughby's ministry, his successor in 1849, this recognition is more probable. He certainly ministered to this section of the circuit in 1851, for the Family Bible records my baptism by him in that year.

The Gooderham & Woria firm owned the mill, tannery and store at Novral. I have not been able to verify the date of the coming of James Gooderham to take charge of the store and mill. He had a few years previously been enabled to receive the new Life in Christ. The joy of this experience, which with him was deep and thorough, speedily led him to enter the ministry, his fitness checked the prospect of this career so he made himself useful as a local preacher. He and my grandfather Forster became a very strong team in evangelistic work inaugurated in the village home. James Gooderham bought the lot on which the present church stands and built a brick church which now forms the basement school room under it. The mason engaged to build the foundation and Mr. Gooderham, together, rolled the large stone into place which Mr. Gooderham with prayer and the seasons' travail formally and duly laid as the corner stone of the House of God in this place. I do not know the exact date, but believe it was in 1851. I have a distinct recollection of James Gooderham's recital of details of the erection of the church. To his name in the honor of the deed of gift of the original Novral Methodist Church. I am told the members of the little society to which my father, Thomas Forster, belonged contributed a good amount of personal industry to the completion of the edifice and its appointments.

I can remember the candle chasers on the walls and the chandeliers of the side aisle to sniff them two or three times during service. The occasion of the installation of oil lamps was an event worthy of the repainting of the church interior, a church re-opening and tea meeting to raise money to meet the cost.

The founders having passed a way, my father as class leader, Local Preacher, Circuit Steward, Sunday School Superintendent, supplied the wood for its fires and leadership in most of its activities. The influence of this church was positive. Migrants to the back settlements would be prayed away and would return to the haven of months and bring to my father enthusiastic reports of new church centres established with rapturous warmth where they had located.

For a great many years, up until his leaving Novral in 1870, my father conducted an evening service on Sundays. The older citizens will remember these meetings being very well attended. After benediction all would again be seated and father would sing, unaccompanied, a new hymn or sacred song which seemed greatly appreciated.

The names that echo with a melody of distant music I love to recall. The Hendersons, Ores, Melvins, Bells, Watsons, Nixons, Jacksons, Millers, Switzers, Greens, Richards, Hoids, Coupers, Clarke, Dennys, and a half hundred others whose faces were frequently seen in the congregation.

What I owe to this Novral Church add to the saints who were shipped here, for the spiritual impact that brought to me a life and an experience that time can inadequately express is a hallowed memory and an inspiration still.

The rebuilding of the church occurred in 1869, the centennial to this Home Church of mine after that time was to the present building.

Yours with kind regards and happy memory. J. W. L. Forster

Cow Testing Ass'n. The meeting of the Novral Cow Testing Association was held on Saturday afternoon in the Novral Public School. There was a fair turnout.

The chair was occupied by Mr. Peter A. Dick. The supervisor, Mr. David J. Howell, gave an encouraging report of the work done during the year. Many of the herd owners had improved their herds by replacing poor cows with better ones.

The summary of production and earnings that had been furnished each member showed however that there was lots of room for improvement. He recommends greater care in keeping the milk records and a concerted effort to get a greater herd improvement, better sires and more rigid culling of cows that did not come up to the mark in production.

The present plan as conducted by the Live Stock Branch of the Department of Agriculture in Ottawa would likely be continued for another year.

In commenting on the report of production Mr. Howell stated that the herd of Mr. Jas. Fidler headed the list. Mr. Fidler had the highest producing cow with an average of $28.00 per month earnings. Mr. R. C. Given the highest production of milk for December for one cow, 1850 lbs of milk with 69.2 lbs butter fat. Mr. P. H. Graham the greatest earnings per acre from his herd for the year.

The following officers were elected:—Hon. Pres., Mr. Peter Dick; Vice-Pres., Mr. Jas. Reid; Secretary, Mr. W. H. Fidler; Members of the Executive Committee, Mr. Robt. Reid, Mr. Thos. Early, Mr. Thos. Bird, Mr. J. Norman Cameron.

A number of matters of importance that came up were referred to the Executive Committee. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Howell for his splendid work as supervisor.
