THE BOY

We have heard about tariff and taxes, and problems of ruling and state.
We know about parties and platforms, and politics little and great.
But amidst all the din and confusion of struggles for riches and joy,
Have you heard the note that is sounding? Have you heard the call of the boy?
Loudly and long we hear it, a cry from the homes that we view:
A call from the men in the milk ing, commanding attention from you.
It tells of the training of leaders, and this is the call we enjoy:
It tells of defeat at the outset, 'tis a pretty grim call from the boy.
And we who are grown must remember, when tempted to "watch them slumber."
That most boys who go wrong are not vicious, and all that they ask is a chance.
Just a chance to make good in the battle, amid all the strife and the noise.
They are pleading for this, will you grant it, will you answer the call of the boy?

Armenian Boys Entertain Torontonians

Ninety Lads from Georgetown Farm Visited Toronto last Friday

Varied in character, excellent in execution and strong in human appeal, the entertainment, given in Jarvis Collegiate last Friday evening by 90 lads from the Armenian Boy's Farm at Georgetown proved a real treat to the large audience that almost filled the auditorium.

Attended by their teachers and students at the farm, the boys arrived in Toronto by Radial and were entertained at the supper hour in Emmanuel Baptist Church.

The program, which would have done credit to a Canadian group, demonstrated what may be done in a very short time with foreign children, provided the proper environment and instruction are supplied. "O Canada" sung with fervor by the entire troupe, opened the entertainment, and was followed by an Armenian chorus rendered in the native tongue by the children, and by a humorous song entitled "We Armenian Boys."

In each case the boys sang without any accompaniment, but were led with great success by Hatched Bakerjian, Kchavart Knedjian, and Eric Garabedian, three of their own number. Later in the evening some sacred songs were rendered by the boys under the leadership of Kchavart Kvedjian, who also gave a delightful solo. Chang Vartegorian proved a talented singer, and eleven of the boys joined very sweetly in "Love's Old Sweet Song."

A folk dance, in which nine boys performed to the sweet strains of the mouth organ, showed Armenian in a happy, playful mood, and a flag drill—a truly Canadian effort—by sixteen lads, demonstrated how quickly youth can adapt itself to exercises hitherto unknown.

Perhaps the cleverest and most appealing number was a playlet called "The Farming Corporation" written by Mr. Alexanian, the devoted Armenian teacher at the Farm, and embodying a bit of the Home. It revealed the fact that the boys are being trained not only in the art of farming, but in correct and business like organization and methods. A more pretentious play arranged by the same author, and showing a happy home scene in Armenia, prior to the persecutions, was staged toward the close of the evening and included a number of clever dress costumes.

"I love Canada, I love you, I love my present home for which I thank you," were the concluding words of a graceful speech in which one small boy told a bit of his personal history. Four of his comrades gave similar speeches each embodying hopefulness and gratitude.

Previous to the gathering of a collection Hagoz Mesrobian read the story of the Good Samaritan, and Rev. Ira Pierce, Secretary of the Armenian Relief Association made a brief appeal for funds. Hagoz Drahmanian was heard in a recitation and a bit of vaudeville was injected into the program, when a group of boys performed acrobatic stunts, ending in the forming of a pyramid.

The entertainment was brought to an artistic close by the reciting of "Our Flag" by Jirar Kalayjian, the sounding of the bugle call by Megerditch Gedelian and the anti-sung "The Maple Leaf" under the leadership of Isaac Krikorian, and the Armenian National anthem, led by Omnia Vartegorian. Finally "God Save The King" closed the program.

By means of the film explanation that were given throughout the evening, and the hearts of the spectators were touched as they read the story of the reunion in their native land. The story was succeeded by a picture of the two brothers, and an impressive climax was reached when the boys stepped out from among their comrades and bowed gracefully, as the audience applauded.—Daily Globe.

Obituary

FRANK E. BESFORY
Frank E. Besfory died at his home on Monday. He had suffered for years from asthma and had been confined to his bed for a long time. He was in his fifty-seventh year and had spent the greater part of his life in Milton. He was married here to Annie, second daughter of the late Ribby Ellis, who survives him, with two daughters, Miss Jessie and Margory, both of Windsor. Mr. Besfory was liked and respected by all who knew him. He was an Anglican and a member of Grace Church. He was a member of its choir for many years leaving it only when his illness affected his voice. In Milton he was a Conservative. The funeral took place Wednesday from Grace Church at Wedgreen cemetery. His Rector, Rev. Canon Nattel, conducted the services.—Champion.

Notes and Comments

THEY ARE HAVING difficulty in Cobourg in collecting tax arrears, just as it is the case in many other towns. Deacons here however the council has authorized a new collector to take over and complete the collector's roll at 1925, and that the cost incurred up to $200 be taken from the salary of the collector of that year.

THE TIME TO SELL is a rising market, so they say, and yet that is just the time when it is most difficult to decide. There is always the expectation that prices may go higher. Many farmers are in a quandary to-day as to whether they should sell their wheat or not. The men who can give infallible advice has a chance to make a lot of money by acting upon it. There are no "insiders" in the wheat market now. One man's guess is as good as another.

IT IS NOT DIFFICULT to understand the complaint of the Canadian business man about taxes, says the Alexandria Hamilton Institute in the Current Bulletin. If he is in receipt of an income of $20,000 he must part with $1,900 or nearly one-tenth of it, to the Government (assuming him to be a married man with no children). In the United States the man so situated pays over a tax of only $1,017.60. Going down the scale, the Canadian with a $16,000 income must pay $1,870 in taxes; across the border his neighbor pays but $637.50. In the $14,000 income bracket the Dominion citizen's tax is $1,090 and the United States citizen's $447.60. Of the income of $8,000 the tax collector demands $370 in Canada compared with the $127.50 exacted by the United States Revenue Collector. In all of these cases Canada's taxes are double those of the United States. In the lower income brackets the difference is still more marked. A married Canadian with no children who has a $5,000 income, pays a tax of $120; in the United States, the man in the same situation and circumstances, pays $37.50, while the $2,500 income man in the United States now pays no tax. His Dominion neighbor pays $20. Hence there is little wonder that agitation is continued for tax reduction, although the comparative rates may not be known.

Injured With Saw

Mr. Charles Spiers of Erin happened with a painful accident on day recently, while at a sawing bee at Mr. H. Barbour's. He accidentally got his right hand caught in the circular saw, all but cutting off the index finger, and lacerating the hand in several places. Unluckily the glove which Mr. Spiers was wearing saved him from even more severe injury.
