FRIENDSHIP

You do not need a score of men to laugh and sing with you. You can be rich in comradeship with just a friend or two. You do not need a summer's smile to brighten your way alone. Through weal or woe, a friend or two will fill your days with song.

So let the many go their way, and let the throng pass by. The crowd is but a flick'ring thing which heeds not when you sigh.

The multitude is quick to run, in search of favorites new. And all that man can hold for grief is just a friend or two. When words of failure start to blow, you'll find the throng has gone.

The splendor of a brighter flame will always lure them on. But with the ashes of your dreams and all you hope to do. You'll find that all you really need is just a friend or two. You cannot tell the multitude how ever hard you try.

It cannot aid upon your hearts; it cannot cheer you up, it cannot read the heart of you, or know the hurts you bear. Its cheers are all for happy men, and not for those in care.

So let the throng go on its way and let the crowd depart. But keep the true faith when you are sick at heart. And rich you'll be and comforted, when gray skies hide the blue. If you can turn and share your grief with just a friend or two.

Death Sayers Link

With 1812 Heroine

A nephew of Laura Secord, the heroine of the war of 1812, passed away in Toronto last week, in the person of Mr. Augustus Stull, a native of Halton county and a pioneer resident of Prince Albert, Saskatchewan, where he held office as mayor and later as postmaster.

Mr. Stull was born near Georgetown about 75 years ago. His father was William Stull, a member of a United Empire Loyalist family which came to Canada from the United States after the war of the revolution. Mr. Stull's mother was born in Lancaster and was a sister of Laura Secord, who made the historic and dangerous day and night journey through an unsettled territory to warn FitzGibbon, the British commander, of a contemplated surprise attack by the American forces. The result being that the invaders themselves were surprised and captured at Beaver Dams.

In his early manhood Mr. Stull taught school for some years in the village of Redway and then that of Guelph. In 1887 he went to Prince Albert, situated in the then south west territories.

On becoming postmaster of Prince Albert, he held that position until 1917, when ill health compelled him to relinquish it. Coming to Toronto, he made his home since that time with his daughter, Mrs. J. Stinson, 8 Runholm park crescent, where he passed away.

In addition to Mrs. Stinson, he leaves a second daughter, Mrs. W. Poyer of Winnipeg. Mr. Stull had been for 66 years a member of the Masonic order, and was past master of the Prince Albert lodge.

Obituary

MRS. JOHN MARTIN
Succeeding a stroke sustained on the 14th of January, Mrs. John Martin, Limemhouse, passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Wm. McArthur, Church St., Acacia, on Tuesday morning, March 17th. A few days after the attack which proved fatal, Mr. and Mrs. McArthur brought the old lady to their home here so that the best of care and attention might be given her. Mrs. Martin was the daughter of the late John McArthur, and was born in Chiquiquoi seventy years ago. When she was eighteen she married her late husband who predeceased her twenty years ago. After marriage they lived for a number of years in Limemhouse and thirty-five years ago purchased the farm, lot 15, con. 6, Esquimaux. Eleven years ago Mrs. Martin left the farm and returned to Limemhouse where she lived with her two daughters born in the home the following survive: Mrs. Donald McDougall, Saskatchewan; James, in Saskatchewan; Mrs. Wm. McArthur, Acton; Ray, in California; and Stewart at Limemhouse. Both Alex. died some years ago. Surviving members of her father's family are: Mrs. Alexander Livingstone, Georgetown; Mrs. Wm. Dobbie, Kitchener, and Duncan McDougal, Brucebridge. Mrs. Martin was a member of the Presbyterian Church, Georgetown. She was a mother who gave her best efforts to the home. Interment was made at Greenwood Cemetery, Georgetown.—Free Press.

Norval

On Tuesday evening, the 17th of March, a very pleasant social evening was spent in the basement of Norval Presbyterian church. It took "the form of a reception to those members of Mount Pleasant who have decided to remain in the continuing Presbyterian Church and to worship with those in Norval who, like themselves, have determined to remain out of the proposed merger of the churches.

The basement was tastefully decorated for the occasion, and as it was St. Patrick's night, sham-rock and overgreens abounded on all sides. The platform was adorned with flags bearing mute evidence to the loyalty of the congregation while the three tables, ranging the whole length of the room, were a delight to the eyes with their vases of cut flowers, sweet peas, carnations and daffodils.

After the sumptuous repast had been served the choir was taken by the minister and a programme of music interspersed with speeches was submitted. The following talent took part:—Miss Livingstone, Miss A. Leslie, Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Bessy, Messrs. Colin McDougal, R. Wynnes, W. G. Galloway and J. N. Russell. Community singing was also indulged in and heartily enjoyed. Mr. Wm. Cook on behalf of the Session, Mr. A. M. Laird on behalf of the Managers, and Mr. D. A. McLaughlin on behalf of the Sabbath school welcomed the guests of the evening, and their kindly words were replied to by Messrs. S. McClure, Garfield McClure, J. Reeles, Joseph McClure and Arthur McClure. Votes of thanks were passed to the ladies of the congregation, to the performers and to Mr. and Mrs. Kirk for their kindly gift of flowers. The meeting was closed with the Doxology and the Benediction.

Labrador to the Front

Britain's oldest colony, Labrador, has been much in the limelight during the past year. At one time that country was thought to be of little value, but people are now waking up to the fact that it has a future. Dr. Harry L. Padon, in charge of the Grenfell hospital at Indian Harbour, says that country is not the chronic invalid that some think, but merely needs to be tided over the period between chaos and cosmos, when it will find itself and become an integral part of the British Empire and a credit to those who have faith in its people.

Already a commission, composed of eminent men from Great Britain, Canada and Newfoundland, is considering a settlement of the boundary dispute between the Canadian and Newfoundland labradors. Whatever appointment may be made, of one thing we can rest assured, no part will go outside the Empire. Time was when no one particularly cared where a lander was, but it is a significant fact that now two countries care.

The world-fliers caused quite a flutter in Labrador during the past summer. Their flight from Greenland was directly to that colony and great interest centered in many newspaper men and others had gone North especially to be on the spot when the event took place. They took up their position where they expected a descent would be made, but were out of the plane came down, permitting Dr. Padon and staff, who remained on duty, to be the ones to get snags of the fliers alighting and in extend hospitality, all of whom was considered quite an honor.

Not long after the world fliers came and went, Indian Harbour got another thrill by the arrival of MacMillan and party. They came ashore and were entertained by our Grenfell staff, later taking them on board for a meal and to examine the many interesting curios brought from the far North. Who will dare suggest, therefore, that Labrador is not decidedly on the map now.

Notes and Comments

SPRING WILL SOON be here and we should plan now to make our homes and grounds as attractive in 1925 as possible. Very often these are bleak, barren, desolate and very unattractive. Why not make them more inviting, and bring into them some order, some cheer, some beauty? Environment is a potent factor in the development of character; that a child who grows up in an environment of flowers will not be the equal of one who grows up in an atmosphere of grass, shrubs and flowers.

COUNTY COUNCILS generally have given favorable replies to the letter from Dr. J. W. S. McCullough, Chief Officer of Health for Ontario, drawing attention to the fact that the Cemetery Act places upon municipalities the responsibility for the keeping of graveyards in decency and order, that this was not being done and many of the burial places, particularly the older ones, were in a deplorable condition. It is understood that action will be taken through the local provisors for the better care of the graveyards. The old cemeteries in which lie the remains of the honored dead of the early population have been neglected for years and the condition of many is disgraceful. The local councils, not the county councils, are responsible for the cemeteries.

GOSPELING IS CONSIDERED the special failing of ladies, but if the truth is told we all know it is not confined to the feminine sex, old or young. Men, ladies, boys, girls, all are prone to tittle tattle more or less, for it takes a strong character to keep back tidbits of scandal when there are sympathetic listeners. So in what we are going to say on the subject we do not want our lady friends to think our remarks are addressed solely or specially to them. They are intended just as much for their brothers. Of all mean and cowardly acts the spreading of scandalous rumors about others is the worst. It is bad enough to start such reports even when they are thought to be true but when they are founded on mere hearsay and no attempt has been made to verify them then it is the sign of a base and malicious disposition to let them travel any further. Like all bad habits, the one of gossip grows with indulgence. The more often a story is repeated the greater the story becomes. That which started on its miserable rounds as a mere hot often finishes up by becoming a positive assertion. How much unhappiness has been caused, how many reputations have been damaged, how much injustice and misery and bitterness has been provoked by idle tongues. It is an old story—be careful not to set the match to other people's imaginations or anticipations. So serious is this offence of gossiping regarded in some places we think laws should be enacted to deal with transgressors and fines of from $10 to $100 should be levied on any person found guilty of repeating false rumors or malicious slander about their neighbors. The late brewer is always despised and distrusted, and rightly so. Such a one is a person to be abandoned, not encouraged, and least of all, to be imitated.—Com.

Acacia

Mr. W. H. Gurney of Wingham made Acacia friends a brief visit last week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Kanasman and Mrs. J. McDougall spent Sunday in Toronto.

Mrs. W. A. Lasby spent a few days last week with her son in Toronto. While in Toronto Mrs. Lasby attended the Mendocino Choir social.

The friends of Peter A. Smith are pleased to know that he has quite recovered from his recent illness and is again attending to business as usual.

Dr. Norman McLeod, who has been a member of the Acacia Fire Brigade for 26 years, has a record for faithfulness. He has never missed responding to a fire alarm in 26 years.—Free Press.

Pure Bred Pigs

On Wednesday of last week a number of Pure Bred Sows 8 to 10 months old were purchased and distributed by R. R. Fleming, Agricultural Representative, and his assistant, Mr. Wildman, to the Junior Farmers of Halton County. These pigs were of excellent type and excellent breeding. The object of this Pure Bred Club is to improve the type of farm stock.

Counterfeit $100 Bills

Officials of the Imperial Bank of Canada have issued warnings to the public to the effect that a considerable number of counterfeit notes of the issue dated January 1, 1917, for $100 each, are appearing in circulation throughout parts of Ontario. The face of the counterfeit is black and white with some green, particularly over the one hundred dollars' appearing above the signatures, and the back is a bright green with the words "Imperial Bank of Canada" appearing in a semi circle, and the numerals "100" in large figures horizontally on either side of the device. The matter has been placed in the hands of the proper authorities, and a thorough investigation is being conducted.
