WISHING

Do you wish the world were better? I tell you what to do. Set a watch upon your actions. Always keep them straight and true. Bid your mind of selfish motives. Let your thoughts be clean and high. You can make a little Eden of the sphere you occupy.

Do you wish the world were wiser? Well, suppose you make a start. By accumulating wisdom. In the scrapbook of your heart. Do not waste one page or fully. Live to learn and learn to live. If you want to give men knowledge You must get it ere you give.

Do you wish the world were happier? Then remember day by day. Just to scatter seeds of kindness. As you pass along the way. For the pleasure of the many. May be oftentimes traced to one. As the hand that plants the acorn Shelters armies from the sun.

In the South Land

To change the subject I want to tell you of a couple of fishing trips. Going down to Clearwater one morning Dr. Watson and I climbed aboard a fishing launch and went out to what are called the "Grupper Banks," grupper being a species of sea bass that grow to quite a good size. We sailed out into the Gulf of Mexico about 15 miles under our engine power. Arriving on the banks and the anchor down, we were furnished with hand lines about the size of ordinary wire clothes lines, but of cotton-tyne linen. Baiting with part of a carp fish, we cast in and a few minutes later the hook was set. There was scarce a time when someone was not hauling one in, and sometimes we would have three or four on one line at the same time. They weigh from sixteen pounds, they weigh the weight of one that I got. I was using the short rod and wire line that I used in Muskoka for salmon and had quite a fight with the big one. We fished about four hours and took in 400 lbs of fish. We each took what fish we wanted and the boatman sold the rest to the fish house. We enjoyed this outing very much as it was a new experience for us. I am told that after a trip out there of it is as if the fish are too easily caught.

Last week I went out with an old fisherman from here. We were after king fish which are also called horse mackerel. They are a very gummy fish and travel in schools. If you hit them you can fill your boat. They run from 8 to 15 lbs. They run up into the Gulf of Mexico about this time of year and we were told that some had been got at Sarasota about 40 miles south of here. We travelled around all day, using a line about the same as hand line in grupper fishing with an artificial silver spoon about 6 inches long. Although we went down the coast about 20 miles we did not find a King fish but did get some large grupper on the trolis. The boat was moving along about 10 miles per hour so you can imagine the jolt it would give you when a 20 lb. grupper would hook himself. The first one nearly pulled me out of the boat before the boatman could slow down and after that he tied my line to the side of the boat and all I had to do was keep my fingers on the line to feel when the fish struck the bait. We all went and to stop the boat to take in the fish. We got about 20 fish this day, about 200 lbs. On this trip we saw a very large turtle which we tried to capture but he went down before we could get a harpoon into him. He was bigger around than the largest walrus I ever saw and the captain said he would weigh 400 lbs.

The St. Louis Browns' Baseball team is training here and we have watched them work out quite often and have seen them play a team with the Brooklyn team. They sure play snappy ball. Recently we have taken up golf and the boys and I have some interesting games over the 9 hole course here. The fact that you may run into a rattler or the deadly moccasins make while looking for lost balls adds zest to the occasion.

While working a few days ago Roaf killed a cotton mouth moccasin measuring 4 1/2 ft. long. This snake will kill you quicker than the rattler if he gets you. All the engineers on road work carry first aid hypodermic and drugs for injection into the wound if bitten.

Well Mr. Editor, I guess I will close now. If your readers care for any more from the Sunny South you can let me know and I will try to find something interesting to write about.

While I am writing this I am listening to an orchestra up in Detroit playing dance music. Coming in very fine.

With kind regards to all old friends in Georgetown—Frank J. Barber.

Eggs with brown shells command the highest price in Boston while New York prefers the white shelled product. The average consumer is more concerned about age than color schemes.

Ballinalad

The farmers of this community are busy plowing and preparing for seeding.

We are glad to see Miss Ira Hill back to her home on the 8th line after her illness, at her daughter's, Mrs. Joe Allen's.

Quite a number of the lady friends and neighbors gathered last Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Angus McLean on the ninth line and spent a social time and presented her with a clock before moving to her new home in Ballinalad.

Mrs. D. J. Sinclair spent a few days last week with her mother, Mrs. J. W. Bart of Coningsby, who is ill.

Erin

Mr. H. C. Austin, proprietor of Stanley Park, is making preparations for the coming summer's sport. In this connection, for the season on May 25th, under a program of horse races and field sports will be held with a dance at night.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wrigglesworth and two sons, Edgar and Clarence, Townline, spent Sunday with Mrs. Wrigglesworth's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Blitt, at Aceton. Fifty four years ago, April 5, Mr. and Mrs. Elliott were united in marriage and the family celebrated the fifty-fourth anniversary quietly on the Lord's Day. The old couple received congratulations from a wide circle of friends on the occasion.—Advocate.

Dairy Cow Competition

Over one hundred dollars in prizes is being offered by the National Cow Testing Association in their special production dairy cow competition which will be completed at the Georgetown Fall Fair in October.

There will be prizes for both whole milk sellers and those who sell cream. The first prize in each class will be $25, a second, third and perhaps fourth prize will be also given. Any cow of any breed or of good grade will be eligible. Entries should be made at once as no entries can be received after May 5th.

All particulars will be gladly furnished by Mr. Howell, the proprietor of the association, or by Mr. Saxe of the Georgetown Creamery.
