Farm Notes. Improved breeding is urgently needed in dairy herds. Most dairymen feed and house their cattle in a manner that is worthy of much better cattle than they are keeping. Emclent cows, efficiently fed and housed, are the dairyman's economic salvation. The most successful dairymen are breeders and improvers of dairy

While silage is an excellent feed for dairy stock, it should be combined with some leguminous feed, such as clover, cowpeas, or alfalfa, owing to its insufficient productive quality. The leguminous material will tend to correct the deficiencies of the sligge in dry matter, protein, and mineral constituents.

The dairyman's motto is: "Producllon first"; and every cow, pure-bred or grade, must produce and keep us. because we can't afford to keep her. This is one reason why some pure bred breeders shun cow testing assoclations. They are afraid of their records; afraid some of their cows are not paying for their feed or afraid some grade cow will step too fast for them.
