

THE LITTLE ROAD TO NOWHERE

The little road to nowhere
Is the road for you and me,
The little road to nowhere
That runs beside the sea,
Between the sea and mountains
Where birds the silence break,
The little road to nowhere
Is the road we long to take.

The little road to nowhere
That lies beside a stream,
The little road to nowhere
That leads us to a dream,
To where a dream awaits us,
A dream we've sought in vain,
The little road to nowhere
That runs past wood and plain.

The little road to nowhere
That runs past lake and mountains,
Past farm and town and tree,
It leads to where the sunset
Is soundless in the sky.

To where no envy whispers,
No grief or hate can hurt,
The little road to nowhere,
Where peace and silence are.

This world is far too earnest,
Is far too grim and cold,
Too full of petty warfare,
Too bitter and too old.

But we'll be young forever!
Because so well we know
The little road to nowhere,
The road all wise folks go!

Monster Tuna Taken in Canadian Waters

As a writer of stirring tales of the states in the early days, Zane Grey has made an enviable record for himself, but now along he comes with another—a fish story—and better still, presents the proof in photograph, so that his yarn does not take on the semblance of a dream or a good bit of story-telling.

Tuna, weighing nearly half a ton, are the reward of ambitious anglers who fish in Nova Scotia waters, particularly in St. Ann's Bay, off Cape Breton. Three mammoth tuna have been taken from this locality, each holding the world's record in turn. Captain Laure D. Mitchell's 710 pound tuna held a record for a number of years, till along came J. K. Le Ross of Montreal, well known as an owner of racing horses, director of the Canadian Pacific Railway and his skill as a fisherman. He landed a tuna after a 3 1/2 hours' fight, that measured 9 ft. and 2 in. in length, and 8 ft. in girth, and tipped the scales at 712 lbs. thus winning the honour of record tuna fishing from Captain Mitchell by 2 lbs.

His record seemed secure, when along in August, 1924, came Zane Grey and his brother, R. C. Grey, to catch big tuna. They used a Nova Scotia-built schooner, and their little craft admirably adapted to their plans and needs. They got

TORONTO STABLE EQUIPMENT

Rust-Defying—Because Hot Galvanized

There's one feature in particular you'll appreciate about Toronto Stable Equipment. This is the fact that the "hot" galvanizing method we use thoroughly covers and completely coats both the inside and outside of the steel tubing with pure zinc spelter. This method makes it absolutely rust-defying and proof against strong acids for the maximum period—while the method ordinarily used simply applies a surface coating and goes only a short distance inside tubing.

Toronto Stable Equipment will make work easier—keep cattle healthier—bring more profits. Let me explain the many advantages of Toronto Steel, Bull Pens, Water Bowls and Litter Carriers—of get some of the Toronto literature.
