TO PRESERVE THE EGG

MAY BE KEPT FRESH WITHOUT COLD STORAGE.

Water Glass and Lime Water May Be Used-When to Preserve-Packing -Don't Feed Carcases to Live

A household economy well worth . while may be pratciced by all housewives during the period when eggs are most abundant and cheap. The high prices generally ruling during the period October to March puts the youd the reach of people with limited incomes. However, all may have eggs for winter use by putting down a few dozen in a suitable preservative medium, and thereby supplying the need during the period of scarcity. It does not pay to put down more than enough to tide over the period of high prices.

Water Glass-or Sodium Bilicate is one of the most useful substances that can be used in preparing a suitable medium for preserving eggs in good condition for all household purposes. liquid that may be purchased at drug or grocery stores. The proper proportion is one part of water glass to ten parts of water. '(Use water that has been bolled and cooled). Should the eggs float, and they are known to be absolutely fresh, add a little

This is a very successful preservative medium, easily prepared by slaking three pounds of good lump add the milk of lime thus formed to , three gallons of water. One-quarter pound of salt may be added. Keep the mixture well stirred for the day and then allow to settle. Pour off and use the clear liquid only. Put the eggs into the cleaf liquid and Time to Preserve Eggs.

Lime Water.

During April and early May eggs ere usually cheapest, and it also happens that the best quality eggs are eggs keep better than summer or autumn laid eggs. What to Preserve.

Only the absolutely fresh, clean, unwashed, sound-shelled eggs will keep. If you have to buy eggs for preserving it is advisable to candle hem before putting down, unless you have absolute confidence in the person supplying them. Any egg that floats should be discarded. Eggs with shrunken contents, cracked shells, watery content or dirty shells if put in the preservative will be useless when they come out, and they will also spoil everything that they touch while in the preservative.

Sultable Containers. Earthenware, or glass crocks. wooden tubs or casks may be used. Avoid metal containers. A vessel of six gallon sixe will hold 20 dozen eggs, usually enough for a family. Whatever is used it must be clean and sweet, eggs will quickly take up any taint. Better scald vessel before the eggs go ln.

Packing. Place the eggs in the yessel, small end down, and pour the solution of waterglass or lime over them. If you are putting in-a few each day then all the crock half full of liquid and place the eggs when gathered, having at least two inches of liquid above the eggs at all times. Store in a cool well-ventilated basement. .
- Three gallons of either the lime or water glass solutions will preserve 20 dozen eggs. The water glass cost will be about two cents per dozen eggs; lime is a little cheaper. Cooking Qualities.

Eggs preserved by lime or waterglass solutions can be used for nearly all cooking purposes as cakes, custards or omelettes .- L. Stevenson, Dept. of Extension, O. A. College, osses From Feeding Carcases to Live Stock. Failure to destroy by burning or burying deeply the carcases of animals that die from various causes frequently results in considerable oss to the neglectful party or other people of the district. Pigs, dogs, cate and carrion birds will carry infection from a carcase over the neighborhood, may become infected themselves and thereby widen the circle of infestation. In a recent investigation it was brought to light that a man lost eighty chickens from disease. He admitted throwing the dead chickens into the pens where the broud sows were enclosed, and having dumped the cleanings from the chicken house in the bog yard. The sows and their progeny developed tuberculosis, which proved to be the avian type. A test for avian tuberculosis was appited to the poultry flock, and it, too, was found to be infested. If anything dies, don't use it for pig feed. Bury or burn. Keep the dog and cat away from all carcases and offal, as bacteria which may be virulent and parasite eggs or larvae are almost sure to be present. The application of fire is the best means of destroying animals and birds that may die from any cause.

The Ewe and the Lamb. If possible, keep the ewe and the tamb in a separate pen for a few days after lambing. If each ewe canthose having lambs at about the same time should be kept together.
