BEYOND THE DARK

I'm stepping out into the dark to-night!
The unknown dark, the end of pain
Shall I at mystery solve of death and life.
And all earth's problems, when I pass the dark to-night?
And when beyond the veil I see that land,
Will it seem fair and dear to me as this?
That I have loved and fought for?
Will I miss
My own, when past the veil I see that land?
And when the dark gives place to clearer day,
Shall all the beauty of the earth and sea
And glorious sky, that meant so much to me,
Be mine no more, when dark gives place to day?
Will there be those with outstretched joyous hand,
That I loved long since in mine own land,
To welcome me from shadows into light?
I'm stepping out into the dark to-night!
This life, so full and dear, is over—
With all its love, and war, and toiling. Now at last
God calls! I step with him into the dark to-night!
— Elizabeth Cameron.

Poison Ivy

Year after year as folks fare forth to camp or summer cottage interest in poison ivy revives. Many have yet to learn to recognize these low, bushy, slightly woody-stemmed plants, rising from long rootstocks at or just below ground level, and bearing the characteristic leaves of triple, smoothish, pointed leaflets, and frequently the old clusters of round, whitish fruits beneath them.
Failing to recognize and avoid the plants, many people, susceptible to poisoning, find themselves presently interested in remedies. Few seem to be aware that on contact with the weed, or even with shoes, tools, etc., that have been in contact, they should promptly remove all traces of its virulent oil by freely lathering the skin with strong soap, and rinsing under hot running, or constantly changed water. Inflammation resulting from unsuspected exposure, or neglect of the above precautions, may be relieved by applying solutions of baking soda or Epsom salts, one or two teaspoonfuls to a cup of water with bandaging. Various elaborate treatments are offered which are seldom any more helpful, or so readily available.
It is surprising how few efforts are made to clean up ivy from constantly frequented public and private grounds. Though eradication is bound to be laborious, there are plenty of people who could safely work at it. In hard or rocky ground, wherever injury to the soil does not matter, dry salt or strong lime might be applied before spring growth commences. Small patches have thus been cleared up at one operation, which would have required repeated spraying—Herbert Groh, Botanical Division, Central Experimental Farm.

Swan Boat Destroyed

The Lake Placid swan boat is no more. The ill-fated craft that caused so much sorrow in this city on the evening of Monday, July 9, was consigned to the flames by William Stoner, the builder, Saturday morning. The boat was burned on the side of the lake embankment within a few yards of where the disaster occurred.—St. Thomas Journal.

No Change This Year

It was decided by the committee on the Pool-Hall Old People's Home, visiting that institution last week, that no changes will be made in the House this year. Plans have been drawn up to give improved dormitory accommodation to the older women, and to afford better storage for fruit and vegetables. However, the committee did not think it wise to undertake the work this year.
Attacked by Clucking Hen
While in the barnyard Wednesday morning last, Helen, the two year old daughter of George Harp, of Trafalgar, was attacked by a clucking hen and received painful injuries to her head and eyes. After flying on the child the hen pecked away furiously, making several cuts on her forehead and tore the flesh away from her right eye. The arrival of her mother saved the little girl from more serious injury.
Accused of Hitting Ballif
Thomas Craig, middle-aged and wealthy bachelor farmer of Mono Township, went to Orangeville on Wednesday by horse and buggy. On a judgment debt the outfit was seized by Bailiff Joseph Hughes. Craig flew into a rage when forced to pay the money and severely punched Hughes. Provincial Constable Herbert R. Doolan and Chief of Police William Marshall arrested Craig, and he appeared before Police Magistrate Hugh Falconer, charged with assault. He was released on $2000 bail to appear again on July 23rd.
Judgement Issued
Declaration that the transfer of property located in the village of Norval from Thomas Hewson to George Nellis is fraudulent and void is contained in a judgment issued today (July 9th) by Mr. Justice Kelly at Orangeville. The conveyance of a residence is set aside and declaration made that Nellis holds the lands in trust for Hewson. The transfer of property to George Elwin Perryman of lands also situated in the village of Norval was allowed to stand, the action against Perryman being dismissed on the ground, Mr. Kelly says, that "I am not certain that Perryman was knowingly a party to fraud in the transaction as was Nellis in the other transaction."

Bryan Family Re-Union

What proved to be a decided success was the first Family Reunion Picnic of the Bryan connection when approximately two hundred and twenty-five descendants of the late Robert, Thomas and John Bryan gathered at Stanley Park, Egan, on Saturday, June 27th. Families gathered from all points of the compass, coming from Aurora, Newmarket, Georgetown, Aurora, Newmarket, Toronto, Mono Mills, Orangeville, Schomberg, Tottenham and Hillsburg to enjoy a social day together. After lunch, which was served in the dining hall of the Park, sports were enthusiastically indulged in by the members of the younger generation, soft ball and boating proving the most interesting.
About 4 p.m. all congregated in the pavilion where some short addresses were given and the business of the reunion transacted. Prizes were given to the oldest lady and gentleman in attendance and these were awarded to Mrs. John Bradley of Hornby and Mr. Hugh Morrison of Georgetown, respectively. After the business had been finished the young people spent the remainder of the day very enjoyably in dancing. Mrs. Binns of Newmarket playing the piano.
It was decided to make the reunion an annual affair and the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:—President, Mr. Joe Bryan, Laurel; Vice President, Mr. John Lynn, Schomberg; Treasurer, Mr. Hugh Morrison, Georgetown; Secretary, Mrs. Clarence Marchant, Schomberg; with an assisting committee composed of Miss Della McKinley, Schomberg, Miss Gladys Harrup, Norval, and Miss Ella Wolfe, Waldemar.—Orangeville Banner.

Notes and Comments

ONE OF THE admitted causes of the failure of farmers as a class to reap the full benefit of their industry is the spread that exists between what the grower pays and what the consumer receives. In an effort to overcome this handicap the special committee of the Legislature, which has been considering the subject, recommends the creation of a marketing commission. Grain growers of the west and fruit growers of the Niagara peninsula have tried this plan for themselves, and if it can be applied on a provincial or a national scale to all classes of produce it may prove of incalculable benefit to the agriculture community.
