We Owe It To Ourselves and To Our Customers

— to have banking relations only with people of good repute who are honest and prompt in their business obligations.

— to make a fair profit on the service we render to customers so that the bank can grow in strength and usefulness.

— to make loans with the utmost care and upon approved security to the end that the funds of the bank and its depositors will be safely and constructively employed.

It is to the interest of every depositor that we strictly observe these principles without which no bank can be strong and permanently helpful.

* BIRD FALLS

T hunter fired a gun with telling skill. His mark a bird, which fluttered to a rest in a tree and died without complaint or sound.

A fluff of feathers and an open bill.
The relic of this speck of life, a thrill
The lesson on earth, where cruel fates abide.

A tiny bit of energy aground,
A gem of beauty lost, a voice now
still,

Yet Truth and Beauty will reflect Until the headdress are it vanquished through.

And blood lust shall be vanquished When men will learn for sport shall sense the wrong.

And know the shot that stops the finch's flight.

Kills not a bird, but more—a Song.
