

THE DAY CHEERILY

When a new day comes to greet you, Rise to meet it with a smile—
 Every task it brings will lighten,
 And the journey, long and tiring,
 Will be shorter and much brighter
 If you start the day with cheer.

If you wake to grouse and grumble,
 And to wince as you crawl or frown, Crossing bridges ere you reach them Will most surely let you down.
 Be the clouds all dark and gloomy,
 And the outlook sad and dreary,
 You will see some gleam of sunshine
 If you start the day with cheer.

Other folks have got their troubles, Everyone must have his share, Don't be fretting over troubles that you may not have to bear.
 Face the new-born day with gladness,
 Meet its task with hope, not fear, Joy is waiting round the corner
 if you start the day with cheer.
 —Alice Wise.

NEVER BEFORE in Canada has the opening of Parliament excited so much preliminary interest and speculation. While the whips have been busy allotting seats and office space to 118 new members, the public has been waiting for opening day, January 7th, with some impatience, eager to see what the test vote will bring forth. The session of a Speaker will be the first work of the House, but this is not expected to produce a division, as Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux will be chosen unanimously. On Friday His Excellency will deliver the Address from the Throne, and if record practice is followed Parliament will adjourn until Monday, when the debate on the address will begin.
 There have been occasions—has not in recent years—when the debate began the same day as the address, but this is unlikely in the present instance. In this debate some one will move, probably Mr. Meighan, an amendment challenging the authority of the Government, continuing in effect. It is on this amendment that the test of strength is expected. If, however, the debate on the address starts on Friday, it is quite possible that the test will come upon motion by a Conservative member for adjournment over the week-end. The composition of the House on the day of opening will be: Conservatives 116, Liberals 101, from which there must be a deduction of one for Speaker; Progresives 12, Independent Progressives 12, and one Independent, Henri Bourassa.

Call for Halton Pastor
 Rev. Robert McDermott, M.A., pastor of Halton Presbyterian Church, 1100 North of Millers, has accepted the unanimous call to the Presbyterian congregations of Bowmanville and Newtonville.
