FORGET IT

By Grace E. Hall

Why live it twice? If once you fail and fall, Forget it when the sun has set that night. Close that account and strive but to fail. Whatever it is let it be a ray of light; When habit seeks to lure you to look back. And live again in memory that day. You'll prove your growing strength of show it MEN. As you pass on—of later by the way. Why live it over? If it were sad, forget it! Your memory is a torture you may kill; The task is not an easy one, and yet there is a remedy in force of will; If wrong were done, and you the act must cure. The sooner you forget, the best for you. Why dwell with it? That but makes it worse. Not once, but many times, you live it through. Why linger by the bier of those dead things? That never more can come again to you. If you regret, then conquer well the sting; Not that you poison still another day. How clean and fresh the wonderful morning's dawn! New hopes, new aims, and always one new dawn. To try again, rebuilding what is gone; With knowledge that shall present strength of crown.

—B. C. Oddfellow.

CAMP CEDARVALE

"Holidays"—the very word sends a thrill up your back. No, they are not here yet, but we can see them coming over the horizon. Four short weeks to be exact. What do holidays suggest to you? Do they suggest a free time or an opportunity of personal improvement? Remember, time spent in idleness is never regained. Plan how to use your vacation weeks to the best advantage. A summer camp is a splendid place to spend a part of your vacation; time spent at a good camp is valuable spent for it will leave an indelible mark upon your character. The activities of an organized camp cannot be added to your fund of knowledge, as well as to your physical fitness. The placid waters of a beautiful lake or river reflecting the silvery moonbeams and the dancing sparks of the campfire draws one's eye to the realm of God. "Would you like to be one of the hundreds of C.S.E.T. boys of this province who will enjoy the wonders of camp life this summer? Would you like to come to Cedarvale, the best County Camp on the banks of the winding Green and splash and swim in the clear water, eat the good grub with the appetite that only a beautiful lake or river can give? Would you like to be one of the hundreds of C.S.E.T. boys of this province who will enjoy the wonders of camp life this summer? Would you like to come to Cedarvale, the best County Camp on the banks of the winding Green and splash and swim in the clear water, eat the good grub with the appetite that only a beautiful lake or river can give? Would you like to be one of the hundreds of C.S.E.T. boys of this province who will enjoy the wonders of camp life this summer? INTERESTING LETTER FROM FAR-AWAY CHINA

The following letter to the boys and girls of Georgetown United Church Sunday School from Miss Emily Caldwell, a former member of the school and daughter of Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Caldwell, Georgetown, who went to China some months ago as a missionary, will prove quite interesting to our readers:

Chengde, Sze, Apr. 17 '26
United Sunday School,
Georgetown, Ont.

Dear Girls and Boys: I have attended Sunday School that this opening makes me rather homesick. Across Canada and on the steamer we didn't have a chance. Then travelling up river was the same except at Chungking.

Here on Christmas eve I went with Santa Claus to visit the W.M.S. Chinese Girls' home. We entered a room in the centre of which was a large Christmas tree beautifully trimmed with tinsel and candles. Now you will be thinking, why that is just like Canada. But listen! Around that tree, hopping, jumping and singing, were little people, young boys and girls and short coats with braids of hair down their backs. These were Chinese girls. Oh! if only you could have seen their eyes! Santa Claus came into the room. He carried a huge pack on his back, with both arms full of stockings. Each of the kind of justice handed out by some of the police magistrates. Mr. Justice Middleton, in releasing a man from the Ontario reformatory the other day, declared that some of the magistrates were likely to get into serious trouble. This man in question, according to the judge, had "a very serious grievance." The fact that he had already spent over two months in the reformatory before the judge discovered that he had no right to be there at all, might certainly be regarded as constituting a serious grievance. Evidently even in Canada the human element is not taken into consideration in the administration of justice, and human judgment is sometimes very fallible.

WILLIAM ABOLISH CADETS

The Hamilton Conference of the United Church on Monday, May 24th, went on record as favouring the militarization of all physical drill in Canada, especially that in force in our schools. It urged the Government to abolish cadet training in the educational system.

Introduced by Rev. M. E. Conron and J. M. Denyes, the resolution, which was adopted unanimously, follows:—"We believe in a warlike spirit and dedicate ourselves to its achievement. We undertake to explore and accept all roads of courage and wisdom which lead to the goal of demilitarizing the mind as well as eradicating from the heart all roots of bitterness and strife. Therefore, we believe that the training of our young men for war is contrary to the spirit of Christ and it is resolved that we take steps to discontinue all the officers' training corps in the colleges of the United Church and that we urge the Government to abolish cadet training in the public educational system of the Dominion."

Mr. Conron who said he served overseas for four years and rose from the rank of private to that of Captain, thought he was qualified to speak regarding war. The argument that military drill made for obedience fell to the ground, Mr. Conron said, when he put to an actual test. The only obedience it made for, he continued, was obedience to brass buttons and to hats, and not to the great ideals of peace for which the Empire stands.

Mr. Conron also attacked the argument that the training of our young men should be in the military line. He said, and sought to color the minds of young boys with military ideas. The resolution will be forwarded to the General Council of the United Church.

The Haltion and Peel Agricultural Societies and those of Burlington, Georgetown and Strathville were represented. Officers were heard from by telephone. There was a profitable discussion of matters connected with the fair, and a circuit was arranged, so that there will be no overlapping, the same horses can trot and pace at all, anti-special attractions can be secured by all. The rate of admission was fixed at 35 cents. There will be co-operation in advertising. Mr. Fleming was elected President, and A. L. MacNabb, Secretary, both provisional. Organization will be completed and officers elected at a meeting which will be held shortly.

Haltion Man for Lieut.-Governor

Hon. T. C. Norris, veteran leader of the Provincial Liberal party, and former Premier of Manitoba, has been offered the Lieut.-Governorship of the Province, in official succession to Sir James Aikins, it was officially learned on Monday of last week. Following a conference with members of the Bracken Government, it is understood, Mr. Norris requested a few more days before giving his decision. Mr. Norris is a son of the late Arthur Norris, of Trafalgar. He was born at Omagh.

New Road Map of Ontario

The Hon. George S. Henry, Minister of Highways, has authorized the publication of a new road map of Ontario for the use of motorists and tourists. Inquiries have been coming in for the past two weeks from fishing parties from Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York, asking for information about roads and fishing grounds. The new map will have all the provincial highways in red, the lake and waterways in blue, while the hunting and camping grounds will be over-printed in red. The country roads will also be designated by numbers. Lakes, cities, towns and villages will be easily found from the alphabetical list on the back of the map. The maps are to be sold at a nominal price.

Notes and Comments

"NO 'TRESPASSING'" signs are becoming more numerous on Ontario farms. Maybe the farmer is just beginning to realize what would happen to him if he took the notion some day to roam around the back ends of city lots.

IN REFLECTING upon the conduct and actions of many of the young people of to-day, one seems to be naturally inclined to ask of them: "How much is your self-respect worth? Some young persons evidently hold it cheap. The boy who cheats to pass his examinations has parted with his most precious possession for a song. The girl who does her commissions as doing, though she violates her conscience, tells her self-respect for almost nothing. No one is rich who cannot respect himself, even though he is rated as a millionaire. No one is poor who has retained his self-respect, although paying his last bill took his last dollar. Hold fast to your self-respect, for to lose it means that you have made a bad bargain, regardless of what is paid you, or what your present gain.

WHILE SOME judges are complained of by interested parties and boards and pardoning powers with sentences passed on people convicted of offenses against the law, other judges are pronounced as being of justice handed out by some of the police magistrates. Mr. Justice Middleton, in releasing a man from the Ontario reformatory the other day, declared that some of the magistrates were likely to get into serious trouble. This man in question, according to the judge, had "a very serious grievance." The fact that he had already spent over two months in the reformatory before the judge discovered that he had no right to be there at all, might certainly be regarded as constituting a serious grievance. OBITUARY

Wm. J. Carrique
Even though in his ninety-sixth year, Wm. J. Carrique of Oakville was around his home and grounds until quite recently. He was a remarkably active man for his great age and his memory was as clear and active as at forty. However, the end came quietly during Tuesday night of last week. The funeral, which was held Thursday afternoon, with interment in St. Jude's Cemetery, Mr. Carrique had a very wide acquaintance among Haltionians, having been born and spent all his long life in the county. In turn he lived in Nelson, in Milton, in Georgetown, and in Oakville. He was born in the village of Nelson, a son of William Carrique and Margaret O'Connor. He was the oldest member of St. John's United Church, and had lived in retirement in Oakville for the past 20 years. Predeceased by his wife five years ago, he is survived by five daughters: Mrs. E. J. Tait, Oakville; Mrs. Neelam Hensand and Mrs. W. D. Begg, Toronto; Mrs. R. E. Weir and Mrs. F. H. Johns, of Toronto.
