A PLEA FOR STRENGTH

I put not certain of the right,
But surely mark'd as wrong;
And so I make a prayer at night:
"Lord, help me to be strong!"
I grope for truth and seek to find
Some fact and some belief;
All hope must flicker out,
To dare to be the thing I dream!
Yet I might fight for it, and seem
Still more and more away.
And none can tell me, shall it end
In victory or despair?
If only I could see the end,
I know how that will end.
That way will lead me to despair,
To folly's tragic road,
And so I make a prayer at night:
"Lord, help me to be strong!"

CEMETERY PLOTS ARE CARED FOR FOREVER

The Board of the Aylmer Cemetery feel deeply grateful to the plot owners who are so promptly ready to year to year to the call sent out for contributions. Their hearty and generous response has made it possible from 1925 to the time to beautify and care for the last resting place of departed loved ones, and the Aylmer Cemetery has consequently become one of the finest in the province.
Some years ago the Board introduced an arrangement whereby those who desired might in one payment of $50.00 insure the proper care of their plots for all time to come. A perpetuity fund was established, and the money thus received is carefully and safely invested, the revenue received being used exclusively for the keeping up of the plots concerned.
This plan has met with much favor, and is becoming more and more popular as plot owners understand it better. The Board is told by many that they have made provision for perpetual care of their plots in their wills.
The president, secretary, or any member of the Board will be glad to explain in detail to all who may desire to obtain the information. It places the responsibility for the care of your plot forever on the Cemetery Board, and is an absolute assurance that your plot will never be neglected.
—Aylmer Express.

BAND A GREAT ASSET

A band—what a vast number of purposes it serves! It is indispensable to any town for fairs, excursions, public holidays, grand parties and festivities of every kind. A band draws the public to these gatherings and fills the spirit that is so necessary to make the event a success. It brings the townpeople together and unites the public in a common purpose. Of course it boasts the town! As an advertisement it is recognized everywhere that a band is one of the best assets a municipality can have.
A band is a real character builder for the youth who largely comprise it. The daily practice and frequent, regular rehearsals which make it possible to have a band possible, teach them discipline, co-operation and exactness, as well as providing excellent musical training and genuine enjoyment.
Bandmen stand out as leading public-spirited citizens. They feel a well justified pride in their organization and on public occasions are willing to be on hand from early until late, heading processions and giving concerts in the hot sun, while others look on and enjoy the merriment and the sound of their own instruments.
If there is a band the young men cease to long to go to the city and are willing to stay at home and work in their own municipal industries. Thus the band does much to stabilize industry.
Surely a band is one of the most valuable assets a town can have and worth many times the cost of its upkeep.

ACTON

Chief McPherson has his "eye skinned" for boys and men who persist in riding their bicycles on the cement walks. The by-law says $2.00 and costs.
Messrs. C. C. Henderson and C. H. Harrison went to Ottawa on Monday to attend the opening ceremonies of the Ottawa Centenary Celebration on Parliament Hill.
The sympathy of the community is extended to Mrs. D. C. Russell, upon the added sorrow of the loss of her father, Mr. Charles Young, President of the Algoma Fire Insurance Company, at Richard's Landing last week.
The Mercury Trophy, which has been in Acton since July 1st, was recaptured on Monday night by a Guelph Howling Tab rank skipper, from St. John's. The game was clear all through until the end, when Guelph broke away and won by six shots.
The Acton quartette was spotted by Gunner Gould.
Mr. Gavin Nicklin, brother of the late Mrs. Alexander H. Brown, arrived in town last week to visit with friends here. Mr. Nicklin has been in the Western States for fourteen years and fifty years. His birthplace was at Aberfoyle. His visit is proving to him that Canada is a very fine country and good enough for a home for anyone.—Free Press.

Noxious Weeds

Many of the country roads present a melancholy picture at this season. Noxious weeds, and one troublesome to think of, are the great abundance of weeds that will be scattered over the farms to commence next year. The municipal council should adopt something to destroy the noxious weeds that destroy so many of our roads.
Traffic boxes that it has reduced auto speed and drunken driving almost to nil by the imposition of prison sentences. There must be a lot of poor lawyers in Detroit when there are so many prison sentences.

THE HOME: TOO OFTEN NO LONGER A HOME

That's a somewhat startling headline, isn't it? But it was intended to attract attention because it carries with it a thought worthy of serious consideration.
During the summer months many new homes are started; but how they develop is uncertain. Some of them, undoubtedly, will develop into everything a home should be—a place to live in and a place to love; but others will develop into a place to get away from.
The piano has done much toward making the home a place to live in and a place to love, but other things have made other places seem more desirable than home. Restlessness seems to have become a positive national malady. To speak frankly, while we freely admit the many blessings derived from the automobile, we feel that it has been a somewhat detrimental factor toward the consolidation of home life.
It has been said that "the good home is the strongest unit of any nation." We believe in this statement. It is true. Grant the truth of this statement, it naturally follows that anything that will tend to make a home more beautiful, more attractive, a place not only to sleep in, but to dwell in; a place not only for a shelter, but for a personal source of joy—that thing is very worthy of the home.
Yes, it's music we have in mind—music and instruments of music.
The home should not be a place to get away from; it should be a place to stay in, a place to live in, and a place to love and music will aid the joy and happiness and contentment that should be found in every home in the nation.

ERIN

One day last week when Mr. John Gingrick was working at Mr. Fred McCreary's house, he fell through the floor into the cellar. In the fall his right arm was badly torn on a nail, necessitating several stitches.
Mrs. John Eagles left on Wednesday morning for Saskatoon, Sask., where her parents and sisters were the victims of a motor accident, when their car was hit by a train. Fortunately there were no serious injuries, but a severe shaking up, a sister having several bones fractured and may be internally injured.
Mrs. John Wheeler, accompanied by Messrs. Earl Jackson, J. McClure, Stanley Strower and Elgin Sinclair, left on Monday morning for Saskatoon, Sask. Mr. Wheeler is driving his Ford touring car and the party intend to take jobs in the harvest in the West, returning by motor in the fall. It will be quite an experience for the party.—Aylmer.

Health of the Same Mind

A traveller in Scotland observed an old couple arguing in the road, and asked the cause of the dispute. "We're no disputin' at all," answered the old man. "We're laith of the same mind. I have got a half crown in my pouch, an' I think ahe, no gran to get it—an' I think ahe, same."

Notes and Comments

WHAT a commentary on human nature, with a reflection on the minds and souls of those created only a little lower than the angels, that nowhere in the animal world there are mindless and wanton cruelty comparable to that of which man is perpetually guilty. True, man is capable of heights not to be reached by his most loyal and intelligent dumb animal friend; it is not less true that he can sink to a lower level than the worst of them.

ACCORDING TO A REPORT MADE TO

Hon. Dr. Forbes Godfrey, Ontario Minister of Health, 610,640 units of insulin were distributed from the Provincial Government laboratories during the month of June. Total cost of such distribution was $9,747, at an average cost of $5.19 for the 529 patients receiving treatment. The average cost shows a steady decrease with each month's report. Some months ago the cost was over $6 per unit. Distribution is made from the various Government laboratories all over the Province.
PENNY postage is misunderstood by many people and almost daily at the post office explanations have to be made. The idea has got abroad that the return of penny postage means a return to the rates that prevailed on all classes of mail matters before the war. This is not the case, letter postage alone being effected. It still costs two cents to post a card and two cents to post a letter addressed to a party in town. Posting one-cent cards with messages written on them is causing most of the trouble. These cards will incur a penalty of two cents to the receiver at the other end.

"DISTANT FIELDS" LOOK GREEN.

This is especially true of a young man starting out in life. All too often he feels that to make a success in life he must go away from home—far away in fact. Some distant city, some far off country, he imagines holds the big opportunity for him to make a great success of life. And, straining his eyes to see, he thinks he sees the golden opportunity lying immediately in front of him in his own town and in his own hands. But the young man is not the only one to err in that regard. Shops in other towns and cities are thought to be better than our own. It is easy to believe that an out-of-town clergyman can always preach better than the faithful man who ministers here every Sunday; that some far-away doctor can work wonders of healing that the family physician cannot be expected to do; that some other country has a climate far superior to our own. And it sometimes takes years of experience and much money to teach us the lesson that distant fields are really no greener than our own.
