Died. AGNEW As Chemist, Strachan, China about 20th of August, 1926. Elizabeth Vivienne Marie, only child of Dr. and Mrs. Agnew, aged one year, six months.

Notes and Comments

PARLIAMENT was in session one hundred and eleven (111) days. The cost at $18,000 a day was practically two million dollars. Nothing of an outstanding importance was done and that vast sum of money was practically wasted.

ALTHOUGH many estimates have been made of the probable results of the election next month, the situation is admittedly a puzzling one and there are many who fear that an election will be held in the latter part of the year, and the results of the campaign may not be much more satisfactory than the last one.

ELECTION matters are still very quiet so far as the country is concerned and we presume the same may be said for other parts of the country. The people are going about as if nothing were going on, and the only election was in sight, and the word is scarcely or never mentioned; except perhaps by those in the inner circles of the different political parties. People are evidently fed up on elections to such an extent that it fails to arouse the enthusiasm, and interest that once characterized the announcement of a general election.

"YOU'RE a Conservative, so why don't you boost the Conservative cause through the columns of the paper?" said a friend of the editor to the editor of this sheet. Well, this paper is a local enterprise, patronized by all the people in the community, irrespective of class, race, or political affiliations, and, although to some it may appear to be rather a spineless attempt to take this sheet on, it is a fair and impartial one to all, and strives to promote harmony and goodwill in the community which it serves. It is every elector's privilege to vote the way he or she pleases, but it is a duty that no one should shirk. Voters should pay no attention to last minute rumors or whisperings circulated by politicians, but should try to get a clear grasp of the political situation. The advertising columns of this paper are open to both political parties, and the pay for it, which is only reasonable when one considers that the publisher, like any other business man, must have revenue in order to live.

FOR the next two weeks our Fall Fair will occupy a prominent place in our minds. The gardener and farmer will be anxiously scanning their respective domains to see what flowers, fruit, grain, stock, vegetables, etc. are fit for exhibition, while the fair housekeeper will be putting the finishing touches to those fancy pieces of needlework, and later may wear herself to a frazzle over the arranging of those toothsome dainties which are a tantalizing torment, not only to the hungry spectator, but more so to the night watchman. Then come the exhibits. They are in addition to exhibits, but perhaps in comparison with the big meets in our large centres, but still sufficient to give us quite a creditable thrill when a finish is close. There and other attractions gather together a large and representative crowd of all sorts and conditions of men and women out for a day's enjoyment, who are glad to meet together for a few hours of friendly intercourse, to view and generally criticize the efforts of one another in the agricultural, horticultural or domestic science line, to talk over old days when the fair "was some fair" can tell you, and in spite of the fact that the pessimists declare the day of the small fair is over, abundantly demonstrate that it is by no means so decadent as some would have us believe, but it is still a rallying point for a renewal of old time friendships, and an encouragement and help to the amateur gardener and his professional companion, the farmer.

Bus Lines Show Development

The demand on the part of the public for convenient, quicker, more frequent as well as comfortable transportation has led them to quickly accept the motor bus. Today a complete network of motor bus lines exist in Ontario. Salesmen, business men, people who are travelling continually have found this means of transportation the most economical and best suited to their needs.
One of the leaders in the establishment of Motor Bus transportation has been the T. K. L. Coach Lines. They have grown rapidly and business has increased steadily each week in the face of constant competition their lines between Toronto, Guelph, Kitchener, Stratford, St. Mary's and London have shown a steady increase beyond the expectations of the management.
They have lived up to their slogan, "A pleasant, comfortable and safe journey" for each of its hundreds of patrons.
The travelling public today demands the best. The T. K. L. has given painstaking attention to every little detail that contributes to their safety, pleasure and comfort.
Nine T. K. L. buses of the latest designs, with neatly upholstered, experienced chauffeurs, now travel over Provincial Highways between the main cities of Ontario. The T. K. Hops For Turnips

A week ago it was feared that the crop of table turnips had been almost completely destroyed by the plague of turnip lice. It is now reported that the situation has improved and that the loss to the farmers will not be as great as was first expected. According to Mr. H. E. Clemens, agricultural Representative for Wellington County, it has improved wonderfully. Farmers claim that the frequent heavy rains of late have materially assisted in the destruction of the aphids which were causing the trouble.

Ostrander Reunion at Huttonville

A unique gathering took place at Huttonville on Tuesday of last week at the home of Mrs. Noah Ostrander, when the eight sons of Mrs. Martha Ostrander met for the first time in 20 years. The sons are: William and Horatio, Georgetown; George, Brampton; Noah, on the homestead; Augustus, Toronto; Andrew, Huttonville; Oscar, Rockwood; Clarence, Edmonton. William, the oldest, is over 60 years, and Clarence, the youngest, who has not been home for eight years, and in whose honor the gathering was held, is 40 years. The father, the late W. B. Ostrander, was the son of James Ostrander, a veteran of the War of 1812, and the homestead was drawn by Mrs. Ostrander's mother, as a U.E. Loyalist. Mr. Ostrander and his wife were cousins, the latter being a daughter of the Ostrander, of Huttonville, another pioneer, she being born near the village 81 years ago. Twenty-four guests enjoyed the reunion, parting with many sincere wishes for a similar gathering at a near date.

Chicken-stealing on a large scale continues in Nelson Township. Colin Dyma, Middle Road, had 17 prize chickens stolen. The situation is alarming.
