LIFE

A little laughter, and a time for tears,
A stretch of duty and an hour for play
'Tis thus we march life journey through the years
From baby curls to tresses thin and gray

A friend or two whose faith in us remains;
A roof where love has sheltered every dream,
Has counted all its losses and its gains—
These make the fabric of life's noblest scheme.

I saw a game played with a crowd of boys:
Men gave them wire and string and nails and tin
And said "A prize to him who best employs
These useless things and brings his product in."

Then from those trivial bits grew ships a-sail—
One lad the model of a castle made
And there I saw us all, who aim, who fail,
Although 'twas but a game the youngsters played.

Life gives us bits of joys and bits of cares
And bids us fashion something as a whole,
We choose our own design, and if it bears
The stamp of merit — God rewards the soul

Edgar A. Guest.

NORVAL SCHOOL FAIR

Splendid Success — Large Exhibit — Good Attendance.

Something new in School Fairs, started last year, was carried out again this year at Norval's second annual school fair. The baking was done under supervision at the school on the morning of the fair. The sewing and darning was also done with the judges present. The art work, writing, maps, etc., had been previously done under supervision of the teachers, and the vegetables and flowers grown from seeds supplied by the Board.

When the exhibit was ready at 10.30 a.m. there was a fine display in all lines. Mrs. Kennedy and Mrs. O'Neill of Georgetown, and Mr. A. McClure and Mr. Morgenson of Norval, made excellent judges. Lunch was served at noon by the ladies of the Women's Institute and consisted of sandwiches, cake and coffee.

A booth on the grounds provided refreshments, the proceeds of which go into a fund for the 1927 fair.

The committee in charge was: Messrs. E. B. Snow, R. S. Murray, C. W. Copeland and G. G. Brown.

A DAILY THOUGHT

A little bit of kindness
To others now and then,
A little bit of blindness
To the faults of other men,
The wish to be forgiving
When things somehow go wrong,
And life is worth the living
And hope is in the song.

Notes and Comments

THE Stratford Beacon-Herald says that "every government, provincial, federal and municipal, should bear in mind that the extent to which people are taxed in this country has become a burden, and also that there is nothing that will put more life and energy in the country than the easing of this burden." This sound philosophy should stir all governing bodies to strict economy with that end in view, adds The Globe.

THE Ontario Legislature by the wording in the School Act places service on the School Board on a higher plane than any other public service. A man may decline to stand as member of a Municipal Council, but a man may be compelled to serve on the School Board, providing he has not served a term for four years. By this action the Legislature places the work performed by the School Board as the most important. The school taxes constitute a large proportion of the amount raised for all municipal purposes, yet at meetings held for the purpose of nominating members to fill vacancies on School Boards very few ratepayers put in an appearance. If education is worth the cost, and no one will deny that it is, it is worth the best attention that can be given in supervision.—Exchange.

WHEN a child commits an offense against the criminal law it is the parents who should be held responsible and brought before the magistrate, was the opinion expressed by J. J. Kelso, superintendent of the Ontario Children's Office. This policy, he thinks, if vigorously acted upon for a few years, would lead to better care and training of children, with consequent improvement in conduct and greater safety to life and property. It will be found as a general rule, added Mr. Kelso, that it is the absence of proper parental control and direction that leads to child delinquency, and for this the child, owing to its lack of knowledge and experience, should not be held responsible. He was also opposed to hastily relieving parents of their obligation to support their children, instancing one case where two children were committed to a reform school at a cost of $14 per week to the public, not a dollar being charged against the parents.

ACTON

Rev. and Mrs. J. S. Lloyd, of Hespeler, were guests of Rev. and Mrs. A. C. Stewart at Knox Church Manse last Friday.

Mr. Alfred Soper has bought Mr. Robert Cole's place at Ballinafad, and intends moving there shortly.

Mr. R. J. Kerr won the Directors' Prize at the Acton Fall Fair for selling the most members' tickets for 1926.

Anniversary services will be held in Knox Church on Sunday, October 17. Rev. W. F. McConnell, of Toronto, will preach morning and evening.

Rev. James W. Rae, the esteemed pastor of Knox Church from 1887 to 1897, lately the minister of the United Church at Oropo, has retired from the active duties of the pastorate, and is now residing at 422 Walmer Road, Toronto. Mr. Rae is still much in demand for special pulpit supply work.

The three silver cups won at Milton have been recently presented, one to each of the three winners in the Old-Time Fiddlers' Contest held in Victoria Park. First prize was awarded to J. C. Hill, Acton; second to E. A. McDougall, Trafalgar Township, and the third to Thomas Howley, Esquesing Township.—Free Press.

GENERAL NEWS

The Normal Schools of the province report between four and five hundred fewer applications for entrance than last year.

George Douglas, of Trafalgar Township, picked a mushroom near Milton which measured eight inches across and weighed exactly one pound.

A writ has been served on the Town of Newmarket by the solicitor for Mrs. Harriet Bacque and others who are claiming damages for alleged injury to certain trees, which they claim, were damaged by the town employees. The town solicitor will contest the action.

Wm. Drysborough was sentenced by Judge Coatsworth to three years in Kingston Penitentiary and twenty lashes in connection with the tragedy at Cooksville in which George Marks was shot and killed when under arrest by a constable.

Last Sunday morning Mr. Tom Graham, Centre Road, Derry West, happened with an accident which will lay him up for a few days. He endeavored to crank the milk truck which carries his milk to the city, when the crank slipped off the shaft and struck him on the leg, breaking the shin bone.

W. B. Somerset, of Nelson Township, who will act as representative for the fruit growers in England this fall, left last week for England. The appointment was made by the Ontario Government, but Mr. Somerset is giving his services gratuitously to try out this method of marketing Canadian apples in England.

Kent County police are conducting an investigation into complaints of cattle theft in Chatham district, the most daring of which was perpetrated Tuesday afternoon. Five men entered a field on the farm of Gilbert Reaume, River Road, dragged away a heifer, killed it on the road, cut off the head, threw the [illegible] truck and drove away.

Ask, and ye shall receive — Reeve Irvine, of Arthur, recently wrote the Sherwin Williams Co., asking them to provide sufficient paint to paint the grandstand on the Arthur Agricultural grounds. A few days later he received word that ten gallons of high grade paint were being shipped to Arthur. In return for the paint the company ask the right to put their sign on the stand.

The sanitary system and the drinking water system at Inglewood Public School are being completely remodelled, a new pump being installed for the former system, and a special compression tank for the latter. Power for pumping the water will be obtained from the Cataract Light and Power Company, instead of at Inglewood as heretofore, and all arrangements around the school will be brought right up to date.
