Ford Car wins out.

The Provincial Thrill that comes once in a life time came to hundreds of Ford owners at the Western Fair London on Sept. 18th, when they saw a standard Ford rompage from Whippet and Chevrolet competitors in the Special five mile race on Queen's Park track. The Ford finished nearly six hundred yards ahead of the other contestants, making the five mile, grand in 27. The race was a special feature of the fair program, resulting from a challenge issued by the Whippet representatives to all owners of light cars.

The spectators saw a thrilling race despite the fact that the Ford led the whole way. For the first four miles the contest was exceptionally keen between the Whippet and the Ford but the Chevrolet was easily lapped. The Whippet made good time on the corners, but on the straight the Ford came ahead, like a racing car.

AS A MAN GROWS OLD

A little more tired at close of day.
A little less anxious to have my way;
A little less ready to scold or blame;
A little more care for a brother's name
As we are nearing the journey's end,
Where time and eternity meet and blend.

A little less care for bonds and gold;
A little more seat in the days of old;
A broader view and a spherer mind,
And a little more love for all mankind
A little more careful of what we say;
And so we are facing a-down the way.

A little more love for the friends of youth;
A little less zeal for established truth;
A little more charity in our lives,
A little less thirt for worldly news,
And so we are folding our tents away
And passing in silence at the close of day.

A little more leisure to sit and dream;
A little more real the things unseen;
With visions of those long loved and dead;
And so we are going where all must go,
To the place the living may never know.

A little more laughter, a little more joy;
And we shall have told our increasing woes.
The bodies closed, and the prayers are said,
And we are part of the countless dead
Three happy, then if some soul can say,
"I live because he passed my way."
Rollin J. Wells

Local Council of Women

The regular monthly meeting of the Local Council of Women was held last Friday in the rest room of the Public Library. Having secured permission from the Board the Council had arranged for the cleaning and heating of the room formerly used by the Civic Association, and it is now available for smaller meetings at a nominal fee for overhead expenses.

The President, Mrs. H. W. Kennedy, presided and reported that through the instrumentality of their committee, ninety names had been added to the Voters' List. The Council acceded to the request of the W. C. T. U. to become responsible for the prize offered in Georgetown and vicinity for the Essay and Poster Contest on Scientific Temperance Education. Miss Lawson gave a most interesting report of the executive meeting of the National Council held in St. Thomas on Nov. 6th and 8th, mentioning particularly the items bearing on the safeguarding of public health, the beautifying of our town, the immigration work and the banning of offensive literature from Canada.

Miss Hut, the convener of the Citizenship Committee, reminded the members that suffrage had been granted to Canadian women during the war without the struggles that accompanied the change in other countries and emphasized the fact that the privilege was none the less valuable and should be used by every woman. She quoted the following poem which contains a message worthy of consideration.

The Millionaire's Secret

To be a millionaire, a man must not only get rich, he must be able to stay rich. A certain well-known millionaire, when asked how he stayed rich, said: "I invest my money only in sound, established companies."

That man has learned a valuable secret. But a man's money, however much he has, is never worth so much to him as his mind, his intelligence. Has he ever occurred to you that you should invest your intelligence just as carefully as you invest your money?

Why not invest your intelligence in a sound company by subscribing to the Youth's Companion? It is the oldest magazine for young people in the world and nearly the oldest of all the American magazines. It is also one of the most interesting. Practically every famous author of the past hundred years has written at one time or another for the Companion. Only this fall, for example, the Companion published a new story by Jack London. Do you like stories of adventure? Mystery? Romance? They are all in the Youth's Companion.

Here are the terms of an investment guaranteed to be profitable—

1. The Youth's Companion—52 issues in 1927, and 2. The remaining issues of 1926. All for only $2.30. Or include McCall's Magazine, the monthly authority on fashions. Both publications only $2.50. The Youth's Companion, S.N. Dept., Box 200, Mass. Subscriptions received at this office.

First Annual Meeting

Organized November 12th, 1925, our Georgetown-Esqueving Humane Society has now passed the first milestone of its existence.

Before going further we wish to express our thanks to the Town Council for encouraging and assisting us in our work. Our thanks are also due our genial Editor, Mr. Moore, who has helped us so willingly and to those kind and thoughtful ones who have sent us in complaints. A brief summary of the year's work reads as follows:—

Cases investigated regarding starved, abused, neglected and abandoned animals: 32; warnings given 10; number of horses examined 34; and of these 3 were destroyed; 80 cattle were inspected; 2 dogs placed in pound; 24 pigs examined and within 24 hours; 24 pigs examined owners ordered to provide proper food and shelter for same within 24 hours; cases of dogs investigated 12; warnings given 4; 1 dog restored to rightful owner; 2 dogs placed in homes; dogs destroyed 3. The town council attended to all cases of stray dogs within the town limits through the tag system. Cans humanely destroyed 36. Total number of animals cared for 189.

The work of the society is not only in the prevention of cruelty to animals but in educating people and children in kindness to animals. The great interest being taken in the work by the teachers and pupils of Georgetown Public School will do wonders in this way.

The officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows:—
President—Dr. H. G. Reid.
Vice-Pres.—Wm. Ashenbush.
Secy-Treas.—Mr. G. O. Brown.
Inspectors—G. O. Brown.
Executive—Mrs. D. L. Horbert, Miss L. Reid, Rev. H. Caldwell, Mr. Ed. Townsend.

Correspondence

Toronto, November 24th, 1926
To the Mayor and Council,
Georgetown, Ont.
Gentlemen:—

It has been upon my mind for some time to make some enquiries which are forth to prevent "resolving" and "keeping" of the town's affairs. I think it is still there. "One of its objects, I think, was to prevent residential districts being defaced by the erection of buildings of easily burnable material and (doubtful) design (probably for useful purposes) entirely out of accord with the surroundings. For the present and future attractiveness of the town should not be sacrificed to the desire to avoid it."

3. Thirty-five years ago the town constituted a water system at an aggregate cost of about $40,000.00. Recently an auxiliary system was installed at a cost as I understand it of about $70,000.00. In view of this, should not the people of Georgetown be able to secure more favorable insurance rates? Has the Council or Board of Trade given this matter consideration and taken action accordingly?

An I not right in thinking that the town has gone to the limit as to debenture indebtedness? Would it not be a good thing to analyze in detail the items that make up the total that stands against the corporation practically on a mortgage and see "what we have for our money"? And would it not be advisable to carefully watch the future in order to avoid taxing the people too severely and thus erecting a barrier that would discourage accessions to the population from outside.

Yours very truly,
R. D. Warren

Four-Year Sentence

Bert D'Angelo, the young Italian who once bottlenecked around on Oakville, will go to the Kingston Penitentiary for four years for his part in the poison alcohol epidemic of last summer.

Such a sentence was imposed upon him Saturday by Kr. Justice Rose, who is so doing, and he said he could not pay as much weight as he would like to give to the recommendation of mercy which the jury added to its verdict, given Thursday evening, of guilty on one of the four counts of manslaughter on which he had been indicted.

"While the jury has recommended mercy," his Lordship said, "we must remember that the jury is in no charge of the enforcement of law. We must show an example to others by this sentence."

His Lordship decreed that a sentence should date from yesterday, with no allowance for the months which D'Angelo had spent in custody awaiting trial. The prisoner's legal guilt was established through the Ontario Temperance Act, he said, and "moral guilt is shown by evidence that the prisoner knew there was great danger in drinking alcohol, except that distilled from proper materials." He had, however, chosen to run the risk for financial gain, in his Lordship's view D'Angelo had committed a serious offense deserving of severe punishment.
