SMP Enamelled ROASTERS

Ford Car wins out.

The Proverbial thrill that comes once in a life-time came to hundreds of Ford owners at the Western Fair London on Sept. 18th, when they saw a standard Ford romp away from Whippet and Chevrolet competitors in the Special Five mile race on Queen's Park track. The Ford finished nearly six hundred yards ahead of the other contestants, making the five miles in only 7.27. The race was a special feature of the fair program, resulting from a challenge issued by the Whippet representative to all owners of light cars. The spectators saw a thrilling race despite the fact that the Ford led the whole way. For the first four miles the contest was exceptionally keen between the Whippet and the Ford but the Chevrolet was easily lapped. The Whippet made good time on the corners, but on the straight the Ford counted ahead like a racing car.

SMILING

In nature's mirror men may see
That those who wish to fruitful be
Should often rest and smile:
Where paths are hard and steep and
You need with hope and cheerful song
To cultivate a smile.

All that would make you cold and hard
And rob you of a rich reward
In fact and form and style,
Will cease to find its place,
If you will bravely train your face
To wear a pleasing smile.

Those who in grief and sorrow grope
May oft be cheered by signs of hope
In which there is no guile:
And unto many a weary heart
Courageous souls may life impart.

Through summer's green and autumn's brown
Be not your eyes against the frown
Which would the stream defile:
From heights serene new strength
And life with those who bravely strive
To cultivate a smile.

Your cheery greeting may transform
What seemed a stretch of gloom and storm
Into a flowery meadow,
And in the light of perfect day
Most truly helpful souls are they
Who bring a smile to the way.

An Ontario Village That Fell by the Way

The interesting history of Churchville, an Ontario County town that once promised to assume the proportions of a Prosperous Country Town.

By ROY ROY

In 1811 a young man, Amariah Church by name, trekked up the Credit River looking for a location for his future home. He was three years in advance of the surveyors who opened the district for settlement. The whole country was covered by dense forest, infested by wild beasts, without roads, nothing but a few trails. He built his modest log shanty and made a clearing. He chose the location because he saw the possibilities for power at the point where the Credit River built a crude but effective brush dam, with his own hand drew two immense stones and was labor incessantly fashioning and dressing them into mill stones. The iron required was carried from the forest along a blasted trail from Toronto and fashioned by Mr. Church in a little hand-made forge. This mill was a wonderful boon to the early settlers, and the Credit River block took his name. The mill was a gravelly nature, abounding in small stones. These furnished Big Bob with abundance of excellent ammunition. With unerring aim he hit Blazer every throw, and Horatio's control of the bridge until Mckenzie was out of sight.

Its Glorious Fate
This building little town was ambitious in the early days of being the county town; the building of the Grand Trunk Railway, through Hamilton, detracted its prestige, and began to decay. Today the mill, lannery, distilling, stove factory, everything is gone. The town was washed away, and the Credit rippled idly on to join Ontario's laughing waters. The last of the hotels was closed a quarter of a century ago, and not a store remains.

Amariah Church, the first settler, after whom the town was named, was the first one buried in their pretty cemetery overlooking the Credit River. A marker was put at his grave of native white pine. The date, Sept. 1, 1831, was painted on the marker. The pine was of such excellent quality that today the letters stand out like relief carvings, the storms of eighty-seven years having had little effect on it.

Business and industry has left the little village, but the memory of the mill by still remains, waiting for a Burns or Wordsworth to sing of its wonders, and make it as famous as Afton, Ayr or Doon.

CHANGE IN MOTOR MARKERS

The design of Ontario motor markers for 1927 is dictated by a slight reduction of the size of the figures which will nevertheless be as readily distinguishable as formerly, owing to the new design. The figures, which are black will lie on a cream background. The design of these figures will be considerably improved. Formerly the three and the nine could be changed into eight, but now that will be almost impossible. The newly designed figures which should act as a deterrent to automobile thefts and changing of motor numbers are very legible despite their altered size. The name of the province, instead of being abbreviated to Ont., is printed in full, the idea being to make the province known to those who might not identify it by the abbreviation, and will thus give the province better advertisement.

BALLINAFAD

Mr. and Mrs. Sinclair, spent a day last week with their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Col of Burlington.

The United Church Sunday School intends holding an entertainment in the near future.

Mrs. Donald McLean, Jr., sixth line, who went to Guelph Hospital a week ago, to undergo an operation this week.

Mrs. Henry Shortill, has been ill with an attack of pneumonia.

Mr. Wm. Howling has secured a position with the Silverhill Fur Ranch, of Port Rowan, in the Lake Erie district.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Howling had some American friends visiting them, over the week-end, also his brother, from Hamilton.

I saw two girls walk side by side
And both of them were bobbed,
Both hands a stump parrot
With handle amber knobbed.
Both wore policeman helmet hats
The hue of sealing wax,
Both smote the ground in high-heeled
With dainty little snacks.
Both had their skirts just past the knee
And lemon-colored hose.
The step of both was brisk and free
And both turned but their toes.
I said of course, they must be twins
My guess was very wild—
I found it was a modern Ma
Out with her Bopper child.

Notes and Comments

THESE ARE two bits of advice which it is folly to ignore at this season. The one is "Buy Your Christmas Shopping Early," and "Send Your Christmas Mail Early," is the second. Some have neither, but if the observance of both is proof of rare wisdom then the world is becoming wiser. It was but a few years ago that the major portion of the Christmas shopping was done during Christmas week, and the Christmas rush in the mails did not begin until the eleventh hour. The result was that unfavorable shopping conditions and congested mails ruined Christmas Day for countless thousands. How much sinner and how much more satisfactory for all concerned are the modern practices of starting the gift-buying season early and of starting the gifts through the mails in ample time to insure their punctual delivery. Whether one looks at the question from the selfish or impersonal point of view, the arguments are all in favor of early shopping and early mailing. Early shopping gives one the pick of the new and uncompleted Christmas stocks, judicious selection, more satisfactory service and less jostling. Early mailing is a guarantee of timely delivery and minimizes the chances of damage and loss in transit. It should be any to whom these arguments are unconvincing, that they give thought to the merchant and his sales force, and to the postal employees whose one desire is to please the public, but who are powerless to help those who won't help themselves.

THE GREATEST gift is life, but man is not privileged to give that. However, the next greatest gift is health and that man can give by buying Christmas Seals again this year. If every man and woman will buy a few of the little health stamps the billion that must be sold this Christmas season will quickly be distributed and another year of effective warfare against the white plague will be assured. The Christmas Seal is the standard of one of the most hopeful and dramatic fights ever against disease. This fight is being made against one of the most insidious and most dreaded of plagues that have afflicted man. For thirty centuries the dread disease has gone steadily on, marking its victims and leaving them to languish death. The approach of the disease is slow and gives so little warning that for many it comes as a surprise. It is to stamp it out or to prevent the spread of infection. Other plagues in their devastating work have been organized for self-protection and succeeded in wiping them out. Finally man against the white plague and immediately began to gain ground. It is estimated that tuberculosis in Canada will cost thirty-five years would cost the nation millions of dollars. In the last twenty years education and the health stamp combined to cut the death rate for tuberculosis in two. Medical experts estimate that keeping the disease under control for thirty years will mean virtually exterminating it. Will the public give enough money in the next thirty-five years to stamp out the illness or will it permit tuberculosis to take from it twenty-six billions of dollars in present and future years? This is the challenge which the nation answers every Christmas.

WELLINGTON JUNIOR FARMERS WON THE PREMIER HONORS

Wellington County captured premier honors and the John S. Martin trophy in the inter-county live stock judging competition with 2,412 points out of a possible score of 3,000 at the Guelph Winter Fair on Monday. Peel County's team was second with 2,267 points and York County third with 2,294. Oxford County last year's winners, were fourth with 3,574 points. The winning team was composed of Earl Howe, Aris; Howard Harbour, Hillsburg; Irwin Kopas, Elora; George E. H. Clemens, agricultural representative, Arthur.

The Glen Osmond trophy, awarded to the inter-county team making the highest score in judging horses, was won by Peel County with a score of 472 out of a possible six hundred.

MILTON

A well-known resident of Hutton County died last Saturday morning at his residence, Campbellville road, in the person of Neil Hunter. He had been ill only a short time. His predeceased him one year ago.

Miss Fanny Robertson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Robertson of Kilbride, was on Thursday last bitten about the face by a dog. Fanny was taken to the doctor, where it was found necessary to place nine stitches in order to close the wound.

Bliss by her pet cat, Mrs. Harry Bibby, of Nelson Township, is in a critical condition from blood poisoning, which resulted from the bite. The cat, however, caught in a large trap, which had been set for a skunk, and whilst being released by its mistress, turned and bit her in her right hand.

It is understood here that Bert D'Angelo, sentenced at the recent fall session in Milton to 4 years in Kingston penitentiary on a charge of manslaughter, will through his counsel, Hugh John Macdonald of Toronto, enter an appeal against his conviction or sentence. For this reason D'Angelo will not be taken to Kingston until the result of his appeal is known, whether it has been granted or refused. If it is refused he will be taken to Kingston at once—Reformer.

Don't be Hoodwinked

Stink with the merchant who helps you to keep your village on the map, and who when you are in need of aid, is always willing to give a helping hand. The old established merchant with his stock of staple Dry Goods and Groceries, priced at good value for the money, is the safe place to shop. Such merchants never flood the mail with heaps of nicely printed circulars describing some wonderful thing you can have for the asking, but always carries an advertisement in the local newspaper, not a flower display but, honest facts concerning good merchandise, at honest prices. Don't be hoodwinked by the floods of circulars in your mail. If you imagine these so-called bargain-hunters will give you something you haven't paid for, in honest hard cash, you have gone to the wrong counting. Shop with the established home merchant and get honest value for your money.
