

Here and There

Calgary.—The Vulcan well in the Turner Valley field has taken its place as one of the deepest oil wells in the world, having passed the 5,000-foot depth.

A record maple, weighing 38 pounds, has been grown by Dr. Colvert, of the "White House," Sooke River, B.C., following other near-records produced on his farm.

Toronto.—The first shipment of foxes from this point to the United Kingdom, valued at $10,000, has left recently via the Canadian Pacific Express.

Serious consideration to the conservation of big and small game in the United States is being given by members of game and fish protective organizations in various states who are holding the thirteenth National Game Conference at the Hotel Pennsylvania, in New York city, December 6th and 7th.

Quebec.—Estimates of the cutting of timber for the season 1926-27 which runs from the latter part of August to the end of April, as compiled by experts here, are that 74th cut will be from 15 to 20 per cent over last year's.

Discharge of 1,500 third class passengers at Quebec, recently, the S.S. "Montcalm" and "Empress of Scotland" brought the immigration season on the St. Lawrence for the Canadian Pacific Steamships to a close.

The big game season now bearing its close in the Lake Windermere region has been an unusually successful one. Parties from the middle western states have been numerous this year and their "luck has been in."

Emmanuel B. de la Giroday, a native of Mauritius, who has been resident in Canada since 1908, has the official sanction of the Mauritian Government to make the necessary arrangements with the Government of British Columbia for the establishment of a farm colony in the Pacific coast province, according to report.

As a result of discussions at the Imperial Conference in London the cheap passage scheme under which British immigrants have been proceeding to Canada during the year is expected to be renewed.

Rouyn A New Community Becomes Mining Railhead

Rouyn, one of the newest communities in the Province of Quebec, is now in touch with the rest of the world by means of a branch line, 44 miles in length, which reaches the Quebec-Cochran main line of the Canadian National Railway at Taschereau (formerly known as O'Brien), a divisional point.

Previous to the advent of the branch line, Rouyn was a hamlet of about 100 people, and was known as a mining town. It was by means of land and water route. Now the railway runs directly into the town, and provides a direct service for freight and passengers.

As the work of railway construction was progressing, the citizens of Rouyn, encouraged by the solution of transportation problems, effected considerable progress in developing civic improvements and a further program will be undertaken now that it is possible to obtain supplies expeditiously and more economically.

Rouyn is the centre of one of the most important gold-copper fields, some mines being of proven value, with others offering good prospects and inviting further development. With the completion of the branch line it will be possible to ship in heavy material required for the construction of a smelter for handling ore of the local mines.

The new branch from Taschereau to Rouyn traverses a territory well wooded, with numerous lakes and streams, a section of which in the vicinity of Lake Lac is good agricultural land, offering inducements to colonists.
