Father and Son Banquet

The sons of Knox Presbyterian Church in Georgetown, entertained their fathers at a banquet held in the church parlours on Friday evening last. The roads in many places were impassable but a large number by their presence responded to the invitation which was extended to all the men of the congregation. For a few hours in the afternoon the ladies were busy decorating the room and preparing the tables which at 7.45 p.m. were ready for the guests. Full course luncheon was provided by the ladies and was greatly enjoyed by fathers and sons who kept up a hum of easy and happy conversation during the dining hour.

After several courses had been eagerly disposed of the most vigorous appetites began to surrender and strong hearty men were observed to withdraw a few inches from the table, tilt their chairs backward in easy posture and look expectantly toward the head table. Here in the centre of the head table was enthroned Mr. Robert B. Foulis, toastmaster, whose rosy cheeks and beaming countenance bore unmistakable testimony to Scotland's suitability in his element. He was in the father's chair and he was every inch a father.

After a happy opening speech he proposed the toast to "The King and Empire," to which all responded by singing the National Anthem. The toast "To the Church," was proposed by Major L. Grant and responded to by Rev. K. MacLean. The toast "To the Fathers," was proposed by Sam MacKinnon and responded to by Mr. R. K. Cameron of Knox College. Ross gave the speech of the evening, a sparkling and four-fold development of the young man's ideal exhorted the young to noble endeavor.

A toast "To the Ladies," was proposed by Charles Borymgeour and responded to by Clarence Reid, both of whom found it easy to say the kindest things in the kindest way. In addition to the toast list the program included vocal solos by Mr. Samson Gishy, Mr. Arthur Herbert, Mr. Charles Borymgeour, Mr. R. C. Robinson and Mr. Harry Hale; also violin selections by Mr. John Borymgeour and Mr. John Nickell, and a reading by Mr. Arthur Benton.

A vote of thanks to the speakers and various artists was very fittingly moved by Mr. J. B. MacKinnon and seconded by Mr. Harry Lawson. The singing of "Auld Lang Syne" brought the happy evening to a close.

Glenwilliams

The social and dance held at the home of Mrs. M. Merryday, on Thursday, 17th inst. proved to be a huge success. Fifty couples sat down to supper and enjoyed the pastime of the evening in dancing, cards, etc. A very substantial sum was realized for the benefit of building fund of St. Alban's Church. Sincere thanks extended to all who participated in this worthy cause.

Coming events cast their shadows before! Next week the auspices of the Ladies' Aid, Glenwilliams. Full particulars next issue.

To Save The Babies

"Do you think tuberculosis in cows can be transferred to human beings?" That question was asked recently of the specialist who gives health instruction through the columns of The Detroit News. And this was the answer:

"There can be no doubt of it. Perhaps one out of every four cases of lymphatic ('glandular') and bone tuberculosis in children is bovine tuberculosis. The infection being acquired by drinking milk from tubercular cows."

That answer is worthy of serious consideration and justifies the money spent by Governments and municipalities in testing daily herds and using dairymen to stamp out this terrible disease. Every municipality should see to it that its milk supply is up to the standard and handled under sanitary conditions for the protection of its citizens.

Lacrosse Organized

Georgetown Will Have Junior and Intermediate Teams This Year

At a largely attended meeting held in the Council Chamber last Thursday evening considerable interest in lacrosse was manifested by those present and it was unanimously decided that Georgetown should return to the national game and organize for the coming season.

Mayor McIntyre was the chairman of the evening and called for the election of officers which were as follows:—

Honorary President—T. H. Elliott Ojha, Watson. President—J. M. Moore. 1st Vice President—Robt. Erwin. 2nd Vice President—J. McDermid. Secretary—Wallace Thompson. Treasurer—F. D. Lacey. Executive Committee—Mayor McIntyre, Angus Duncan, Percy Graham, Dr. Watson.

Angus Duncan was chosen to represent the club at the annual convention of the O.A.L.A. to be held at Toronto on Good Friday.

In order to provide equipment for the boys considerable money will be required and it was decided to circulate subscription lists to raise sufficient funds.

A small donation from all who can afford it will help materially to provide a good clean sport in Georgetown, and the hearty co-operation of our citizens will be appreciated by the boys.

Schools and Diseases

There is a greater amount of spreading of diseases through schools than in homes. Communicable diseases will spread through child contact. In our opinion, however, it is more than dangerous to close a school-room where a child suffering from a communicable disease has been found, fumigate the premises and re-admit the children without medical or nurse inspection. Fumigating makes parents falsely believe that all germs have been killed and their children are safe. To permit children after being exposed to communicable disease to go back to school without inspection is to turn an outbreak into an epidemic. These diseases involve children—not rooms. Practically every communicable disease starts from infection in the nose and throat. A close watch, therefore, on the nose and throat of the child will do more than any other measure to get the outbreak under control. It is much safer to have your child in school, with daily inspection, during an epidemic, than to let him play on the street with unsuspected children who may be carriers of disease. All children with suspicious throats are sent home from school, therefore those allowed to stay are all "safe" playmates.

Spring Assizes The following interesting case came up at the Spring Assizes at Milton last week:— County of Trafalgar. This case created a great deal of interest and a number of past and present members of the county council were present, several former Wardens as witnesses. The county's claim was $2530.74, shortage in the amount paid of the county rate levied on Trafalgar under By-law No. 244, and payable on or before Dec. 26th, 1925. There were levies against certain minor municipalities under four special by-laws connected with good roads and the defendant corporation disputed liability under one of them, No. 326, passed Dec. 17th, 1924. The court did not open up the representatives of the corporations were discussing terms of settlement. They did not reach an agreement until 2 p.m., when the court was closed. The following was arranged, subject to the approval of the Ontario Government: the township to pay the amount of the claim, and also $2535.75, the amount of the special rate levied on Trafalgar for 1926 under By-law No. 326, all future levies under said by-law to be on the county as a whole, the four special by-laws to be validated by the Legislature, and the county to try to get the Department of Highways to restore the Middle Road to the county roads system. Each party to pay its own costs. S. F. Washington, K. C. of Hamilton, and W. I. Dick, for plaintiff; H. E. Manning, of Toronto, for defendant corporation.—Champion.
