A Mother's Appeal to Her Boy

Supplied by T. Glancy, Toronto

A mother was bidding good-bye to her boy.

He was going to leave her that noon;

'Twas hard to depart from the one that he loved,

And the humblest where he was born,

He treasured the parting advice that she gave,

With a love that a mother can feel;

In vain he endeavored his tears to restrain,

As he heard his fond mother's appeal.

He faithful and fearless, devoted and true,

He manly in sorrow and joy;

In trials remember 'tis darkest ere dawn,

Was a mother's appeal to her boy;

The years glided by, and he wandered afar,

Often like a lone exile he'd roam;

In moments of sorrow his heart would be cheered,

When he thought of his mother at home.

She always said: Boy, never yield to despair;

There's no pleasure without its alloy,

They nevermore met, but he never forgot.

The appeal that she made to her boy.
