DURING the last four years, over a hundred dred six-cylinder motors—of every conceivable type . . were built by Chevrolet engineers and tested on the General Motors Proving Ground, before the present motor was developed and pronounced correct.

CORRESPONDENCE

The following Communication from an old Georgetown boy to our exteemed townsman, Major Grant, will prove quite interesting to our readers. Schenectady, N.Y.

December 20, 10

Mr. L. Grant. Georgetown, Ont.

You may be interested in knowing that a copy of the article you recently had published in the Georgetown Herald under the heading "An Echo of 40 Years Ago" found its way to one of the members of the class who left Georgetown nearly thirty-four years ago. On Saturday evening last I was attending the twenty-fifth wedding anniversary party of my sister, Emma, and she handed me the clipping she had just received from Anna Pinley (now Mrs. Arnold) who still lives in Georgetown. It amused my father and sisters that I still remembered the lines of my part in the play. I was the lawyer and my lines were as follows: "Well, those may work who like it know an easier life

A lawyer need not soil his hands But live by others' strife." I then sat down in my chair and Dave Hume (the dentist) recited these

"I will be a dentiat And with my forceps strong

I will pull every molar That has troubled you so long." I have been located in Schenectady since 1902 and until about eight years ago was with the General Electric Company as Electrical Engineer, Bince then I have been an automobile dealer handling the Nash line in Schenectady. I visited Georgetown three years ago but did not see many famillar faces.

Best wishes for the New Year. Very truly yours. Robert B. Johnston.
