Haltom Chapter R.A.M.

ENJOYED ILLUSTRATED LECTURE ON BERMUDA GIVEN BY MR. JOHN M. CARD

Mr. John M. Card of Guelph entertained the members of Haltom Chapter at their fourth degree on Friday night, April 19th, with an illustrated lecture on the Island of Bermuda. Mr. Card, who is a member of the Board of Education in Guelph, was born and lived for twenty-three years in Bermuda so is exceptionally well qualified to speak on this country.

Mr. Card commenced his lecture by explaining how Bermuda was discovered by accident. It appears that a fleet of ships had sailed from England for the new western land and during the voyage were blown out by a terrific storm. The ships became separated and two of them landed at what is now St. George's on the Island of Bermuda. The leader of the expedition was on board one of these ships and was so much taken with the place and its climate that after repairing his ship and going back to England he returned to Bermuda to spend the rest of his life. At his death he requested that his heart be buried there. His wish was carried out and his heart lies today in a beautiful tomb in Bermuda while his body rests in England.

This is but one of the many interesting points of Mr. Card's lecture. He illustrated his talk with lantern slides and these combined with his interesting description of the place made one think of it as a paradise. There are only two wooden buildings in Bermuda. With these exceptions everything is of white coral. Even the roads are of this material and we were assured by Mr. Card that even after the heaviest rainfall a person can put on white shoes and go outdoors without fear of mud. Rain is the source of all the drinking water in Bermuda. It is caught in cisterns and piped to wherever it is required.

Hamilton, the capital of Bermuda, is a beautiful city. The streets are somewhat narrow but that is not as much of a drawback as it might seem. There is no heavy traffic as we know it in this country; there are no automobiles, street cars or trains on the island. The buildings are of a type of architecture all their own, and as before stated, are built entirely of white coral. There are a number of schools but there is no Public School System as we know it here in Canada. Apparently anyone who feels like obtaining a higher education starts a school. Mr. Card is of the opinion that our system is far better than that of his native place.

If the Editor would give me the space, I could fill a column with what I learned on this subject. Mr. Card knows his subject and in addition has the interest of his audience. The only fault that we could find with him was that his lecture was too short. It was the most enjoyable fourth degree that Haltom Chapter has ever had and we all were sorry when Mr. Card said that he had come to the end of his talk. We would have enjoyed it had he kept on talking for another hour. Ex. Comp. Grant, 1st Precinct, tendered a vote of thanks to Mr. Card, on behalf of Haltom Chapter and expressed the wish that he would be able to hear him at some future date. The writer will take it upon himself to compliment Ex. Comp. Grant upon having secured the services of Mr. Card, and will assure him of a banner year if he continues to provide us with the same class of entertainment as on Friday night.—Com.

Double Output at Limehouse

TORONTO LIMESTONE CO. ACQUIRED BY CANADA OYSPUM & ALABASTINE CO.—ANOTHER AGREEMENT AGAINST EXTENSION OF C.N.R. TO CLOSE LIMESTONE RAILWAY STATION

The quarry and lime business of the Toronto Limestone Co. at Limehouse and Dolly Varden have been acquired by the Canada Oypsum and Alabastine Co. of Paris. The transfer was completed Monday. Mr. William Gowdy remains as manager under the new ownership, which, he stated, proposes to double the output. He also emphasized that the contemplated expansion is another strong argument against the proposed extension of the National Railway to close the railway station there, which has been in operation since the railroad was built more than half a century ago.

"It is difficult for us to understand why the railway has restricted its former move to close the station which was vetoed by the Dominion Railway Board last year," said Mr. Gowdy. "We were surprised here when we learned that the Extension town-ship board had notified the C.N.R. of its intention and representations of Limehouse and locally attended since the railroad was built more than half a century ago."

Limehouse, with a population of about 150, is a busy town. It is situated on the north shore of the bay, between the town and Acton, approximately four miles from each. Its quarries provide a considerable amount of lime, and there being Newton's and Scott's, as well as those of the former Toronto Limestone Co. and the latter, the Samuel Hurst Co. are going to operate soon the quarries in addition to the railway, but not to the radial car line from Toronto to Guelph which passes through not far from the railway station.

"Possibly the radial cars could take care of the passenger traffic," remarked Mr. Gowdy, "but I understand that the passenger patronage of the steam line has been decreasing in fact I am sure that its volume covering the past three months was equal to that of the whole of last year. Fewer or slighter people take the morning train regularly."

"As far as our own business is concerned it would suffer much in consequence if the railway station is closed. We ship from one to three cars daily and more in the busy season. While still using the siding here we should have to get our billing down from Georgetown or Toronto, a matter of trouble, as well as considerable expense through constant use of the telephone." The company has a normal payroll of 25, which is increased as business demands.

The Newton's and the Scott's quarries are worked by Allen Norton sending out an average of one car daily, about 15 men being employed as a rule. This business would be similarly affected in the event of the station being closed.

$2000.00 REALIZED FOR JEWISH FARM

The following from the Detroit News relating to the Georgetown Jewish Farm will be read with interest by our citizens.

More than 2,000 Detroiters danced and frolicked in the Fountain Room of the Majestic Theatre, Friday evening, when a group of 43 war orphans, picked up from the gutters of Mersich, a little village near Warsaw, Poland, might sleep comfortably on a farm on the outskirts of Georgetown, near Toronto.

The affair was staged by the management of the Georgetown Orphanage and Farm School, which they Greenblatt, of Detroit, is the head. While visiting his native village of Mersich after the war, Greenblatt picked up 43 Jewish war orphans from the streets of that village, placed them in a hurriedly improvised language and two years ago managed to transfer them to the farm school at Georgetown.

Some 30 of these 43 war orphans today are self-sufficient Jewish farmers in Canada. Mr. Greenblatt said, satisfied with the results of our experiment, the Canadian government has given us a permit to take the place of those who are about to leave our farm."

More than $2,000 was realized from the dance.

Next year the hundredth anniversary of the establishment of the Orange Order in Canada will be celebrated. The chief gathering will be held in Brockville, where the first Lodge was established in 1829, by settlers chiefly from Ireland. The Order has made steady progress in all parts of Canada since then.

At Orangeville a case last week one civil non-jury case occupied the dock at St. P. W. Pevsler sued George Hogg for $2,000, claiming that Hogg had broken a dining room window at Hogg's residence. Justice Jeffrey awarded Pevsler $100 and allowed him $125 for costs. Both parties reside at Shelburne.
