CORRESPONDENCE

My Dear Mr. Editor: The time has come when I must ask you a question, the contemplation of which has caused me many a sleepless night, bitter tears, ungulah and corresponding days of anxiety. This is a subject of which I hesitate to speak to you or anyone about. Do you know the whole world is worried at this same question which agitutes me. Many a home has been broken up by this same cause and I too, though young must share the burden of this wicked and uncouth world. I dare not even communicate my state of mind to my folks, you know how old fashloned they are about such ! things. In my distress I turn to you for sympathy. It may surprise you that I would consult you on such an important subject, which only my own heart should know. But like the morning dawn the whole affair must come to your friendly advise. I am asking a great favor change my underwear? After considering the question closely let me Thanking you for an early reply.
