Growing Nut Trees A new development in the work of beautifying the countryside of Ontario is seen in the organization of an association in Eigin County with a view to stimulating the planting of nut trees. This association hopes to secure the co-operation of the Eigin County Council in planting rows of nut trees on both sides of No. 3 Highway from border to border of the county. In addition, the annual yield of these trees and their timber value meri

Electrification of Ontario will be stimulated during 1930 by the program of expansion recently announced which will result in the building of 2000 miles of hydro lines in the rural districts, as compared with 1,100 during the past year. It is also expected that service charges will be reduced and loans made available for installation of electrical equipment on the farm. The mileage added during 1929 will serve 6700 new customers and bring the total to 5,000 miles already in operation. miles already in operation.

Winter Cenditiess

Live Stock and feed form the chief topic of the current weekly reports from agricultural representatives. This statement from one of the reports appears to be typical of conditions throughout the province: "Live stock have gone into winter quarters in poorer condition than usual. There will be over a third less feeders stabled this winter than is usually the case." The advent of severe weather and snowstorms brought fall work on the land to a halt. However, under favorland to a halt. However, under favorable conditions most farmers had practically finished their fall plowing.

The corn borer infestation in Ontario in 1929 has been reduced in the infested counties by an average of 50 per cent. over the figures of 1928, according to a recent official statement by Prof. L. Caesar of O.A.C. Reductions as high as 75 per cent. are shown in some counties, while for the first time in three years no reports of total destruction, or even serious injury, have been received, and no new districts report the pest. Nevertheless, Prof. Caesar pointed out that the actual number of insects would hardly vary from last year's estimates because of the spread over a much greater acreage.

Chicken thieving is on the wane in Ontario, according to a recent statement by Hon. John S. Martin, Minister of Agriculture, and the legislation passed at the last session of the legislature is given a big share of the credit for the satisfactory situation now prevailing. Thefts are still occurring but they are scattered and bear little resemblance to the epidemics which prevailed for a time. The new legislation empowers police officers to search poultry transports and compels truckers and others to keep close check on the birds they are transporting. Not only have $100 fines been levied, but a total of 93 of the offenders were sent to jail in the year offenders were sent to jail in the year ending October 31st last.

In connection with the recent convention of the Ontario Beeksepers' Association, Prof. E. Eric Millen of O. A. C., secretary, points out that remarkable changes have taken place in the beekseping industry during the past fifty years. From an uncertain side line fifty years ago to a commercial undertaking today, many members now measure their crop by the ton in place of pounds. For instance, one Ontario beekseper, J. L. Byer, of Markham, operates about 1300 colonies. There was an exceptionally good crop of honey in Ontario last year and two residents of the province took first and second prizes for honey at the

A ship of beroes -skippered by one of themselves was the unique feature of the sailing of the Duchess of York on a recent trip from Montreal. - Bix holders of the Victoria Cross, Britain's most envied and most meritorious of war awards, were on the vessel, which was under the command of Captain Stuart, himself a V.C. They were on their way from Canada to London to take part in the dinner by Cross men from all parts of the Empire, slated to be held November 9. Other V.C.'s travelled on Cansdian Pacific liners Minnedosa and Empress of Scotland.

The stage is being rapidly set for one of the outstanding developments in Canada in a decade when the English Folk Dancers and exponents of English folk dancing will hold a festival at the Royal York Hotel, Toronto, November 13-18. A British opera by a British com-poser of world-wide fame will be produced for the first time on this continent when "Hugh the Drover," by Dr. R. Vaughan Williams, is put on during the festival, and Canada and Canadians will be introduced

"We are all primarily conscious of the fact that this country, measured by any of the yardsticks by which the prosperity of a nation can be gauged, is a very prosperous country, notwithstanding disturbed stock markets and a rather unusual grain situation, both of which are, we hope, temporary," said E. W. Beatty, chairman and president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, at a dinner given recently in his honor by the St. Catharines Chamber of

Robert Hume and George Thornton, veterans of many competitions, join the teams from the western provinces for a trip to the Royal Winter Fair at Toronto as guarta Winter Pair at Toronto as guests of the railway.

Bituminous sand deposits of the McMurray district and along the Athabasca River will eventually furnish the large quantities of material required for waterproofing and surfacing the gravel roads of the western provinces, is the opinion of Major C. G. Ommanney. director of development for the Cansdian Pacific Railway, Montreal.

Colwood Golf Course, where the second annual Empress Hotel midwinter golf tournament will be staged in Pebruary next, is one of the finest links on the continent, declared Walter Hagen, British open golf champion, who recently played an exhibition game there.

Loss by Polate Blight Investigations show that the farmer may lose as much as fifty per cent of his stored potato crop due chiefly to the action of tuber rots, particularthat caused by late blight (the sosalled dry rot). While this rot does not ommonly spread from tuber to tuber the bin, under poor conditions this injury paves the way for organisms producing other roots that do spread and causes heavy losses. Much of the ides can be avoided by removing all late blight-infected tubers. There are also other tuber-rotting fungi capable of causing enormous losses. The following combination of precautions is suggested: (1) Prevent digger and handling injuries. (2) Control late olight foliage infection. (3) Avoid exposing potatoes to temperature below 30 degrees F. and above 48 degrees F. (4) Maintain good ventilation condilions in the storage house or base-

Ontario Party at Chicago .
Bixteen girls and fourteen boys from Ontario farms comprised the party which journeyed to Chicago during the first week of December to attend the boys' and girls' Club Congress in connection with the International Live Stock Exposition. They were the winners of judging contests in their respective counties by virture of which their expenses were defrayed by local organizations. P. C. Paterson, agricultural representative for Norfolk, was in charge of the trip, and Mrs. Cook was chaperone. In Ohleago they joined a party of 1500 young American boys and girls in a six-day program which included not only the Live Stock Exposition but tours of the ctly and one or two of the larger packing dants. The visit proved most inormative and entertaining.
