IN MEMORIAM

GOLDEN—In loving memory of our darling Corinne, who departed her life, Dec. 18th, 1929.

We often think of you dear Corinne,
And our hearts are filled with pain,
For this earth it would be heaven, Could we hear your voice again.
Days of sorrow come and go, Tears of sorrow oftentimes flow, Memory keeps you darling near Whom God called one year ago.
—Sadly missed by Mother, Father and Brothers.

Our Community Christmas Tree

SANTA CLAUS WILL BE HERE ON MONDAY EVENING AND WANTS TO MEET THE CHILDREN

The Community Christmas Tree under the direction of the Georgetown Business Men's Association will be held at the corner of Main and Mill Streets on Monday evening, Dec. 23rd, at 7:30 o'clock.

Christmas hymns and carols will be sung. Santa Claus will be present and a general good time is assured all who are present at the annual Christmas gathering.

The business men have received a telegram from Santa Claus advising that he will be on hand and cordially inviting all the children of the community to meet him at the Christmas Tree next Monday night.

WARDEN'S DINNER BIG SOCIAL EVENT

OVER TWO HUNDRED GUESTS EN-JOY HOSPITALITY OF HAL-TON'S GENERAL WARDEN

Over two hundred ladies and gentlemen gathered at the Warden's Dinner and Dance held in the town hall, Milton, on Tuesday evening, Dec. 17th. Here-fore only men attended the annual dinner. Warden Leslie just went one better than his predecessors and invited the ladies. Their presence added so much to the enjoyment of the evening, which proved to be one of the most pleasant social affairs in the history of the county.

At about 7:30 all sat down to a delicious menu which well served and heartily partaken of. During which time music was rendered by the Mason's Glee Club.

Community singing led by Mr.
Cody was heartily joined in by the large gathering, after which the following toast list was announced:

"The King," responded to by singing the national anthem.

"Our Country," proposed by W. J. L.
Hampshire, Esquire, and responded to by Judge Edmund Millton.

"County Council," proposed by T.
Foster, Burlington, and responded to by members of Council.

"The Warden," proposed by Donald McIntyre of Georgetown, and responded to by Warden T. L. Leslie of Esquimaux.

"The Ladies," proposed by Amos Mason of Acton and responded to by Mrs. McDaniel and Mrs. Brown of Milton.

"Our Visitors," proposed by James Blain of Milton, and responded to by J. R. Church of Streetsville, and J.
Jamieson of Brantford.

During the evening Warden Leslie was the recipient of many complimentary remarks regarding the large number of ladies who were present. The duties of the Warden in both with credit to himself and to the county of Halton which he represented.

Warden Leslie thanked the members of the Glee Club for their splendid support and assistance during his term of office as Warden.

On Motion of Donald McIntyre and A. Buck, a most hearty vote of thanks was tendered to the Warden for his splendid evening provided and which all had so thoroughly enjoyed.

At the close of the evening part of the program the tables were cleared from the hall and a couple of hours were very pleasantly spent in old and new time songs, which were supplied by Mason's Orchestra of Acton, Mass., W. C. Anthony and Amos Mason calling the tunes.

J. M. Moore of Georgetown was
"Toast Master."

Warden Leslie certainly gave his guests a good time and we know they all appreciated it. He has established a precedent for future Wardens.

GENERAL NEWS

Mr. Alfred Watson's resignation as manager of the Guelph Government liquor store will take effect at the end of the year. His duties will be taken over by Mr. Edward Jackson, of Jackson Bros, who has been notified of his appointment to the position.

Among the honors won by Canadians at the big Chicago fat stock show were the championships, male and female, for Shorthorn cattle, exhibited by Col.
P. H. Deacon, of Unionville, Col. Deacon won a great number of the first prizes, including two on animals purchased from D. Campbell, of Moffat.

Crushed beneath a huge weight of earth which fell from the side of an excavation in which he was working at the Ontario Agricultural College, Joe Prentiss, 35, 28 Stevenson Street, was almost instantly killed Monday morning. Although his head was not quite beneath the mass, he was dead before fellow workmen were able to extricate him.

"Broadway Scandals" Boasts of Seven Happy Song Hits

A brilliant galaxy of song writers was assembled by Columbia Pictures to provide the lyrics and music for a comedy musical comedy coming to the Theatre, Georgetown on Friday and Saturday, December 20th and 21st.
Such well-known composers as Fred Thompson, Dave Franklin, Jack Stone, James Hanley, Sam Costow, Dave Cryer, Rodney Carr, Joe Trent and Charles Daniels are responsible for the seven happy numbers that are presented by a cast of soloists and a chorus of fifty stage beauties in Columbia's musical extravaganza.

FIRST PRIZE IN ESSAY COMPETI- TION WON BY GERALD BLAIN, R. R. No. 1, OAKVILLE

"My Trip to the Royal Winter Fair"

During the past season, a Judging Contest has been conducted throughout the different Counties of Ontario, for the purpose of selecting the best essay on the subject of the Royal Winter Fair this year.

After everything had been so carefully planned, the under-grounds were forwarded to the five hundred Junior Farmers throughout the province and the contest was held on Tuesday, the nineteenth day of November, between 11 a.m. and 1 p.m.

I arrived in Toronto at 11:55 a.m. and from the Union Station, was directed through an underground passage, to one of the largest and finest hotels in the British Empire, namely, the Royal York, while registering, I made the acquaintance of several young men, who like myself, were seeking to win a prize.

At 2:10 p.m. we lined up at the side of the hotel for the beginning of our trip.

We paraded through the streets to the Farmer's Co-operative plant, where we received a very cordial welcome from Mr. Marsh, who gave an interesting address on the construction of the historical building.

The guide then started our route through the building. We were first taken into the Creamery, where we saw the cream coming in by trucks, where it was opened, sampled, weighed, stirred, and then processed into butter. It is heated to 180 degrees and then cooled to 40 degrees fahrenheit, it is then put into the huge churns to churn the cream into butter. A good program consisting of one thousand pounds of butter in two and a half hours.
It is put into the press and cut into pounds. It is then wrapped and connected with the Creamery, is an Ice Making Plant, where they make twenty tons of ice every twenty-four hours.

We were then taken into the Seed Department, where we saw splendid quantities of seeds and winter wheat being good and poorly graded potatoes.

We then entered the Egg Grading Department, where the eggs were being packed into different grades and sent to the market.

Next came the Chicken Department, where we saw the difference between the milk fed and the crate fed, the picking (it taking forty seconds to pick one bird) and the packing.

Before leaving again for the hotel, we were treated with a lunch from the Farmer's Co-operative Ltd.
Wednesday morning, after an appetizing breakfast at the Hotel, we went to the street car and proceeded to West Toronto to the Packing House, where we saw the modern farm butchering of cattle and sheep and curing and trimming of pork before it was made into lard, and the smoking of the pork.

We next walked to the Union Stock Yards which covers forty acres of land, with a large stock of cattle, sheep and swine.

Mr. Childs gave an address on the history and progress of the yards.
At the Harris Abattoir we were served with lunch. Mr. E. Lead, Official Secretary of the Canadian Meat Packers, Mr. Fox, Vice-President of the Council and others gave short addresses and expressed their appreciation of having the five hundred Junior Farmers with them.

After a long afternoon we went to the Massey Harris. We were first divided into groups of twenty and each group had a picnic in charge.

While passing through, we were shown the rough wood cut into treating machines, the shaping, heat drying and the making of cultivator teeth and points, the cutting of the iron of the disc, making of steel wheels, the cutting of nuts and bolts, the moulding and the casting of iron and the dipping of the machinery into the paint wells.

Before being served with a wonderful caterer's dinner, we were presented with a steel tape line.

After a few songs and yells we were shown a comedy film "Up on the Farm," also an educational reel on "Modern Machinery on the Farm." Mr. Thomas Bradshaw, General Manager, welcomed the party with an address on "Changes made in Meat Inspection, Motor Cars and the Ball Telephone during the past thirty years," and also emphasized "The coming of the Aeroplanes."

Mr. H. L. Gibson and Mr. W. Mc-Lennix also gave short addresses on the history and progress of the yards.
The Highlanders Band to the Coliseum Orchestra, where we watched some high jumping and a show of delivery horses.

Then we were lined up again and made an impressive Junior Farmer's parade around the showing and back to our places to watch the curing horse.

At 11 p.m. we again left for the Hotel.

Thursday morning we visited the T.
Eaton Co. Ltd. Mail Order, the largest in the British Empire.

In the printing department we were shown how the catalogues, books and their advertisement sheets were printed. Catalogues are printed at the rate of seven thousand, thirty-two pages, in one hour by one machine.
We were also shown the seven pumps, pumping and filtering water for the large store, the generator, which generates part of the hydro for the store and the reserve water supply in the basement.

We then entered the carpet and furniture department, then into the art-gallery, where some of the greatest pictures hang. One picture, "The Fox" being valued at thirty-two thousand dollars.
