viving link between two pioneer families who made history for the Township of Esquesing. He was the eldest son of the late Robt. Reid, who settled hirths and Mrs. Reid who proved a most presentative, addressed the council in Snyder, son of the late Eli Snyder of worthy wife and mother, passing away some sixteen years ago. Pive sons and one daughter survive, namely: James cil. asking for a grant for educational Canada, at Montreal. of Perdue, Sask.; Robt., on his grandfather's farm; William H., on the homestead; d. Fraser in Toronto.
Agnes Josephine, a nurse in Toronto.
Mr. Reid was brought up in the old Presbyterian school, and while dillgent in his chosen occupation, that of farming, he ever gave religious duties and privileges first place. He served his church in every capacity and for many years was an honored member of the session of Union Presbyterian Church and later of Norval Church.
A sincere christian gentleman in all his relations with his fellowmen. A sincere christian gentleman in all his relations with his fellowmen. Through failing health in these later years he gave up active work and continued to live with his son, William, on the farm. The funeral was held from his late residence, Lot 16, Con. 9. Esquesing on Monday. March 24th, the Rev. MacDonald of Norval officiating, assisted by Rev. G. E. Reid, Toronto: Rev. John G. Reid. Dover

Classes are non-denominational and open to children who are beginners or not now studying with a local teacher. Children are taken in small groups and with the aid of a piano and dummy keyboards are taught both theory and plane up to the primary grade at a fee of twenty-five cents for each hour lesson taken once a week-making it possible to give more than one child in a family the full benefit of a musical education.

Piano classes seek to create friendly rivalry and keen competition among children at the same time eliminating self consciousness in making producers of music. ... At the close of the year 1929 approximately ten thousand children were studying plano in classes in Canada. Monthly reports are provided, showing the progress made by each child in class. Parents are asked to telephone or write at their earl convenience to secure an enrolment. . Franz Liszt, one of the parliest composers to sponsor class work i quoted.
