A LITTLE BIRD

A little bird with plumage brown, Beside my window flutters down, A moment chirps its little strain, Then tucks upon my window pane, And chirps again, and chirps along,
To call my notice to its song.
But I work on, nor heed its lay, Till, in neglect, it flies away.

So birds of peace and hope and love Come fluttering earthward from above, To settle on Life's window-sill, And ease our load of earthly ill;
But we, in traffic's rush and din, Too deep engaged, are heedless of them.
With saddened heart and sense plod, Nor know our loss till they are gone.

—Paul Laurence Dunbar.

HALTON RIFLES

Chief Brant of the Mohawk—Christmas 1914
Then a Soldier

By Col. Jas. Ballantine, D.S.O., V.D.

Full of strange oaths and hoarse like the parrot, Jealous in honour, sudden and quick in quarrel, sullen and quick in seeking the bubble reputation, Even in the cannon's mouth.

—As you like it.

The most picturesque character in the Fourth Battalion was Lieutenant Cameron D. Brant, Chief of the Mohawk Indians, and a loyal descendant of the great Chief Joseph Brant of Revolutionary and Indian war days.
The city of Toronto is proud to know that any city can do to commemorate the life of Joseph Brant, by the erection of a memorial to him, the great of the great Indian statesman, whose tribe always marched shoulder to shoulder with the British in revolutionary times. In later years, 1915 —Chief Brant of the 4th Canadiana, was to live up to the family tradition, and lead his tribe, and his people, over a hundred years of civilization, to the place where the British were hard pressed, just as his ancestors done years before in the Valley of the Mohawk. So far only did history repeat; who could have believed that an ancestor, served in many campaigns and gloriously, and lived to a useful old age, Cameron D. Brant, the descendant served in one campaign and gloriously; leading his tribe just as straight as any chief had ever done in the Valley of the Mohawk, but his youthful life is being going on in the storied Ridge of Pagan.

He was one month, with a glorious military inheritance whose family coat of arms was etched with the acid of war but allowed to fulfill the high hopes of military distinction entertained by Chief Brant, was a fine fellow, not easily perturbed, and with a quiet self-control that was in tune with the hearts of all the officers of the Battalion. As an officer he was efficient, and as a leader of his platoon, I am sure there would be many who would just as faithfully as their ancestors had followed his ancestor.

He was the last of the Mohawk Chiefs, and quite worthy of the great tribe that nurtured him, and the great chief of the Mohawk, but Christmas 1914 was passed on Salisbury Plains in the traditional army and officer, with his officers sitting on the sergeants, and on the men, and being extended a hospitality as generous and hearty as it was inspiring and levitating already in France.

One finds a cheap imitation of this in the highly organized feudal systems of modern industry, where the warts of the employment of the soldier are and provided for—that is all the wants of liberty and discipline, but do not think so; and if an officer knows the principles of leadership, Christmas and the men, and the men, and the phase of life where the relationships are finer than those between officers and men and officers and men, and provided, of course, the officer knows the meaning of sportsmanship and efficiency.

Shall we break the plights of youth,
And pledge us to an alien love?
Not we hold our faith and true, Trusting to the God above,
Stand, Canadians, firmly stand

Britain bore us in her rank, Britain nursed us at our birth, Britain reared us to our manhood,

Round the flag of Fatherland!

In the hour of pain and dread,
In the hour of the storm, Britain raised above our head, Her broad shield and sheltering arm
Stand, Canadians, firmly stand
Round the flag of Fatherland!

O brave Kingdom of the brave, O sea-girt Island of the free,

Our hearts, our hands, are all for Thee!

EMPIRE DAY, MAY 23rd

The Minister of Education confidently expects that every school in the province will fittingly celebrate Empire Day. In order to do this it is necessary that the Principals and assistant teachers arrange a programme of lessons, songs, recitations, addresses, and other suitable material. No doubt teachers will consider it both a privilege and a duty to make the best use of the occasion to awaken in the minds of the children in the schools a greater appreciation of the Empire, and to inspire in them a patriotic love

The choice of Tens of Thousands

Appearance alone has sold Rib-Roll roofing to thousands of farmers... but it is economy, fire protection and permanence that keep it selling. Wherever you go in Ontario these handsome roofs are familiar landmarks... protecting millions of dollars worth of crops, stock and property. Rib-Roll's success has caused it to be widely imitated—but Rib-Roll also has the superior quality of construction which makes it the foremost roofing value in Canada today.

An Unquestionable Competition Rib-Roll Roofing and Preston LED-HED metal makes a roofing combination impossible to beat. The cost of laying Rib-Roll is lower than nearly all other types of roofing.
When you use LED-HED you get a right-handsome, light-colored roof that defies fire and weather. The nails are specially designed with lead heads which completely seal the nail holes. There are no weak-seal members... no threading or punching. Write for samples of Rib-Roll and Preston LED-HED nails.

Preston Metal Ceilings
have proven their superior value as a preventive of air-conditioning trouble by keeping air in the room.

Preston Galvanized Tanks are made of 2 1/2 in. dia. and 2 ft. deep. Cash price $7.75. Only $10.00 for 2 1/2 ft.
Cash price $12.00... built of 20 gauge galvanized iron.

Preston Metal Ceilings

The enduring quality and beauty of Preston metal ceilings have made them one of the most popular types of ceilings for home and office. Preston METAL CEIL-INGS are permanent. They retain their good looks indefinitely.

CORRESPONDENCE

Col. Ballantine's "History of Halton Rifles" Appreciated

The following communication to the Herald is one of many expressions of appreciation of Col. Ballantine's articles regarding the Halton Rifles:

Hamilton, May 1st, 1930

Dear Mr. Moore:—For quite a long time past I have intended writing to say how much I have enjoyed reading Col. Ballantine's articles on "The Halton Rifles" in the Herald.

I am sure their interest must extend far beyond the men of Halton. In fact, I cannot imagine anyone whose heart is so dry that it is not stirred by their manly, intimate sketches written so freely and so interestingly.

The last time I saw the Colonel was before the war days, and an acquaintance that he has forgotten both me and the circumstances, it being merely a routine matter of business then. I think I would be nice if you told him that his writings are appreciated outside of Halton County, both he and you should be congratulated.

Tell him to delay the conclusion as long as possible.

Yours faithfully,
H. D. Thomas.
