Drury and Alexander McGregor, barrister of Toronto, as substitute for Hon. James Malcolm, minister of trade and commerce, who was unable to attend. "James Waldebrook, the standard-bearer of the Liberal-Progressive party in his township, was in Trafalgar township, near Milton, when a young man moved to the farm on the Lake Shore, two miles east of Oakville, where he now resides. He is a life-long Liberal, and has been for 23 years a member of Trafalgar township council, always one of the most progressive members. As a member of the Ontario municipal board, he has suggested a number of important amendments to the Municipal Act that have been adopted. He is recognized as a strong candidate."

SPLENDID SERMON BY REV. KENNETH MACLEAN—SPECIAL MUSIC

On Sunday evening Orion Lodge No. 108 and Rebekah Lodge No. 184, I.O.O.F. and visitors from lodges of neighboring towns attended worship in Knox Presbyterian Church, Georgetown. At 8:45 p.m. the chimes pealed out familiar airs including "Shall we gather at the river," "I surrender" and "Rock of Ages." The special soloist was Mrs. Josephine Wilson McLeay, who delighted the congregation with her rendering of "He shall feed His flock" and "The Stranger of Galilee." Rev. Kenneth Maclean, minister of Knox Church preached from the text, "And Pharaoh put a gold chain about Joseph's neck," drawing the lesson that as Joseph's person was ornamented by this gold chain so are our lives ornamented by that chain made up of such links as simplicity, contentment, friendship, faithfulness and worship. Fred M. Pollett was organist and choirmaster.
