HALLOWEEN would have passed off nicely in town had not some thoughtless persons gone so far as to destroy property by pulling down fire breaking windows and business signs is not fun and those who are guilty of such acts should be publicly made pay for same. One professional sign costing $12 or $15 was deliberately smashed. The man right to have a little fun on Halloween and to enjoy it, but think of the other fellow, bear in mind that old motto "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you."

AEROPLANE ACCIDENT TAKES THREE LIVES

TWO INGLEWOOD GIRLS AND TOTTENHAM PILOT KILLED AT TORONTO FLIGHT AFTER-NOON

When his aeroplane failed to come out of a downwind side-slip at low altitude, while stunting over Dufferin airport, at Toronto on Sunday afternoon, crashing in flames, 24-year-old Harry E. Teggart, air mail pilot of Toronto, and two young passengers, Jean and Kathleen McColl, sisters of Inglewood, were burned to death.
Simultaneously with the crash a sheet of flame shot from the engine at the front to the tail of the plane for the rear, its course being directed by the shape of the fuselage. In the next instant the craft and its human cargo were enveloped in flames from the oil, the gasoline and the body structure of the craft.
The pile of wreckage became a roaring inferno, the blistering heat from which forced back the few people who rushed to the scene from nearby houses, and prevented them from attempting a rescue. The human pyre had to be left to burn itself out. The tragedy occurred on the Glendon farm, on Dufferin Street, about half a mile from the Canadian Air Express airport. The machine was owned by Walter H. Burfield, head of the Aviation Consolidated, of Lake Placid, N.Y., and was flown to Toronto by W. MacLean, on Oct. 20. The machine was said to have been loaned to Teggart. The McColl sisters were his friends.
The bodies were burned beyond recognition. They were recovered from the pile of debris by the coroner and removed to Brown Brothers undertaking parlors, at 1122 Eglinton Avenue, where the remains were viewed by Coroner W. O. McCormack of Bloor Avenue, who will conduct the inquest.

The fatal puff of wind which Sunday blew the three young fliers into eternity, has plunged the little village of Inglewood into a gloom that is deepening as the news of the deaths of Kathleen McColl, into the deepest sorrow. Both girls were known to everyone in the village, and many in the neighboring countryside. They had lived on the farm with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Archibald McColl, for nearly all their lives. Kathleen having recently graduated from the Orangeville Business College, and Jean from Normal School.
The girls visited their parents at every opportunity. Teggart was also a frequent visitor to the village and live in the neighboring town of Tottenham, and it was while going to high school in the village that he first met the girls. His acquaintance ripened into friendship and the sight of the light colored aeroplane circling the village of Inglewood, and the McColl home in particular, was a well known one to villagers.
Coroner W. O. McCormack, planning that of Mrs. McColl, who has hardly recovered from the shock of suddenly losing her second oldest daughter, Ida. Of the three daughters, who were in manhood, only one survives. An only son, Archie, is in Alberta. Mrs. McColl has a poor health, and has some time, and it is feared that the shock will further affect her health.
As Mrs. McColl was unable to attend the funeral, she was represented by her son-in-law, who with his wife had hurried from Toronto, that the news might be broken to the parents as gently as possible.
The funeral of Harry E. Teggart, 1020 Avenue Road, was held on Sunday afternoon at 1:30 from the home of his cousin, Dr. Wesley Richardson, 708 Dovercourt Road, the remains being taken to Tottenham, where interment took place.
The remains of the two sisters, Jean and Kathleen, were placed in the Brown Brothers Funeral Home, 1122 Eglinton Avenue. They will be conveyed to Inglewood, and interment made at the Boston Cemetery on Thursday afternoon. A funeral service will be held on Thursday at 11 a.m. at the home of their aunt at 20 Dovercourt Road to meet the wishes of their Toronto friends and representatives of the village. The elder sister had been a school teacher for seven years.

CORRESPONDENCE

To the Editor of the Herald:
Dear Sir:
With your permission I wish to make a short statement regarding the Poppy Fund and the use to which the money in this fund is put.
The Poppy Fund, for which we are asking contributions, is distinct and separate from the funds of the Canadian Legion. It is raised by contributions and by the sale of Poppy Day, and is used solely for the relief of distress among veterans and their dependents. No return is ever refused help so long as there is any money in the fund. The money in this fund cannot be used for anything but the relief of the poor.
The Poppy Fund in Georgetown is administered by the Canadian Legion through the Board of Trustees. These Trustees keep accurate account of receipts and expenditures, and render reports stated periods. Their accounts are audited by independent auditors.
We, the Executive of the Canadian Legion, and the Trustees of the Poppy Fund, join in thanking all those who have contributed to our fund. This money will be used to relieve distress among veterans in Georgetown and vicinity. Our object is to raise enough money to enable us to care for all cases of distress among returned men right through the winter. If we can do this we will be saving calls upon the taxpayers of our town.
Thank you, Mr. Editor.
Yours truly,
John D. Kelly,
President, Brampton Canadian Legion.

Georgetown, Ont., Nov. 4th, 1930.
To the Ratepayers of the Township of Esqueping:
There appeared a letter in The Georgetown Herald on October 22nd, 1930, addressed to me, as President of the Township of Esqueping, signed by William Schenk of Glen Williams, Ontario, regarding the letting of a contract to straighten out the County Road known as Union Church Road just north of Glen Williams.
I wish to advise Mr. Schenk that the contract for this job was let by the County Council of which body the Township of Esqueping only have two members out of a total membership of fourteen. On the fourteenth day of October last, more than two weeks previous to Mr. Schenk's letter, a contract was let in the same manner as all other contracts are made of a similar kind in the County of Halton and adjacent counties. The form of procedure adopted was in accordance with the rules and regulations of the Department of Public Highways of Ontario.
I wish to state that it is not to be understood that this job was not to be done by the Township of Esqueping, but by the County of Halton, and that the County of Halton, and your representatives at the County Council, after strenuous efforts were able to get this work attended to which involves an expenditure of
