OBITUARY
GEORGE MITCHELL
Sunday last George Mitchell, for several years a resident of Cheltenham, passed away in Toronto General Hospital last week. He was 42 years of age. He was unmarried. His illness was of a few days duration. He was a veteran of the Great War, a member of the Masonic Order, and a very desirable citizen.

OSBORN
One of Owen Sound's best known business men, Joseph Jackson Kelly, passed away after an illness of two months. Mr. Kelly was head of the firm of Kelly and Alton, of Owen Sound, Orangeville and Guelph. Mr. Kelly had an active life, and although in his 75th year, he was as keen and energetic as ever. He was born in Orangeville, a son of the late James Kelly, one of the pioneers of the district. He spent all his life in Orangeville with the exception of a few years in Warton, until 10 years ago when he moved to Owen Sound. Mr. Kelly was unmarried. Surviving are two sisters, Miss Jennie Kelly, who resided with him in Owen Sound, and Mrs. A. M. Tyson, Warton, also one brother, W. W. Kelly, Toronto.

OLIVER MCKAY
One of Georgetown's best known native and most honorable and esteemed citizens, in the person of Oliver McKay, passed away at his home on Guelph street on New Year's day, Jan. 1st. Deceased was a son of the late Walter and Isabel McKay and was born in Georgetown, Ontario, where he conducted a grocery store for many years before he retired in 1914. Twenty-two years ago he married Miss Minnie Buck who survives him. A brother, Mr. Hugh McKay of Acton, and a sister, Miss Annie McKay of Vancouver, B.C., also survive. He was a member of Knox Presbyterian Church and in politics a Liberal. Deceased was a great lover of nature and spent much time in the study of birds, plants and flowers. He was a good neighbor, a true friend and a gentleman, who will not only be missed in his own home but throughout the town and community. The funeral took place on Saturday afternoon at Greenwood Cemetery the service being conducted by Rev. Mr. Caldwell, assisted by Revs. Mr. Wace and Mr. Rumlly. During the service Mr. Jack Harrison sang "I shall see you again in the River." The pall-bearers were W. C. Anthony, Clarence Buck, Fred Davis, John McDermid, Wm. Graham and O. T. McKay.

TERRA COTTA
Terra Cotta is now surely up-to-date and on the map. They at last have the village equipped with electric lights. A number of them who had them installed, including our leading merchants, Mr. J. L. Crane and Mrs. K. Joan, which adds considerably to the appearance of the business portion of the town. We also trust that some other industries may locate here in the spring and thus help to relieve the unemployment.

HEALTH REPORT
The following communicable diseases were reported to the Board of Health in Georgetown in December: Diphtheria 0, Scarlet Fever 0, Cholera 0, Chicken pox 0, Measles 0, German Measles 0, Stumps 0, Infantile paralysis 0, Typhoid Fever 0, Whooping Cough 10, Cerebro-Spinal Meningitis 0.

COUNCIL RETURNED
BY ACCLAMATION
Up until the last minute for qualification everything indicated that there would be an election for the township and deputy reeve in Chinguacousy. It was understood that T. H. Elliott would oppose J. M. Deak for reeve and Albert Fleming would run against Dave Moran for deputy, but neither Mr. Elliott nor Mr. Fleming qualified. Giving both J. M. Deak and D. Moran acclamation. The 1930 council consisting of James McKane, Rev. Charles G. and Harvey Austin have also been elected by acclamation to the 1931 council. The nomination day meeting was well attended and many contentious points were discussed.

CORRESPONDENCE

The Editor, Albany, Ga., Dec. 30, 1930.
Georgetown Herald.

I wonder how many Northern people know how Christmas is celebrated in the old South?

Of course there are Christmas trees and lawn trees decorated with colored lights, holly and mistletoe. Both of the latter are native and children sell bunches of them along the highways. Christmas cheer and the Christmas spirit are in evidence everywhere. But two features of the holiday are very different. One the absence of snow is quite what one would expect, but the other comes as a complete surprise. Christmas in the old South is celebrated like the twenty-fourth of May or the Fourth of July with fireworks, firecrackers, large and small, rockets, Chinese lanterns and the whole lot that fill the boyish heart with joy keep up a continuous racket from the day before Christmas until the supply is exhausted some time around New Year's.

No one has been able to tell me the origin of the custom so I conclude it must have started by manufacturers who wished a more even distribution of sales. At any rate it is a relief when the kids run out of ammunition. Yes, times are hard here too. Prices of everything are high. Peas, oranges, etc. are at submarine levels, but Nature is kind. Crows have been good. They are eating everywhere in the woods and there are many birds to gather in the fields. The sun is on its northern swing and all are waiting for the new year with new hope.

Sincerely,
Morley Pettit.
