

"How will you have your Shredded Wheat this morning?"

"I'll have it with hot milk, my dear. It's a bit chilly out doors, and I want something to warm me up. It certainly is great the way you can serve Shredded Wheat as either a hot or cold cereal—and just as easily either way. Fickle spring can't fool us, can she? And be sure to have some Shredded Wheat yourself because it is what you need to keep strong and healthy in this kind of weather."

The District President, Mrs. Cartwright and District Secretary, Mrs. Merry were the guests of the branch and gave short addresses. Mrs. Col. NORVAL
An old and highly esteemed resident in the person of Robert Hamilton, last surviving member of one of the first families to settle in the village of Norval, died on Wednesday of last week in his 88th year. He was the son of Robert Hamilton, a British soldier, who served in the Peninsular War, and was rewarded with the grant of land in the St. Lawrence district. Noticing the situation, he sold the land for a few shillings, and moved to Norval, Mr. Hamilton was born in Norval and spent the greater part of his life here, living for a short time in Toronto. On his return to his native village, he started the business of broom making, at which he spent many years with great success. He was a staunch member of the Presbyterian Church, and remained a member until about five years ago. He leaves a number of nieces and nephews in the vicinity of the village.

BALLINAFAD
A number of the ladies attended the W.M.S. Easter Thank-offering service in the United Church, Georgetown and enjoyed very much the address given by Mrs. (D.) Agnew. The sympathy of the community goes out to Mrs. George Thompson in her bereavement in the death of her sister Mrs. George Blay of Belfontain.
Those who attended the debate under the auspices of the Young People's Society on Thursday evening were unanimous in their opinion that it was a very enjoyable event.
The meeting was in charge of the Literary department and presided over by Miss Jessie McKay, the president. After the opening prayer and business, Rev. Mr. Aitken was asked to take the chair during the debate. The subject of which was "Resolved that men spend more money and time on their own pleasure than on their families." The affirmative was upheld by Misses Beale Cole and Edith Russell, and the negative by Messrs. Archie McKay and John Cole.
During the debate the audience was not only entertained but provided with much information. In fact it is nothing short of marvelous the many ways in which both women and men spend time and money. Both sides showed considerable preparation and thought on the subject. After a somewhat lengthy absence the judges reported their decision in favor of the affirmative. Other numbers on the programme were an instrumental duet by Mrs. B. Vannatter and Miss Fergus McKay, a song by three girls and community singing.
The friends of Mrs. Donald McLean are pleased that she has recovered sufficiently to be removed from the hospital to her home.

BASEBALL
A meeting to re-organize the Georgetown Baseball Club will be held in the town hall on Thursday night, April 16th, at 8 o'clock sharp. All players and fans interested are requested to attend.

Ottawa Weekly Letter

The Easter recess was productive of much of general interest at the capital, though there is little from it in the way of political dividend.
The conference of Provincial premiers and Attorneys-General with the Dominion on the question of Empire status and amendments to the British North America Act was productive of nothing. As was anticipated the province agreed to such phases of the Westminster "Magna Charta" as applied to the Colonial Validity Act, etc.

Under this ancient law no act of a Dominion which came into conflict with an act of the Imperial Government at Westminster was effective unless specially approved by the mother-of-parliament. The result was that all Dominion enactments affecting international trade and shipping were without force and effect until approved by the British Parliament.
The new law affecting status make approval by Britain unnecessary and these were at once approved by the Provincial conference held during the recess.

The more complicated angle of the Westminster agreement, which is an off-shoot of the Imperial Conference of 1926, and its adjourned sittings of 1929 affected the rights of the Dominion to amend their own statutes or constitutions. In this respect it was anticipated that the "complete autonomy" which was talked of so much by the Premier King and his chief aide, Hon. Ernest Lapointe, would be the last thing in the world to be done by the Dominion.
If it were accepted hous a bolus, it would mean that the R.N.A. Act could be amended by vote of the Canadian Parliament. Thus, the securities and the guarantee accorded minority and dissenting provinces would be wiped out, by ballot of the Ottawa House. It has always been the contention of the provinces and the Confederation that the articles of this pact could be changed only by unanimous approval of the original contracting provinces. This point has not been carried to law but few, if any, statesmen have had the courage to challenge it.

It was not surprising, therefore, that the Easter conference refused to budge. Even if eight provinces were agreed that new conditions and new factors rendered it advisable to rest the whole control of fundamental Canadian rights and authority in Ottawa, it was not to be expected that the ninth Province, Quebec, would agree. So far there has been no statement as to how the Province lined up but the lack of unanimity is expressed in the official statement which says that the expected constitutional amendment the status quo will remain as they are.

The welcome of the Beesboroughs was a pleasant interlude to the holiday. Their Excellencies measured up to the glowing advance publicity they appear to possess all the attributes of humanness and of distinction necessary to make a good cable out of the still threads which unite the Empire. The kids are like yours. Lord Duncannon lost his dog in Halifax and the story was about his dog "Bill" would be if the dog-catcher got his. Lady Moyra is thirteen and looking like the world out of another eye. I miss another guess if the Beesboroughs do not find a niche among all the distinguished Governor-General Canada has known.
As this is written the capital is getting itself sartorially together for the social event of the greatest popular interest, the wedding of the Premier's sister, Miss Mildred Bennett, to Major Herridge, on Tuesday, April 14. A thousand invitations have been issued for the reception to follow the "quiet" wedding and a hundred thousand will be glad to witness it. Few women who ever made their residence here have, to the same degree, captivated popular affection. Ottawa, as a city, is jealous of Major Herridge.

Out of the recesses we are back in to the wrangle and tangle of affairs, political and otherwise, known as the Speech from the Throne concludes the estimates will be ready and a week or so later the Government will be prepared to submit what will be in many respects the most interesting budget in the history of the Dominion. The policy of the Government to be given full and free application, if advance reports are trustworthy, and the record of the Prime Minister presents nothing to show that he lacks the courage of his convictions.
—Robert Lipsett.
