SUMMER HOMES should have this FIRE PROTECTION

Far from every hope of aid if a blaze takes hold, the inflammable construction of the average summer home makes it a source of danger and anxiety.

Minimize the fire hazard by lining interior walls and ceilings with inexpensive Gyproc Wallboard that does not burn.

This building material is made from gypsum rock into sheets 4 to 10 feet long, 4 feet wide and 3/4 of an inch thick. It nails and cuts as easily as lumber and with minimum waste.

Find out from your dealer how inexpensive Gyproc is; how easy to erect. Ask him for full information about its application or request a direction sheet from him.

Besides being fire-resistant, Gyproc has structural strength and insulation value. It is also draught and vermin-proof.

By panelling, you can save the expense of decoration, yet Gyproc is an excellent base for Alabastine, Gyptex or wallpaper.

ART AND ARTISTS

The following taken from the Toronto Globe of May 18th refers to a letter of Mr. John McInerney and a frequent visitor to Georgetown.

"A highly attractive exhibition of oil, water colors and sketches by John Cotton is on display in the galleries of Eaton's College Street premises the fruits of considerable travel in recent years. The exhibition is a Canadian painter who returned to his native land after some years in Chicago and California. Mr. Cotton is an artist of high rank, a more luxurious color, and to this he has probably been influenced by the wealth of the natural hues in California. Rich reds and golds of the southern mountains, as well as the beautiful tree patterns, show that Mr. Cotton's work for special favor. His tour of Central Europe last summer introduced old buildings, stone castles in similar opulent color. The stern old towns of Holland and Germany take on new life under the artist's interpretation."

GIRL GUIDES

The Robins are at the head of the company for April, although they only beat the Canaries and Orioles by a single point! We expect that the Robins will have to work extra hard to be at the head for another month.

Ball is the main attraction these nights and the week before last we had to play the kid's game of over the fence is out and a home run counts two with a sponge ball and a stick found on the grounds. Even the Rangers enjoyed themselves.

This fine weather brings pleasant recollections of camp life last year and everybody is looking forward to the two weeks that we expect to enjoy this year. The fun-makers of our company are already planning tricks to play on the rest.

I believe that I mentioned a knotty-tying competition more than a month ago and we haven't had it yet. Perhaps the Scouts have forgotten it.

APPRECIATION

We thank the many patrons of the Herald who have renewed their subscription recently. We appreciate your notice very much. We have a lot of dollars out here and there that in the aggregate mean quite a large sum and we are looking forward to the people we owe. Will you who owe us kindly let us have what is due us? We believe you will—Thanky.

A Message from the Premier on the subject of Highways and Highway Safety

Probably no single development in the history of our province has had more widespread influence upon the lives and habits of our citizens than the automobile.

Ontario was one of the first provinces to recognize the importance of this modern means of transportation, and first, also to adopt a progressive policy of road building and road maintenance.

Today, of Ontario's 72,000 miles of roads, more than 18,000 miles are improved gravel, 7,000 miles are paved, and 69 per cent of all roads are surfaced.

These roads are not only a remarkable convenience, but, as well, they are a responsibility. The seriousness of the responsibility is evidenced by the fact that in Ontario last year, 524 persons lost their lives through automobile accidents. All available statistics would seem to indicate that most of these accidents were avoidable—and were caused by either thoughtlessness or wilful violations of the common-sense rules of the road.

The Ontario Department of Highways is about to publish in the press of Ontario, a series of educational advertisements, in which an effort will be made to keep drivers and pedestrians alike, alive to the necessity for the continuous exercise of care, courtesy and common-sense in the use of our highways. Suggestions made in these announcements will be, in effect, a digest of all the information gathered from every section of the world which has been found to be of assistance to drivers and pedestrians in avoiding highway accidents and making these same highways of inestimably greater value and benefit to every citizen.

The first of the announcements referred to will be published at an early date. Your attention is invited thereto, and your co-operation in making our streets and highways safe is earnestly solicited.

Geoffrey
Premier.

"WHATEVER WILL I DO?"

Jimmy had been ailing for a couple of days... but she didn't think it was serious... till this afternoon... she called the doctor... hospital tomorrow... just a minor operation, but it couldn't wait.

Whatever would she do? She must be with Jimmy... but there was the baby too. If mother were only there... but a letter couldn't reach mother till late tomorrow.

Then she thought of the telephone. In two minutes she was speaking to her mother. Yes, she could catch the evening train—would be there at 8 in the morning.

What a relief! Now she could go about her preparations for the morning. The telephone had made everything easy. And the cost of the call had been less than a dollar.

Evening rates on "Any-one" (Station-to-station) calls begin at 7 p.m. Night rates begin at 8:30 p.m. Just give "Long Distance" the number you want—it speaks up for service.
