"How do I keep my figure?"

"I eat Shredded Wheat but instead of cream I use whole milk—just as it comes from the bottle. That kind of meal gives me pep and strength. It's delicious and nourishing and easily digested. Sometimes for variety I add sliced bananas or other fruits, but I like it any way at all."

THE WAITING CHAIR

There's many a window lit tonight for the boy that isn't there. And many a plate turned upside down and many a vacant chair. And many a Mother sad at heart despite the time of year. A-sighing from the missing child, the boy she's holding dear.

Each step that's passing by the door her heart is beating rapidly, a-hoping it's her son, a-hoping that missing child, that mischief loving boy. Will turn his steps toward Mother's door and bring her old heart joy.

She's praying and a-hoping as she sits down for meals and years. A-hoping and a-praying with a heart that is torn by fears. A-watching and a-waiting by that empty place, and according to the days of the calendar. The tree was a perfect specimen of the Oregon pine at the time she was married. At the level of Dana's face it was four feet, and when she was married it was six feet. The tree was a perfect specimen of the Oregon pine at the time she was married. THE TAME APE

By E. K. Harriman

THE L.V.I. & L. Company had opened Camp Four again, after a long winter's absence. A large crew was busily engaged. The long track on which the loaded cars were hauled out and down to the great mills in the valley was to receive a new turn. All along its length were laid out and set out many spur tracks, each one serving a carefully defined area. When any one of these sections had been laid out the track was taken up and moved to a new place and renamed.

One morning the camp boss called several heads of departments and gave them orders.

"The swamper," he told them, "will be clearing the right way for the new D line this morning, and your trackmen will start lifting the old D line to transport it to the new place and have had the track line staked. The engines are leaving the D yard this morning to relocate the old line to the new place as the way is swamped. Halton is sending up a new 'tame ape' today. The ape will have many back line blocks and be on hand to get the spur tree as soon as the ape has it.

A tame ape is an aristocrat among the clippers of a logging camp. He is king of the mountain. He is a one-ape tree in a whole year of work. He got his name from lumberjacks because he never lets his back line work entirely alone.

So it was that work began. The men were made to make a bed for the ape and had set them. The tame ape did not appear on schedule, however, since the swamper had to visit a friend. He came to the camp two days before time and showed up in the morning. He was a big, black, hairy creature, with a long, pointed snout and a pair of small, round eyes. He was a one-ape tree in a whole year of work. He got his name from lumberjacks because he never lets his back line work entirely alone.

COUNTY COUNCIL

The county council met at Milton on Tuesday, July 13th. Considering reports occupied the major portion of the session.

The education committee reported a meeting with the Burlington high school board and town council. It was reported that the board had requested that the town council be requested to make a recommendation to the county council, at which the board asked for $40,000 to build an extension to the school. This was not made by the county council this year.

The finance committee reported asking the council to consider grants to the various fair boards in the county. A resolution was moved that each fair be paid a $100 grant. This was carried by a vote of 10 to 2. The committee also reported a joint meeting with the Oakville high school board and the town council, at which the board asked for $40,000 to build an extension to the school. This was not made by the county council this year.

The agriculture committee reported recommending a $400 salary for the two town horse inspectors. This was carried by a vote of 10 to 2. The committee also reported asking the council to consider grants to the various fair boards in the county. A resolution was moved that each fair be paid a $100 grant. This was carried by a vote of 10 to 2. The committee also reported a joint meeting with the Oakville high school board and the town council, at which the board asked for $40,000 to build an extension to the school. PRIZE ESSAY

Following is the first prize essay on "Alcohol" in grade VII of the W. C. T. U. competition, written by Francis Deana, Georgetown:

"Alcohol is a liquid. It is produced by the fermenting action of yeast upon sugar. It is found in wine, beer, and whisky. It is a stimulant and a sedative. It is a poison and a cure. It is a friend and a foe. It is a blessing and a curse. It is a necessity and a luxury. It is a habit and a passion. It is a vice and a virtue. It is a sin and a crime. It is a shame and a disgrace. It is a curse and a blessing. It is a poison and a cure. It is a friend and a foe. It is a blessing and a curse. It is a necessity and a luxury. It is a habit and a passion.
