BLOW SAND PRODUCES PROFIT ABLE CROP O. A. C. Farm at St. Williams Making

Turkeys weighing 7 lhs. at the age of only nine weeks and heavy crops of rye and vetch growing on pure blow sand are the visible evidence of the practicability of an experiment is turkey raising started by the Ontario Agricultural College at Turkey Point a few miles from St. Williams in Norfolk County, five years ago.

A recent visit by Professor W. R.

Orsham, head of the Poultry Dept. at the O.A.C. and Director of the project, and Dr. O. I. Christie, President of the College, convinced them that large numbers of turkeys can be cared as successfully, grown as fast shape from this locality as anywhere a the Dominion. The O.A.C. turkey farm was established as an experiment five years ago with R. C. Marston, the present Superintendent, in charge of the work. So successfully has he proved its worth that plans are now under way to build him a permanent residence from which he can plan and direct new experiments along the lines already On the occasion of the visit some 1800 birds were at range with 500 more expected. Some of the oldest birds at nine weeks old had sfready attained the weight of 7 lbs., an increase of 1% ibs. over the weight at the same age last year. It is hoped to market a number of these birds in September, though the majority will be held for the Thanksgiving Day de-

The system employed on the farm s to move the young birds, which are incubator hatched, into field houses at the age of two weeks. Turkeys must have free range for the sake of sanitation. If they are at all cramped for space, blackhead soon kills them off. These houses are placed in fields of young rye, a crop which is eminently suitable for the growing turkey's delicate digestive system, since it is very low in fibre, and the birds are allowed to roam at will. This green feed is supplemented by a dry mash which is kept before the birds at all times in waterproof hoppers, while fresh water is always available. The younger birds roost as a rule in the houses, but as they get older, high posting perches are provided in the

Not only are these birds proving money-makers in themselves but they add a great deal to the fertility of the boil, as is well shown by the relatively heavy crops of rye and barley grown on the blowsand at Turkey Point. The free ranging habit of the turbeys is of great advantage in this regard, resulting in the even spread of the highly nitrogenous droppings. This natural fertiliser combined with the ploughing down of green manure crops building good soll out of what was formerly considered as the poorest of waste land. With the help of shelter belts, the trees for which are being obtained from the Provincial Potestry Station at St. Williams, much of the

STRONG TEAM TO REPRESENT ONTARIO IN GRAIN JUDGING WORLD'S GRAIN EXHIBI-

Ontario will be represented by a team in the junior grain judging competitions to be held as a part of the programme of the World's Grain Exhibition and Conference at Regina in 1932. This decision was reached at the recent annual convention of the agricultural representatives of the Ontario Department of Agriculture held at Guelph.

Teams will be selected by elimination contests which will likely be held at 'Kemptville, Bowmanville, Guelph and London. The five boys obtaining the highest score at each of the elimnation contests will be taken to the Ontario Agricultural College and there given further training. Following this three boys who score highest out of the twenty will represent the province. Intense interest in the junior grain judging competitions, as well as in the inter-agricultural college class, is evident in every province in the Dominion. The generous awards offered are proving particularly attractive apart altogether from the opportunity afforded juniors and young college students of receiving excellent training in grain judging work. A total of i unior competitions and a valuable trophy and post-graduate scholarships

Exhibition chorus of 2,000 voices, accompanied by St. Hilda's Band, will be heard in four concerts at the Canadian National Exhibition this year. This, the most famous choral organiration in America, appears in the Coliseum on August 29, September 3, in the inter-agricultural college class.

O ONE can deny a man the right to spend his dollar where he chooses. It is his privilege to make his dollar produce the utmost in value. The decision as to where that value is to be found is, whether right or wrong, his to make. A tip on how to make a dollar go farther is permissable, however, and we suggest that you think about this:

The lowest price does not always mean the best buy; in fact in most cases it does not. Comparitive quality and many other things enter into the transaction. But let us take two identical articles one here—at home—the other out of town, Let us suppose the out of town price is lower delivered to your door, by 5c or 75c, than the purchase you can make at home. But it is not the most economical buy. That money is gone for good; it will never return to you, whereas if spent at home -well, here's an illustration:

A shoeman owes a baker $2.00 and gives him $1.00 discharging fifty per cent. of the debt. The baker owes a farmer $2.00 for potatoes, so he pays the farmer half his debt with the dollar. The farmer purchases a pair of $2.00 shoes, paying $1 down. The shoeman uses the dollar to cancel his debt to the baker, the baker to the farmer, and the farmer pays for his shoes. The shoeman has paid his debt, made a sale and still has his orginal capital. So have the baker and farmer. That's community business. Three persons have made a profit on $1.00 and it's still in the community to make more. The dollar that goes the farthest is the one that stays at home.
