O ONE can deny a man the right to spend his dollar where he chooses. It is his privilege to make his dollar produce the utmost in value. The decision as to where that value is to be found is, whether right or wrong, his to make. A tip on how to make a dollar go farther is permissable, however, and we suggest' that you think about this:

The lowest price does not always mean the best buy; in fact in most cases it does not. Comparitive quality and many other things enter into the transaction. But let us take two identical articles—one here—at home—the other out of town. Let us suppose the out of town price is lower delivered to your door, by 5c or 75c, than the purchase you can make at home. But it is not the most economical buy. That money is gone for good; it will never return to you, whereas if spent at home -well, here's an illustration:

A shoeman owes a baker $2.00 and gives him $1.00 discharging fifty per cent. of the debt. The baker owes a farmer $2.00 for potatoes, so he pays the farmer half his debt with the dollar. The farmer purchases a pair of $2.00 shoes, paying $1 down. The shoeman uses the dollar to cancel his debt to the baker, the baker to the farmer, and the farmer pays for his shoes. The shoeman has paid his debt, made a sale and still has his orginal capital. So have the baker and farmer. That's community business. Three persons have made a profit on $1.00 and it's still in the community to make more, The dollar that goes the farthest is the one that stays at home.
