"Thank goodness for Shredded Wheat! The children just wouldn't eat breakfast and I was so tired of coaxing them. But when they tried the crisp, tasty biscuits, floating in milk and cream, they were delighted. And best of all—Shredded Wheat is ideal for children. It's just the food to build bone and muscle."

AND NOW ARRETH!

Alas! That sunny hours should pass, That joy should fly So quickly by Day following after day Till spring's away To join the springs of other years. Summer appears With roses crowned, And happy children dance around Her throne all built of shining hours; And then her flowers Fade, And the spell of autumn is laid Upon the landscape, and the trees Plaudit to the breeze Their golden banners. All too soon Winter comes and the cold moon Looks down on fields all wrapped in snow. The daylight hours shorter grow And the low-reclining sun Tells that the year is done— But these things move me not, Nor yet the thought, Sad though it be, Of days that ceaselessly Pass o'er my head Until this life is fled. Whate'er the future hides, Love abides. It does not know the winter's cold It does not with the years grow old. —H. T. J. Coleman.

News and Information For the Busy Farmer

Fine Root Crop
Roots in the different field experiments at O.A.C. are looking particularly well and have been visited by many members of the commercial seed-trade. A visit would well repay any farmers particularly interested in this crop. Especially the demand this autumn by farmers for material for co-operative experiments over Ontario has been greater up to this time than during 1930. Much admiration has been expressed for the fine stand of soy beans at the College.

A Rainy River Industry
The sixth annual Market Lamb Fair held recently in the Rainy River District was a very successful event. An attractive prize list was offered by the co-operation of Dominion and Ontario Live Stock branches and the Rainy River Valley Sheep Breeders' Association. Several purebred rams were auctioned off and two carloads of market lambs shipped to the stockyards at Winnipeg, and two carloads of selected lambs to the Thunder Bay District, where they will supply breeding stock for several Boys' Sheep Clubs being organized there through the Ontario Live Stock Branch. Sheep raising has become a very important part of agriculture in the Rainy River district.

Show Graded Honey
One of the outstanding features in the government exhibit at the Central Canada Exhibition this year was the display of graded honey by the Bee Division of the Central-Experimental Farm. This year for the first time honey is graded with government standards into the classes White, Golden, Amber and Dark, and there are three grades in each of these classes. As the exhibit graphically portrays the objective in graded honey is a better product which will develop consumer demand for really fine quality in one of nature's wholesome sweets. The grading is expected, through satisfied customers buying with confidence in quality, to increase demand, stimulate orderly marketing, and to ensure greater returns for the producer. Both novel and interesting was the display of 240 pounds of honey, the product of one hive at the Central Experimental Farm so far this year, arranged as it was in pyramids of five-pound pails.

New Grading Rules
New amendments to the Root and Vegetable Act call for the grading of potatoes at all seasons of the year and place a ban on all apples and fruits from the market. These amendments were passed at the request of the Canadian Horticultural Council and numerous growers' associations throughout Canada. Co-operation of truckers, wholesalers and growers is asked in bringing the law into effect.

There will be the regular four grades of potatoes, Canada No. 1, No. 2, and No. 3, and Canada Fancy. Growers will be required to mark all packages containing potatoes for sale with their full name and address, the grade of potatoes and weight. In the Fruit Act the ungraded regulation has been abolished. It will no longer be legal to mark cover baskets of fruit "Ungraded." All baskets packed and offered for sale with covers must contain no culls with a tolerance of only three per cent. Fruit in bulk, in cartons, lots or motor truck loads, except in direct movement to factory or process plants, shall contain no culls with a tolerance of only three per cent. The new regulations have been passed to protect the buying public and protect markets for Canadian fruit and have been drawn up to cause no hardship to growers. Growers should be able to throw aside any culls as they are filling their baskets.

The Drainage Division, Department of Agricultural Engineering, O.A.C., is arranging to give a field demonstration of the use of the modern ditching machine in connection with the International Plowing Match to be held at Peterboro in October. They will also have an exhibit of drainage plans and equipment in one of the large exhibit tents.

Weekly Crop Report
Some fall wheat has been sown but more moisture is required to make conditions ideal in most districts. Fall plowing has made excellent progress throughout the province. Fruits are plentiful this year, with a large crop of grapes and a bumper harvest of apples. The bean crop is proving better than anticipated. The tobacco crop, an exceptionally heavy one, is practically all in. The root crop is very promising.

Farm Boys and Girls' Work
A total of 197,312 boys and girls in the rural districts of Ontario, come within the scope of organizations conducted under jurisdiction of the department, according to figures compiled by R. S. Dunsan, Director of Reformatives. A total of 581 school (airs account for 129,595 boys) and girls; Junior Farmers and Junior Industries embrace 25,000 boys and girls between 16 and 20; while 238 Boys' and Girls' Clubs take care of 49,717 boys and girls between 12 and 20. During the past year the following clubs have been in operation: 23 calf clubs, 30 potato clubs, 15 grain clubs, 13 fruit clubs, 100 home garden and canning clubs, and 32 sheep clubs. These clubs have done a very important work in directing the activities of boys and girls on the farm and in creating among them a new interest in farm work.

THOSE FOREIGN CAKES

By Betty Barclay
There is always a thrill in being able to introduce some favorite cake to your guests under a foreign name. Somehow it seems... well, it's "class" to say the least. Here are two recipes for real aristocratic cakes—in taste as well as name:
Genoise Cake
(4 eggs)
1 1/4 cups special cake flour, sifted
1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 cup butter
1 cup powdered sugar
1/2 teaspoon lemon extract
4 eggs, well beaten
Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, and sift together three times. Cream butter thoroughly, add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add flavoring. Add eggs alternately with flour, in small amount at a time, beating well after each addition. Turn into greased, paper-lined pan 8 x 8 x 2 inches. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 50 minutes.

Madras Cake
(2 eggs)
1 1/4 cups special cake flour, sifted
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup sugar
2 eggs, unbeaten
6 tablespoons milk
1/2 cup drops lemon extract
Sift flour, add baking powder, and sift together three times. Cream butter thoroughly, add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Add flour, alternately with milk, in small amount at a time, beating well after each addition until smooth. Add lemon extract. Turn into loaf pan, 3 x 4 x 8 inches lined with greased paper. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 1 hour, or until done.

Chocolate Ice Cream
2 junket tablets
2 tablespoons cold water
2 ounces chocolate
1/2 pint cream
1 1/4 cups sugar
1 quart milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
Put junket tablets in cup with cold water. Crush with spoon to dissolve. Melt chocolate over hot water and add 1/2 cup of the sugar. Add milk and cream a very little at a time, stirring until smooth after each addition. Add rest of sugar and warm to temperature of 70°F. Add junket and dissolved junket tablets. Turn at once into freezer can, let stand in a warm room until firm, about 10 minutes—then cool. Pack in ice and salt and freeze. Recipe makes 10 to 12 servings.

Orange Cherry Frozen Salad
(Serves 4-6)
1 tablespoon gelatine
2 tablespoons cold water
1 cup whipping cream
1/2 cup powdered sugar
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 cup mayonnaise
1 1/4 cups drained orange pieces
1/4 cup chopped cherries (maraschino or candied)
Lettuce leaves
Soak gelatine in cold water and dissolve over boiling water. Whip cream, add sugar, dissolved gelatine, lemon juice and mayonnaise. Mix well and fold in oranges and cherries. Pour in mold and pack in alternate layers of lettuce leaves for 4 hours. Or put in tray of iceless refrigerator and chill until firm. Serve garnished with crisp hearts of lettuce. If desired, add to this additional mayonnaise or whipped cream.

Lemon Cream Filling
(Sufficient for 1 three-layer cake)
1 egg
1 cup sugar
4 tablespoons cornstarch
1 cup cold water
1/2 cup lemon juice
1/2 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 tablespoon butter
Beat egg, add sugar and cornstarch. Mix well. Add water, lemon juice and rind. Cook in double boiler 15 minutes, stirring frequently. Add butter. Cool before spreading on cake.

WHEN GASTRIC JUICES FAIL TO FLOW

You know how badly an engine runs when it gets clogged up. It's the same with your body when your gastric or digestive juices fail to flow. Your food, instead of being assimilated by the system, simply collects and stagnates inside you, producing harmful acid poisons. What you need is a tonic—Nature's own tonic—Nature's six mineral salts. You get all these six salts in Krusen's Salts. Each one of these salts has an action of its own. Together, they stimulate and tune up the bodily functions from a number of different angles. The first effect of these salts is to promote the flow of the saliva and so awaken the appetite. The next action occurs in the stomach, where the digestive juices are encouraged to pour out and act upon the food. It is in the intestinal tract certain of these salts promote a further flow of these vital juices by means of their secreted and prepared it finally for absorption into the system. So you see there is no mystery about Krusen's Salts. It works on purely scientific and well-known principles. Prove it for yourself.

Getting Newshere
A gentleman pretty well perfumed picked up the following clubs:
Drunk—"Hello! Hello! Hello!"
Operator—"Hello."
Drunk—"Hello."
Operator—"Hello."
Drunk—"My gosh! How this thing echoes!"

A Scotchman had lost his wallet and had it returned to him by the police three days later. He was asked to examine the contents to see if his money was there.
"Yes, the money's there alright, but, moon, ye've it three days—what about the interest?"

First stude (over the phone)—"And what have you been doing?"
Second stude—"I just finished washing my B.V.D.'s."
Gertie (breaking in)—"I'm ringing them."

No not a gnat's eyelash nor a mosquito's whisker — PUBLIC MEMORY.

You may have been in business for fifty years and the people know about it. But don't forget—new customers are being born every minute and they grow up and have to be told.
