THE REASONS
This home where happiness securely dwells Was wrought by charm or magic No magic save what talking hands Can do.

She made it holy, not with length of years, Nor with her prayers alone, but with her tears.
Because she knew life's need, the grace thereof, She made it gay and happy with her love.
—Arthur Wallace Pesch.

LAUGH Learn to laugh. A good laugh is better than medicine.
Learn to attend strictly to your own business.
Learn to tell a story. A well-told story is as welcome as a sunbeam in a sick room.
Learn to avoid ill-considered remarks and everything likely to create friction.
Learn the art of saying kind and encouraging things.
Learn to keep your troubles to your self. The world is too busy to care for your little sorrows.
Learn to hide your aches and pains under a pleasant smile.
Learn to stop grumbling. If you cannot see a bright side in the world, keep the lid to yourself.

TWENTY THINGS TO REMEMBER

- Remember that work is only a means character is the end.
- That character is the foundation of all honest work.
- That you label your own work. That only cowards are afraid to venture.
- That no one can hold you down if you are determined to succeed.
- That every child is destined to do something worth while.
- That most people judge you by their impressions.
- That the only way to sell insurance is to see prospects.
- That few men succeed until they try.
- That hard work is no small part of genius.
- That it takes no longer to say kind words than those that cut.
- That the only way to keep your credit good is by paying your debts.
- That it is easier to do good work than poor, if you once learn how.
- That the more difficult things are to accomplish, the more worth while.
- That a sensible employer is more anxious to push you ahead than to hold you down.
- That you are one link in a great chain.
- That ambition develops, while selfishness starves body and mind.
- That rules are necessary to a business as laws are for right government.
- That you can't learn everything in one day.
- That times, progress and methods change.

To Chees Mery
"You must remember, my boy, that wealth does not bring happiness, said the fatherly pastor."
"I don't expect it to," answered the modern youth. "I merely want it so that I may be able to choose the kind of misery that is most agreeable to me."
Only a student (talking the form): "I suppose that's the third man?" Farmer: "No; that's the first vicar, in charge of cows."

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE Backed by thunderous support from government benches, Premier George S. Henry made a smashing counter-attack upon the critics of Hydro when speaking in the House last week in answer to the Opposition speakers in the Throne Speech debate. He declared it the soundest, most sincere, and aggressive address the Prime Minister has yet delivered. Through it came a clear, sincere defence of Hydro, which he declared he lived every day of his life, a statement that could not be made by Opposition critics who had attempted to besmirch the names of the commission through unfounded argument.

Henry challenged the Opposition to bring forward one fact that would prove anything in the nature of political interference with Hydro, while he had been head of the Government or during the days of Hoch, O. Howard, Ferguson, Farber, Mc-Callister, D. Paul Murray, Liberal, South Wellington, through E. C. Nixon, Progressive Leader, who sought to defeat the Hydro bill. He returned to his riding and run again.
Premier Henry even agreed to pay Murray's personal election expenses.
Defending the commission, Henry declared that the Opposition members to "get" Sir Adam Beck during the Hydro regime, and he went on to say that he had never seen Sir Adam.
Mr. Drury would have dismissed Sir Adam if he had dared. The same methods to "get" Sir Adam Beck during the Hydro regime, and he went on to say that he had never seen Sir Adam.

wants to be adopted by a widow who can keep him in the comfort of a passed out. The widower is a good cook and is out of any time in the kitchen. Following is the letter:

that is out of work. I don't drink and am a good Christian man. Go to luck. Can do the family cooking and willing to work at any time in the kitchen. I am 54 years old, I am a widower and I have no children."

"Those wishing to meet the widower may communicate with me," the mayor said.

PARTY PLANS SKI TRIP ACROSS BIG ICEFIELD With the intention of crossing the Rockies on skis, from Jasper to Banff, by way of the Columbia Icefield, four men are now in training in Jasper National Park, preparing for the start on March 10th. The party, the first group of tourists ever to undertake such an extended winter expedition in the Rockies, consists of Russell E.
Bennett and Henry S. Kingman, well-known mountaineers of Minneapolis, Minn., and Clifford White of Banff.
The guide will be J. A. Wells of Jasper, who is well known to summer visitors to Jasper Park Lodge, and who has done much to exploit the northern Rockies as a ski-ing country.
The skiers will follow the summer trail to Maligne Lake, they they will spend a day or two practising on the slopes of Bald Hill. Proceeding the 18 or 20 miles to the head of the lake the party will follow Coronet Creek to the foot of Mount Henry. Skilled climber to Popoktan Creek and "Whit-cliff" cabin, thence up a slope of Popoktan Pass, to drop down to the cabin at Emerald Lake. Maligne Pass will lead them to Otago Park, on the north fork of the Saskatchewan river. Near their camp, near the river, the skiers will climb Snow Dome, more than 11,000 feet, on skis.
From the crest of Henry McLeod Climax, the expedition expects to get a view of Mount Robson, and other peaks in the far distance.

"I Keep Prayed Up!"

TWO persons—so the story goes—attending a conference, had beds in the same room. One was a young man; the other was old.
They began their devotions simultaneously, but the older man was off his knees and into bed in a twinkling. The younger man's prayer was long. When he rose, he felt called on to chide the older man for the brevity of his prayer.
The old man's reply was both blunt and rebuking—"I keep prayed up, young man. I kept prayed up!"

There's a point in this story for those who employ advertising to sell their goods and service. It is, Keep continual contact, by the agency of published advertising, with those from whom you want business.

Many sellers lapse into long periods of silence. Then, when business is bad, they may burst into advertising, hoping that there will be immediate and earnest attention on the part of those addressed.

Buyers are attentive and responsive to those who maintain steady contact with them—via published advertising. To them they are friendly. When in the market for what the seller offers, to him they turn easily, expectantly, confidently and responsively.

The advertising which costs least—because of a minimum of buyer resistance and a maximum of goodwill and responsiveness—is that which is published continuously. Contrariwise, the advertising which costs most is that which bursts into sight suddenly and intermittently—like the fires of Vesuvius. It costs most because it doesn't get the required response, in the time limit set.

Silence signifies seller-indifference.

Buyers, in greatest numbers, go where they are invited to go.
