PERSONALS

A little more care and a little more thought.

A little more co-operation and safety.

A little less kicking, a little less frowning.

A little more kindness when a man is in a bad way.

A little more giving of kindness of life.

A little more charity, and end all this strife.

So for safety and co-operation and a little less.

Give the flowers in life - not wait till they die.

Something Tells Me

That the fat of the land is reducing.

That a watchmaker is the man of the hour.

That the only way to escape earthly cares is to get off the earth.

That Death is a grim reaper with-out a slump in the market.

That if people had to pay to listen to the flowers in life - not wait till they die.

That high ideals more often come from the lowly.

That a honest friend does not mean one with his chest up.

The banker wasn't impressed but said, "That is a good idea, why don't you make a farmer out of him?" "I had thought of that," replied the man from the farm. "But, you see, the boy's not very bright."

THREE WOMEN HUNG

their washing on the other day, and when they were finished, began to talk about house-cleaning

Said Mrs. A., "I don't know what I'm going to do about our attic. It's filled with a lot of things we don't use any more, and they're far too good to throw away." Her two companions agreed that they were faced with the same problem, but no one knew just what to do about it.

These three ladies are just an example of you and me, sometime or other, during the year. Here and there, about the place, maybe in the attic, maybe in the cellar, some article lies unused. To you, perhaps it represents very little as far as usefulness goes. In your household it has served its time and made way for something new. BUT, the same article may be just what Mrs. So-and-So is looking for. Perhaps Mr. So-and-So could use that old desk, and his wife has been looking all over for that style of flower basket.

Spring housecleaning time is fast approaching. Lets look over the contents of the attic, pick out something that Somebody Else might be glad to buy, and then put an Advertisement in the HERALD. A Small Advt costs but Fifty Cents for once, or 3 times for $1.00, and may help you dispose of those unused articles.
