Can you buy as much anywhere for the money?

Thrift is a most commendable trait. The practice of knowing what one gets for one's money—and getting it.

Can you think of anything that gives you more value for your money than this?

Notice that friends of yours, or friends of your friends are, visiting; have visitors; are ill; have been bereaved; have rebuilt or remodelled their home; bought a new home; are officers in a society; have been blessed with a new baby; that they have had an accident, or been married. In fact, the intimate activities of the community family life are reflected in the pages of your local newspaper 52 weeks in every year.

Besides, you read of your council's—town, township or county—activities; of the progress or retrogression of your district, and literally hundreds of other items.

The business people send you each week messages of savings, latest styles, patterns, and weaves in wearables, and tasty, economical food stuffs. You can stay indoors for weeks and still be better informed of vital community affairs than many who are continually about and trust to hearsay for news, through your local paper.

Do you honestly believe that you get a bigger or better one dollar and fifty cents worth anywhere? If you agree with us that you do not, will you try to make our task of keeping our subscription list paid up, easier, by watching the label on your Herald and paying yours when it falls due? Thank you. Just to be sure—turn to the first page now and

IF I KNEW

If I knew the box where the smiles are kept, I would open it, I would try to get it, I would open it, I would try to get it, I would open it, I would try to get it.

THE VISION

By Evelyn Holt

ACH, Meester Mackin, you feel it too. You get no life. You make it like you are a machine in this so bog country. You do not feel your music. You just play it. You have not the best vision you are capable of.

THROUGH THE CANADIAN ROCKIES

By J. M. M.

In our narrative last issue we arrived at Banff. Banff is administrative headquarters of Banff National Park. The town lies embosomed in pine forests and lawns, in a pocket of a wide circle of grey-green mountains.

VESTIGIO

I took a day to search for God. And found Him not. But as I trod By rocky ledge, through woods un-tamed, I saw His footprint in the sod.

VESTIGIO

Then suddenly all unaware, Far off in the deep shadows, where A solitary hermit thrush— Bang through the holy twilight hush— I heard His voice upon the air.

VESTIGIO

And even as I marvelled how God gives us heaven here and new, In a stir of wind, that hardly stirs The poplar leaves beside the brook— His hand was light upon my brow.

VESTIGIO

At last with evening as I turned Homeward and thought what I had done, I caught the gleam of His eye— Where the last fire of sunset burned.

VESTIGIO

Back to the world with quietening stars, I looked and longed for any part, In making saving beauty be, And from that kindling ecstasy I knew God dwelt within my heart.

ESTABLISHED BY TELEGRAPH A MARVEL OF SCIENCE

The 1932 Olympic games and the galaxy of new Champions crowned at Los Angeles are proof that records are made to be broken. Since the opening of the Olympic at Los Angeles, every day has seen records broken and the names of new speed champions heralded to the world by officers of the Canadian National Telegraphs at Montreal are still reading the sport pages with a smile as the speed records held by their country will probably not be approached for a long time. They can appreciate the performance of Tolani running 100 meters in 10.3 seconds, and of the Argentinian Zabela who ran the marathon in 2:31:36, but they remember that a telegram from their country will probably not be approached for a long time.
