Georgetown Band at Toronto Exhibition

WILL PLAY ON MAIN BAND STAND THURSDAY FORENOON

Lorne Rifles (Scottish) Band, Georgetown, will take part in the band competition at the Toronto Exhibition to-morrow, Thursday, Sept. 1st. They are entered again in Class "C" and will play their selections from the main band on the exhibition grounds sometime between 9.30 and 12 in the forenoon.

They are all proud of this splendid musical organization which has made such marked progress this past year, under the able leadership of Mr. A. H. Perrot, and we all believe that they will come out on top again this year.

The presence of our citizens at the Exhibition to-morrow would be appreciated by the Band and might encourage them to hold the cup which they won last year.

Let's all go, and may the boys have the honor of winning Class "C" for Georgetown.

Lorne Rifles (Scottish) Band Gave Splendid Concert

There was a large gathering at the Park on Sunday evening when the Lorne Rifles (Scottish) Band gave another of their popular sacred band concerts, prior to playing at the Exhibition. It was a delightful concert and drew forth many complimentary remarks.

During the program the test piece which will be played at the Exhibition to-morrow was rendered. Mr. W. F. Bradley was the capable chairman of the evening and announced the following program: God Save the King. Hymn—"Nearer My God to Thee." March—"Glenlivet." Overture—"Golden Gate." Waltz—"Bowers of Beauty." March—"Invercauld." March—"The Maple Leaf." Selection—"Spring Blossoms." Waltz—"Evening Belle." Hymn—"Abide with Me." Regimental March—"The Campbells are Coming." Finale—"The Maple Leaf Forever."

There was a splendid attendance at the band concert on Sunday evening, given by the Lorne Rifles (Scottish) Band of Georgetown, under Bandmaster Perrot. The band comprised about thirty musicians and is a well-balanced organization. Their programme was varied and gave all members of the band an opportunity to show their ability. The test piece that will be played at the Canadian National Exhibition was rendered with good effect. The band is much improved over last year and will undoubtedly win a premier place again at this year's Exhibition.

Celebrates Hundredth Birthday in Georgetown This Week

MRS. A. YOUNG RECALLS DAYS OF REBELLION

This week Mrs. Agnes Young of Ballinacree, near Georgetown, will celebrate her 100th birthday, having been born in Chinguacousy township in 1832, one year after her father emigrated from Argyshire, Scotland, and moved out into the west where in those days known as "The Island."

Retaining a wonderfully preserved memory, Mrs. Young still carries distinct recollections of the Mackenzie Rebellion in 1837, although she was but a girl of 5 years of age at the time. She remembers how Government troops searched all farmhouses whose owners were suspected of being sympathetic to the rebel cause. It was only snowbound roads that prevented their activities being extended to "The Island," it being known that her father was under suspicion. Learning that they were liable to reach their little log cabin, she tells how her mother, taking no chances, hid the family under the flooring.

She also recalls how her father parted with a treasured watch which he had brought from Scotland in trade for a cow, which became the nucleus of the farm stock. Other recollections are that in her early days these of the early stage coaches, the old street buses in which Toronto citizens sat back to back in their first school days alongside their children.

"Don't eat too many things at one time, if you want to live to be a hundred," was the motto of her mother, a tenacious woman, although her eyesight and hearing are somewhat impaired, she enjoys good health "I enjoy every day, and am not the least tired of living," she declared. Mrs. Young is an ardent Liberal and staunch Presbyterian, and makes her home with her two daughters, Janet and Barbara, and her son, James. She has three other daughters, Mrs. David Wilson, Mrs. George Wilson, Mrs. Kechnie, Ballinacree, and Maud, in Toronto.

During the week the Herald received another letter from Dr. McAllister who is holidaying in the West. We are publishing same as we think it will prove interesting to many of our readers.

Strong, Alberta, Aug. 25, 1932 Editor, The Herald, Georgetown

Since my last letter to you we are visiting with my sister and other relatives here, on C.P.R. Yesterday we moved into a new country, the south-east of Edmonton. We saw a great deal of wheat, ripe, a considerable part of which is here here about 100 miles, south-east of Edmonton. We saw a great deal of wheat, ripe, a considerable part of which is here here about 100 miles, south-east of Edmonton.

There are five elevators here and one flour mill. At the Alberta pool elevator we saw what is here termed a "tank" of wheat of 1931 crop being unloaded. The wagon load with deep box was dumped, after weighing, into the hopper of the elevator. This dumping was done automatically by electricity. The rear end of wagon was lowered and after the wheat had been weighed, the rear end of wagon was raised and the wheat was dumped into the hopper of the elevator. A push reaper with an elevator attached was used to cut the wheat. The wheat, cut short, into a large "barge" drawn by four stout horses. When the barge was packed and tramped full the reaper which cut a 12-foot swath and was pushed by six strong horses, stopped and the barge was opened by the attendant, at year and the load of cut wheat was dumped at a convenient place. This made a somewhat square shaped heap, about 7 feet wide, 4 feet long, and 4 feet high, and when threshed would yield from 25 to 30 bushels of grain. This miniature stock had then to be loaded with the loader ends of straw which clung to it. We drove right out into field over stubble two to two and one half feet long. By this method no time was used and stooking was eliminated. Three men were needed to operate the combined reaper, elevator, barge outfit. To-day we purpose going to a small lake near Hardisty, east of Strome where bathing can be enjoyed in spring water.

Yours truly, A. McAllister.

Injuries Prove Fatal to Young Man Who Fell Under Moving Train

SLIPS BENEATH WHEELS WHEN JUMPING FROM FREIGHT CAR

Fred Humphreys, aged 23, Brampton had both legs crushed and mangled when, jumping from a moving C.N.R. freight train at the station at Acton on Sunday, he rolled beneath its wheels. Humphreys, with R. Bailey, 20; Lewis Law, 19; Alfred Paillier, 20; and R. Burwell, 23, all of Brampton, boarded the freight without the knowledge of its crew, at Brampton, intending to ride as far as Georgetown. The train, which was going to Georgetown too fast for the boys to jump. At Acton the youth's companions had already cleared the train, which was travelling slowly. Humphreys' jump, slipped beneath the wheels, and was carried for some distance along the right of way. Bidwell and Law ran to his assistance, accompanied by the C.N.R. operator, Dr. McInven and Nelson were called, and, after rendering first aid, had the injured lad taken to St. Joseph's Hospital, Quebec, where he died on Tuesday.

On instructions from C. N. R. officials, the remaining four boys were removed to Milton Jail by Provincial Constable G. S. Cookman, being later released in their own recognizance.

Humphreys was born in England, but is, as far as is known, without relatives in this country. He was a member of the Peel and Dufferin Regiment.
