NEIGHBORING

I remember when a child that mother used to say: "Mind the house a little while. won't be long away I'm going 'cross the street for an hour or two; Mrs. Smith is very ill and I'll what I can do." None of us had money then, trouble came about. Neighbors up and down the street ha to help each other out.

I have watched her many a time stirr ing custard or a cake For the dainty bit of food which som invalid could take. And when sickness came to neighbors rallied 'round; For the burdens we must bear many a helping hand we found. But our fortunes rose and rose and we ceased to play the friend, And we cessed to look for help having money we could spend.

When whatever people wish possess the coin to buy There is very little left for the bors to supply. When for hospital attention there money in the purse, Kindly women on the street other needn't nurse.

In the same unselfish way that our mothers used to do. we've had our fling at wealth. now we're back to living plain, Back to all that friendship means.

The One Thing You Can Afford

.THE great national pastime this weather is squeezing the expenditure column so that it will remain in proportion to the revenue. The first step in this, of _course, is making a decision as to what items are absolutely necessary to the well-being of our minds and bodies and consigning the balance to the limbo of "things we will have when times improve."

YOU cannot do without your local newspaper for several reasons, the first of which is that as an intelligent citizen of the community it is necessary that you keep informed about what is taking place in that community: Whether your interests are being cared for in the governing of municipal affairs; what is transpiring at the schools, the churches; if grants are being made from public funds, or cut off, and why; what your community proposes doing about relief measures; where foodstuffs, meat, wearing apparel, wood, coal may be bought to best advantage; where you may sell or trade some used article, or buy such an article to advantage. All the intimate personal news! the deaths, births, and marriages, and the thousand and one other occurrences that go to make up the life of a community.

THAT is the function of the weekly newspaper. Its news columns each week carry the story of the activities of the community and in addition the effective news of the world at large. Its advertising columns bring into your home the best offerings of the stores and shops with prices and description. The classified advertising column is a meeting place for buyers and sellers in every conceivable line.

"THE HERALD" costs you but three cents a week. If you will read it thoroughly, intelligently, you will receive many, many times over a return in value. And The Herald is a good paper for the family to read. There are many things children may learn from its columns, but nothing they should shun. Its columns are clean, carefully edited and contains all the NEWS.

IF your are not already a subscriber to The Herald, take it on trial for six months. Do it to-day-NOWwhile you think of it.
